Polk Oratorical Contest Date Set

High School Students Will Compete Next Tuesday at Monmouth

MONMOUTH—The Polk county American Legion oratorical contest will be held in the Oregon College of Education auditorium in Campbell hall Tuesday, March 19, at 2:30 p. m. Independence high school and Dallas high school have already held their individual contests during the past week to select their representatives.

These contests are a part of the third annual American Legion oratorical contest, the winner of which will receive the Eddie Cantor $4000, four-year college scholarship. The second prize is $1000 and the third prize is $500. Dr. V. V. Caldwell, professor of psychology on the Oregon College of Education faculty, is the chairman of the Polk county contest and of the district contest. Members of Monmouth post, No. 56, American Legion, are assisting in arranging the details for the contest. Winners in the county contest here will represent Polk county in a district contest which will be held in Salem March 25. The winners of the district contest will compete with three others for the state title, the winner of which will then participate in a Pacific coast contest at San Francisco. This contest is a part of the Americanization program of the American Legion and the subjects of the orations and the extemporaneous talks are on the bill of rights of the constitution of the United States and constitutional powers. Each contestant gives a 10-minute prepared oration and a four-minute extemporaneous talk on a selected topic. The contest is open to the public.
