Report of Plane Disaster Mistake Is Latest Belief

State police decided after a search yesterday of the area near Brunk's corner in Polk county in which an airplane was reported down Friday night that Henry Windhurst, farm employe who said he saw the plane crash, was mistaken.
A thorough combing of the timbered area into which Windhurst said the plane fell revealed no trace of a crash, state police said.
Windhurst, an employe on the A. W. Vernon farm a half mile west of the Oak Knoll golf course, said he saw the tail of the plane disappear in the woods and then heard a terrific crash.
It was believed he may have seen an army plane, which flew into the Salem airport about the time he reported the crash, and at the same time heard a tree fall in the woods. Police reported a number of large trees were down.

Damage by Storm General in Valley

Guy Building at Dallas Is De-Roofed; Also one Silverton Home

The high wind which raked the valley Wednesday ripped a sheet metal roof from the Guy building in Dallas, probably the worst damage reported in the Salem area.
The 100 by 60 feet, was torn away and dropped into the street. An emergency crew placed a temporary roof to protect the Knights of Pythias hall on the second floor. Dallas also reported 12 trees blown over.
Damage to composition roofs was widespread. A number of householders reported shingles flying.
At Silverton the roof the Jerry Decker home was tossed in the street, but was replaced with the aid of neighbors.
Fears Killed Cattle
R. R. Case, rancher who lives near Mill City, reported to the county court yesterday that large numbers of trees were blown down along the Elkhorn road and that he feared many cattle were killed by falling trees and limbs. He succeeded in getting his own cattle into the barn.

Turkey to Assist Allies Is Report

around this, however, was explained by Deputy Patrick Stainoff of the foreign affairs committee of the Bulgarian chamber of deputies, who told the Sofia newspaper Sloro that Turkey would let herself be forced to prevent British warships from crossing the strategic Dardanelle straits.
As a Black sea nation, Bulgaria is vitally interested in this possibility.
Turkey might satisfy formalities, other persons indicated, by voicing a protest against passage of the allied warships and having this protest "duly filed in the archives of the League of Nations."
Le Moment stated flatly that Turkey would give the green light to the allied warships "so that these ships can control the traffic of war supplies from Russian ports to Germany."
If the Black sea blockade becomes reality, diplomats here predicted, Russia's non-German trade will be scrupulously respected.

A. Ray Baker Dies; Here Many Years

Word has been received of the death from a heart attack in Portland Saturday of A. Ray Baker of Portland, formerly of Salem. Baker was 62 years of age Friday.
Baker was located in Salem as manager of the Hammond Lumber company's retail store. In 1908 he was transferred to the Columbia river division of the company at Astoria. He was with the company for 32 years. At the time of his death he was field representative of the Columbia River Basin Loggers association, with offices in Portland.
Baker was a graduate of the Willamette university school of law. While in Salem he served on the city council.
Survivors are the widow, Rose Baker; daughter, Mrs. Leone Smith; two grandchildren, all of Portland; sisters, Mrs. George Nichols and Mrs. Charles Rhodes, both of Portland, and Mrs. Gerald Gower of Newberg; brothers, Col. Alvin C. Baker and Frank Baker, both of Portland, and Andrew Baker of Salem.

Cooke Stationery Firm Moves Today

Remodeled, Modernized Site Taken; Successor to old Company Here

Today is moving day for James L. "Jim" Cooke and the staff of Cooke's Stationery store. Monday morning this stationery and office supply store will open its doors in a new home at 370 State street, one-half block east of the former location.
No expense has been spared by Mr. Cooke to make the new store outstanding in every respect, he declared. The interior was entirely remodeled and the "front" finished in structural glass and the work.
The new location will more than double the floor space available for displaying merchandise and has been so designed to get a maximum of natural lighting with a minimum of stock crowding.
Outstanding among the new fixtures installed are the lighted greeting card display cases. These are illuminated by the newest type fluorescent tubes and arranged to display a maximum number of cards to their best advantage. These cases also make possible a far greater stock of cards than ever before.
All built-in interior fixtures and wall cases are of steel especially designed to present a maximum of display space with a minimum of weight.
Mr. Cooke came to Salem from Portland five years ago and took over the Patton Bros. Book store which had been located at 340 State street for well over half a century.
Present arrangements call for a formal opening on Saturday, April 6, but full details await completion of moving operations.

five series for the playoff championship. Pennant winner of the regular season will receive $560, and the Shaughnessy playoff winner $480.
Umpires retained from the 1939 season include Andy Moran, Josh Clark and Bert Cole. Named by President F. H. Knickerbocker for tryouts were Dick Weisgerber, Salem; T. C. Turple, Portland; Ray Chesterfield, Yakima; and Bernard Davenport, Arlington.
A possible schedule change may bring Tacoma into Salem on May 19 instead of Salem at Tacoma as the schedule now reads. Reason for the proposed change is that Tacoma may run a special excursion of 150 fans into Salem.
Present at the meeting were: President F. H. Knickerbocker and Secretary Ben Lombard of Seattle; William Ulrich, Spokane owner; Roger Peck, Tacoma owner; S. S. Anderson, Tacoma business manager; W. H. McCullough, Yakima secretary-manager; Carl Sedore, Wenatchee representative; George E. Waters, Salem owner, and Biddy Bishop, Salem business manager.

self as a candidate for the second congressional district's national convention delegate.
Dorothy McCullough Lee, Multnomah county state senator, said she would seek reelection. She is a republican.
Alton John Bassett, Portland democrat and assistant chief clerk of the state house of representatives in 1936, announced his candidacy for Multnomah county state senator.
Dr. Gordon V. Pefley filed as a democratic state representative candidate for the fifth district.
J. King Bryon, managing director of the Oregon Retail Furniture dealers, announced his candidacy for republican representative for Multnomah county.
Miss Daisy Bevans, Milwaukie, former democratic state representative, said she would run for the seventh district post again.
A. Hugh Adams, CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union member, declared he would seek the Multnomah county democratic state representative's position.
Lyman E. Ross, Washington county state senator, said he was a candidate for democratic nomination as state treasurer.

tion of pension-friendly candidates for legislature and other offices.
F. J. Austin of Corvallis was among those present at the meeting and indicated that he would present the stamp tax feature of the federation's plan as a pension revenue producer in the legislature instead of having it made an initiative measure.
The necessity of having pension measures on the ballot was minimized by the committees, which noted California as an example of a state which has turned down initiative efforts to establish state pension systems yet has the "most liberal old age pension setup in the United States."

Salem Vies With Seattle, Showing At Rose Festival

PORTLAND, March 30.—Salem will compete with Seattle for the distinction of having the largest delegation in the Portland Rose Festival parade, June 7, according to information now in the hands of Jack Watson, chairman of outside participation.
Salem's announcement that their natty Cherrians will again head a contingent including another of "Frosty" Olson's famous floats, the Cherrians themselves, and two big bands, puts the total number of persons the capital city will have in the procession close to the number that Seattle police drill team and the University post, American Legion will enter from the Washington metropolis.
Principal attraction at the stadium night shows during this year's festival, June 5 to 8, will be the White Horse patrol of A. B. Bekr shrine, Sioux City, Iowa.

support for the presidential candidacy of James A. Farley.
Curley asserted that Farley, more than any other individual, enjoyed the confidence of democrats.
The round of political speech-making this weekend included a declaration by Senator Lucas (D, Ill.) that Thomas E. Dewey has become "the number one rabble-rouser of the nation."
Speaking before a Philadelphia young democrats' meeting, Lucas recalled Dewey's recent charge that the administration had demonstrated a fundamental lack of integrity and a cynical disregard for principles of common honesty. The senator added:
"These utterances constitute the most brazen piece of effrontery and campaign buffoonery that ever fell from the lips of a man who is being considered seriously as a candidate for president."
"This peddler of political poison indirectly challenges the honesty and integrity of the president of the United States."
"You see the sorry spectacle of Tom Dewey, the glamour boy from New York city, becoming the number one rabble-rouser of the nation."
Dewey Fighting for Votes in Wisconsin
Dewey, meanwhile, was campaigning in Wisconsin for that state's presidential preference primary next Tuesday. He arranged nine train stops in a busy day of speechmaking. Dewey is opposed in the republican primary by Senator Vandenberg (R, Mich.).
Another contender for the republican nomination, Senator Taft (Ohio), told a Newport News, Va., audience that "it is perfectly obvious that the president does not desire to reduce expenses."
Taft argued that as leader of the democratic party, Mr. Roosevelt has control of congress. "If

Route of Blossom Day Entirely new

Skyline Orchards, Brunks Corner Are Included in Cherrian Map

An entirely new route in Marion county will be followed in the Cherrian annual Blossom day tour next Sunday. It was announced last night. The committee toured the roads of both Marion and Polk routes Saturday and said they would be in good condition Sunday, if no heavy rains intervene.
In Marion county, blossom-seekers will go south on the Pacific highway, onto the Liberty road, turn west at the Liberty store, go across the first road past Prospect school. The return will be made through Rosedale and back to Salem on the Pacific highway.
The Polk county route will go across the inter-county bridge, through West Salem to Brunks Corners, where it will turn right, and return via the Orchard Heights road to West Salem.
Boy Scouts and Cherrians will be at vital traffic points and direct and assist cars, and the roads will be posted for easy travel.
So that the many out-of-town visitors may inspect it, the state capitol building will be open Sunday, April 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with Cherrians acting as guides.
Blossom week will include the entire week from April 7 to 13 and will end with a Blossom dance sponsored by the Cherrians at the Salem armory, Saturday night.

Carson Gratified At Endorsements

Experience as Counsel to Governor Is Cited by House Candidate

While a majority of the candidates for Marion county offices have backed out of various group endorsements offered them in the early stages of their primary campaigns, Allen G. Carson, Salem attorney who is seeking the republican nomination for state representative, announced his gratitude for the endorsements he had received.
In his voters' pamphlet statement, filed at the statehouse, he said:
"Though I have already been accorded the endorsement of several groups of citizens—for which I am very grateful—I will be, if elected, wholly fair and impartial, as they and others who know me will expect."
The statement also pointed out that in 1927 and 1929 Carson served as legislative legal counsel to the governor, that he is in his fifth year as one of the governors of the Oregon state bar and that he served as president of the bar in 1937-38.
"It has always been my belief that service to his country is the highest office of a citizen, and I therefore now humbly offer my services to the people of my native county and state," the statement added. "I should like to do something constructive. I believe I can."

FORD makes it

..no car near its price can match it!

- FOR PERFORMANCE: Only eight-cylinder engine near its price! A big, powerful engine that does its job smoothly and quietly. So well built you don't need to "break it in."
- FOR COMFORT: A buoyant, restful ride. Four double-acting, hydraulic shock absorbers—soft springs—123-inch springbase—added room—deep, wide seats—controlled ventilation.
- FOR ECONOMY: The Ford V-8 averaged 24.92 miles per gallon in the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run—better than any other standard-equipped car in its price class.
- FOR STYLE: The beauty of the Ford comes from the Lincoln-Zephyr, world's style leader. Flowing lines, sparkling colors, luxurious interiors, more equipment included in the price.
- FOR SAFETY: Biggest hydraulic brakes in its field! Strong X-type frame—lowest center of gravity—full torque-tube drive! Stabilized chassis—powerful Sealed-Beam Headlamps—oversize battery.
- FOR DOWNRIGHT DOLLAR VALUE: Extra cylinders in the engine, extra quality all through the car. Ford has built more cars than anybody else and has the world's best equipped plant for building them!
