Jury to View Scene of Shot

Four Women, Eight Men on Panel Picked to Try Jefferson Farmer

Selection of a jury of four women and eight men occupied the opening afternoon of the trial of William F. Weddle on a charge of assault while armed with a dangerous weapon in circuit court yesterday before Judge L. H. McMahan.

The talesmen chosen included Effie K. Foley, William H. Gardner, Fern T. Smith, Ernest G. Wisener, Myrtle C. Collins, Boyd K. Graybill, Martha M. Propp, Joseph H. Baker, Jacob H. Dunlop, Vern Compton, John H. Burris and James E. Kirk.

Charge on which Weddle, a farmer in the Jefferson region, is on trial arose last January 19 when he is alleged to have shot Albert F. Costelow, a neighbor, through both legs during a dispute over property rights. The quarrel was believed to have been long-standing.

The jury will visit the scene of the shooting near Jefferson this morning, accompanied by attorneys and court officers. The hearing is expected to reopen in the courtroom at 1:30 p. m.

Gimpelson also announced that he had received word from Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Bagnall, Portland recruiting officer, that two young men now stationed at Fort Stevens with the Panama coast artillery detachment at that post have been promoted. Robert T. Staleup, 760 North Cottage street, has been rated a corporal, and Gordon G. Harrold, 1320 Ferry street, a private, first class. Harrold was enlisted by Gimpelson last fall.

Murphy Warns on Collection Agents

Claude H. Murphy, state real estate commissioner, issued a warning to Oregon merchants yesterday against giving accounts to unlicensed out-of-state agencies for collection.

These agencies have been making promises, Murphy said, to purchase accounts for as high as 70 cents on the dollar. Then they make collections with threatening of the debtors with prosecution.

The agencies then disappear without ever having purchased the account, and without having turned over any of the money to the merchants.

Murphy pointed out that his department has no jurisdiction over the out-of-state agencies, and can prosecute them only if their representatives are caught in this state.

VFW Installs New Executive

Frank Millet Selected to Head Post; Department Commander Inducts

Frank Millet was installed Monday night as commander of Marion post 661, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other officers inducted are Henry Sims, senior vice-commander; D. V. Parkes, junior vice-commander; W. C. Cavender, quartermaster; Aubrey Tusing, post advocate; C. V. Richardson, chaplain; Dr. Verden E. Hockett, post surgeon; Virgil Bolton, adjutant; Fred M. Lamb, officer of the day; Russell Mudd, patriotic instructor; Bryan Conley, post historian; W. C. Cavender, secretary; Francis T. Wade, legislative officer; Archie Bair, guard; John Coleman, sentinel; Carl McCormick and Frank Prince, color bearers; C. C. Chaignot, bugler; Phil Ringle, publicity officer; and Herbert E. Wood, sergeant major.

Department of Oregon Commander John H. Schum was the installing officer and was assisted by Jack Mantor, aide-de-camp to Commander Schum, and Bryan Conley, past department commander. Other assisting officers were Charles Durio, commander district No. 4; George Penson, general chairman of Corvallis post 640, 1940 convention commission; Harold Pederson, commander post 640; Richard J. Collins, commander Oregon post 2210; C. E. Kendle, commander post 2105, Selo; G. G. Lawrence, commander Oregon Veteran post 3437 of Silver Creek Falls; Frank Wray, commander of Silverton post 3004, and Harold Bryan, past commander post 640.

State Commander Schum obligated Charles E. Winslow and J. L. Meek of Mt. Angel and C. C. Chaignot and Axel Jacobson of Salem. This class of new members brought the membership of Marion post up to its quota of 200 members.

Commander-Elect Frank Millet announced a few of his committee appointments which are as follows: relief committee chairman, Arwin Strayer; refreshment chairman, Ward Wolf; hospital chairman, C. V. Richardson; sea scout committee, George Malstrom, Lester Jones, O. S. Olson and Bert Tomkins; entertainment committee, Phil Ringle, Russell Mudd and Joe Stirmann.

The building committee reported the building progressing nicely and that many favorable comments have been overheard from the general public with regard to the substantial construction and attractive appearance of the structure.

Department Commander Schum made a very inspiring talk which emphasized the need for veterans' organizations and true Americans taking increasing interest in the affairs of our government if we are to escape the difficulties that the European countries are now experiencing.

Installation was concluded by a social gathering with the auxiliary; refreshments and dancing were enjoyed.

Commander-Elect Millet is a Spanish-American war veteran and served five years with the United States marines. He is one of the few veterans in Oregon who saw service in the Boxer rebellion in China. In addition to his Philippine and China service, Millet participated in the difficulties in Panama where he received the Porto Rican occupation medal.

Methodists Open First Conference

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., April 23 (AP)—Two thousand Methodist leaders from all over the world begin tomorrow morning the first general conference of the newly united Methodist church.

Included among them were 776 official delegates, chosen to represent 124 regional conferences in the United States, Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. Fifty-two of the church's 58 living bishops have been here a week and were busy today preparing their quadrennial "message" to the church.

Introduced first, Scott Wilson, youth leader of the Presbyterian church, spoke briefly on the fallacies ordinarily attributed to church-goers, and suggested stimulation of leadership through participation in youth religious groups, and increased appreciation of spiritual values as the chief contribution of the city's churches to young people.

Vern Scott, member of Boy Scout troop 12, described the scout program as practiced by local scouting organizations, and emphasized the scout training for emergency situations as of prime importance.

The YMCA, according to Jim Smith, offers chiefly association and comradeship to boys of similar age with similar interests in hobbies and athletics. Its camping program he described as of particular value to growing youths.

David Scott, brother of Vern, offered praise to church, scout and YMCA organizations alike, and Jim Purdy described friendship as the outstanding characteristic of Salem noticeable to a newcomer.

Dr. Charles A. Howard, president of the Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, will speak to the club at its meeting next week, when members of the visiting Tacoma baseball team and members of the Salem Ad club will also be present.

WU Fraternity to Observe 20th Year

Members of the Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity of Willamette university are rapidly completing plans for the observance of the group's 20th anniversary to be held here Saturday and Sunday. Alumni from all portions of the northwest are expected to attend the two-day program. Activities are under the supervision of Winston Bunnell, Portland senior, who is the present house president.

Highlights of the observance program are a formal dinner and dance Saturday evening and a bag breakfast Sunday morning at the Spa, where 20 years ago to the day, the local fraternity was organized.

Charter members listed are Raymond A. Schmale, Oakland, Calif.; Phillip Partholomew, Springfield; William Collins, Ponda; Hugh Doney, Chicago, and Dean Pollock, Portland.

Parrot's Sneeze Wakes Governor So Fire Put out

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., April 23—(AP)—Laura, the parrot, sneezed and awakened Governor Prentice Cooper just in time to discover a fire and save his farm home.

The Tennessee executive said his pet's ka-chooing awakened him early Sunday morning. He found her eyeing a wisp of smoke curling up through the floor. Axes were used to trace the smoke back to its source and the blaze was extinguished after minor damage.

Highlights of the observance program are a formal dinner and dance Saturday evening and a bag breakfast Sunday morning at the Spa, where 20 years ago to the day, the local fraternity was organized.

Charter members listed are Raymond A. Schmale, Oakland, Calif.; Phillip Partholomew, Springfield; William Collins, Ponda; Hugh Doney, Chicago, and Dean Pollock, Portland.
