

Lebanon Holds Quiet Election

Three Directors, Clerk Elected for City School Board

LEBANON—Very little interest was shown in the school meeting held June 17. Because of resignations three directors were to be chosen. Only one nomination was made for each place except for the clerkship, for which J. E. Kester, the incumbent, was again elected. C. H. Baleson, who served in that position for many years, was the other nominee. Edward Bohle, Hugh Olds and Dr. Harold Whelen were the directors chosen for terms of three years, two years and one year.

Two matters of property were voted on. One, the purchase of two lots adjoining the campus on Morton street, was carried. The other for the purchase of a block in the east end of town for the site of a new school house when such building should be necessary, was rejected.

LEBANON—Mrs. J. M. Donaca visited in Portland at the home of her son, Willard and his family.

Wednesday morning, Mrs. Perry-Glinter and Alice Glinter left for Nampa, Idaho, to visit Mrs. Glinter's sister, Mrs. Ida Miles and Mrs. M. R. Loomis and other relatives.

Flora Jean Brown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Brown, received her bachelors degree from Stanford this month.

Friends of Mrs. Erling Erickson were interested in seeing that she has been made president of the Countrywide Garden club of Multnomah, Capitol Hill and West Portland.

Adreen Nichols came from Bend, where she teaches, to spend much of her vacation with her parents.

Mrs. M. D. Davis bruised her left hand badly in the wringer of her electric washing machine. X-rays revealed no broken bones.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Arnold are at home from a visit in Harrison, Idaho, with their son, Lyle. He is pastor of the Baptist church there and at the same time is continuing his studies at the University of Idaho.

June 9 a son was born to Gladys Scott Murphy in Juneau, Alaska. Mrs. Murphy is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Higgins. This is their first grandchild.

Merilee Baldwin of Lacombe is in the local hospital for treatment of an injured hand.

Leonard Haynes of Crawfordville has enlisted in the army and has been assigned to the 9th field artillery, Fort Lewis.

Two children were born at the local hospital June 16th. A second child and second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hildebrand. A first baby, a girl, was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Marne of Albany.

John Glinter and wife and "baby" came from Plush, Ore., to spend the first part of his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Glinter. He will teach in Plush again next year.

Lawrence Morris of Lacombe is in the Lebanon hospital with a crushed hand. He is an employee of the Snow Peak Logging company.

Postmaster and Mrs. Merrill Smith attended the convention of Oregon postmasters held in Corvallis, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Early Pioneers' Descendants Have Annual Family Reunion at Turner

TURNER—The annual Robertson clan picnic was held Sunday on the tabernacle grounds, with 85 members in attendance.

E. W. and Jane Robertson left their Indiana home in 1868, where the older group of half brothers and sisters of a family of 19 children were born. They came to Oregon, establishing the new home in Marion county where at one time a number of the married children had homes of their own.

Two grandsons, A. E. and L. W. Robertson, three great-grandchildren, Oran and Albert Robertson and Mrs. Margaret Robertson Fowler; and her three small sons who are the great-great-grandchildren, all live in and near Turner. The living children are L. L. Robertson of Milwaukie, Mrs. Rena Barnes, Corvallis, Clarence Robertson, formerly of Salt Lake City.

This is one of the oldest clan gatherings in this part of the state.

The record book shows about 400 names. Eight births and one death were reported for the past year. The officers were re-elected: president, Mrs. Rena B. Barnes; secretary, Orval Robertson; treasurer, Wilma Appleman; historian, L. L. Robertson; assistant historian, Enead Robertson.
