Hospital Invites Former Patients

Homecoming at the Oregon state tuberculosis hospital near Salem this weekend, according to Dr. G. C. Bellinger, superintendent. All former patients are invited to attend the ninth annual event, which started yesterday for three days.

Persons who wish reexamination are asked to write in advance for appointments, because of the large number of ex-patients. Those coming from a distance may remain over night at the institution.

Oregon Highway Commission Plans Displays of Northwest Attractions For Midwest Cities' Travel Bureaus

Outstanding attractions of Oregon will be featured in displays arranged for in Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis and other midwestern travel centers this summer by Harold B. Say, director of the travel and information department of the Oregon state highway commission who is now in the midwest in the interests of Oregon's tourist travel.

The displays will be in the form of illuminated transparencies, enlarged photographs and kindred material placed in attractively dressed windows of motor clubs and other travel bureaus.

Say reports to his office here that these organizations are not only willing but happy to feature Oregon and that motor clubs and other bureaus which he has visited are unanimous in declaring that motorists are becoming more interested each year in Oregon; that motorists are making longer trips and that this increase of interest in Oregon has been marked during the past three years.

The Conoco Travel Bureau in Denver, one of the largest in the country reported that where one person in 8.2 in 1934 asked for routing to Oregon, one in seven requested it in 1935 and forecast that the number will climb this year.

J. E. Crouch, manager of the travel division of the Cleveland Automobile club, said 80 per cent of his routings were for western trips and he estimated 75 per cent of those would visit the Pa-

Oregon Lions Support Proposal for New Dormitory at State Blind School

The Oregon Lions club convention at Marshfield early this week agreed to assist in financing a booth at the state fair here to stress sight conservation, the Salem club was informed by its convention delegates.

A similar booth was operated at the fair last fall for the first time by the Salem Lions. Statewide support of a proposal to obtain new, fireproof dormitory for the state school for the blind here was also pledged.

High praise was given at the convention to Oregon Lions and in particular to Harry W. Scott of Salem, who served during the past year as one of the three district governors. O. D. "Prosty" Olson reported. Scott's district showed a 20 1/2 per cent gain in membership.

The delegates said the 1941 convention would be held at Baker and the 1942 meeting at either Seaside or Klamath Falls.

Other reports were made yesterday by Mrs. Harry W. Scott, state president of the Lions auxiliary; A. C. Burk, Jack Putnam, Virgil T. Golden, and President Glenn Gregg. Tracy Porter, program chairman, presided over the meeting.
