Baptist Church Sets Conclave

1000 Members Expected July 22 to August 3 at Cascadia

ALBANY—July 22 has been announced as the opening date for the annual summer convention of Baptists. The convention will be held as usual at Cascadia and will continue through August 3.

Dr. Walter A. Pegg of Huntington Park, Calif., will be camp pastor, and Rev. Dean Rodney M. Britten, pastor of the First Baptist church of Astoria, is to be leader of preliminary arrangements. Rev. Frank E. Eden, evangelistic director for the Pacific coast states, will be the speaker at the night meetings.

It is estimated that approximately 1000 members of Baptist churches will be in attendance this year. The number is estimated on the number of members in each church.

An added interest in the meetings this year by the Baptist people is that this will be the last year they will occupy the present grounds for the summer convention.

The grounds which have been under lease are part of 200 acres which George Geisendorfer has recently sold to the state for a state park. It consists of the Cascadia springs resort, located a few miles above Sweet Home on the South Santiam highway, and has been owned and operated by Geisendorfer for the past 50 years.

In the "horse and buggy" days many valley people, and also a number from other parts of the state, camped at the springs for a week or two, in order that they might drink the mineral water from the springs. With the coming of the automobile and the addition of good roads, the springs gained in popularity although fewer persons remained for more than a day or two. A number of years ago a large hotel was erected for the accommodation of guests.

Silverton Women Escorted Home By State Police

SILVERTON—That Miss Althea Meyer, bookkeeper at the Silverton water office, and Mrs. M. J. Madsen, mother of the city librarian, Lillie L. Madsen, had state police escort them to the Madsen home Saturday night leaked out about the city hall Monday afternoon.

It seemed as the two started for home shortly after 9 p.m. a siren sounded behind them. Thinking it was an ambulance, they pulled far to their side and continued on their way expecting the car to pass. It failed to do so. After a distance of several rods, the siren sounded again. Miss Meyer, who was driving, said she thought it was someone playing a trick on them, and continued on her way. When they drove in the Madsen driveway they were surprised to find a state police car right behind their own.

Perhaps, they thought, a dangerous criminal was out and they were receiving protection.

But, they promptly were told the only thing that was out was the tail light on their car.

Mt. Angel Centennial Ball Declared Success

MT. ANGEL—T. B. Endres, flax festival committee chairman, paid tribute to the Salem Whiskerinos at the Business Men's luncheon at the Mt. Angel hotel Monday noon when he told of the splendid cooperation given the centennial ball, held at Mt. Angel last Thursday, by the Salem people.

Sixty couples from Salem, he said, attended the dance. After motoring through downtown Mt. Angel, serenading the city with a blare of horns to announce their arrival, the bewhiskered ambassadors of good will and their quaintly costumed ladies marched into the auditorium and opened the evening's festivities with the singing of "God Bless America." They then swung into an old-fashioned waltz, and the dance, one of the biggest and most successful ever held here, was in full swing. A seven-piece band from Portland furnished the music.

Endres asked Mt. Angel and especially the Flaxarians to give as good cooperation to the Whiskerino dance in Salem next Friday night, June 28. This dance, to be held in the armory, will open the centennial season.

To Drill Fourth

Walter Smith reported that the drill team was doing satisfactorily and that the group would take part in the Fourth of July celebration which St. Agatha's parish is sponsoring at the Oaks.

Father Alcuin announced to the club that he had received a wire from Senator Charles McNary promising that he would do his utmost to keep us out of war and congress in session during the emergency.

James Fournier, Red Cross chairman, reported that a committee had been selected to make a house to house canvass in the section assigned Mt. Angel to solicit the $100 which the community is to donate to the fund. This is the second quota given Mt. Angel since May.

Taken to Hospital

Otto Oswald reported that Fred Schwab, sr., had been taken to St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, for observation and the Fr. Albert Bauman returned to Mt. Angel in good health after months at the Salem sanitorium.

Dr. E. J. Corcoran was appointed a delegate to attend the meeting of the America Incorporate gathering in Portland on June 29.

Treats at the luncheon were given by James Fournier and Dr. E. J. Corcoran. Paul Schwab and T. B. Endres will be ticket sellers for the next meeting, July 8. Semi-annual election of officers will be held at this meeting.
