

Jews Deported To Bessarabia

"Disloyalty" Is Charged by Pro-Nazi Leaders, Rumanian Regime

BUCHAREST, July 7.—(Sunday)—(AP)—"Minor incidents" which have been ended were disclosed officially today to have occurred in connection with the transfer of Jews and other minority groups to Russian-occupied Bessarabia.

The announcement by the interior ministry followed the accusation of Premier Ion Gurgutu, head of Rumania's new pro-Nazi government, that Jews had been disloyal in the country's "last hour of trial."

"The cessation of Bessarabia and, in particular, the transfer across the Prut river into Bessarabia of the Jewish minority and certain communistic elements was effected with some minor incidents," the ministry's communique said.

"These were, however, liquidated through energetic measures and the tact of our officials."

It says Jews disloyal.

Of alleged Jewish disloyalty, Gurgutu declared: "We will never forget..."

While he spoke of a "minority," it was said in his behalf that his denunciation was of the Jewish people.

Rumania's Jews number more than half a million.

Last night, squads of police patrolled the streets of Bucharest and frontier forces in the north and south of Rumania were being further strengthened.

There was no fresh indication of the reich's attitude toward Rumania, following the formation of its new, avowedly pro-German government, but it was expressed belief that the entire Balkan situation may be clarified after Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy confers in Berlin today with Fuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Discussion was reported going on between Berlin and Moscow about another tremendous transplanting of peoples—the return of 100,000 German Rumanians from soviet occupied territory to the reich.

Oil Men Depart

Thirty expelled British oil men, two of them of American concern, left Constantinople by freighter for Egypt.

Many other Britons were departing voluntarily.

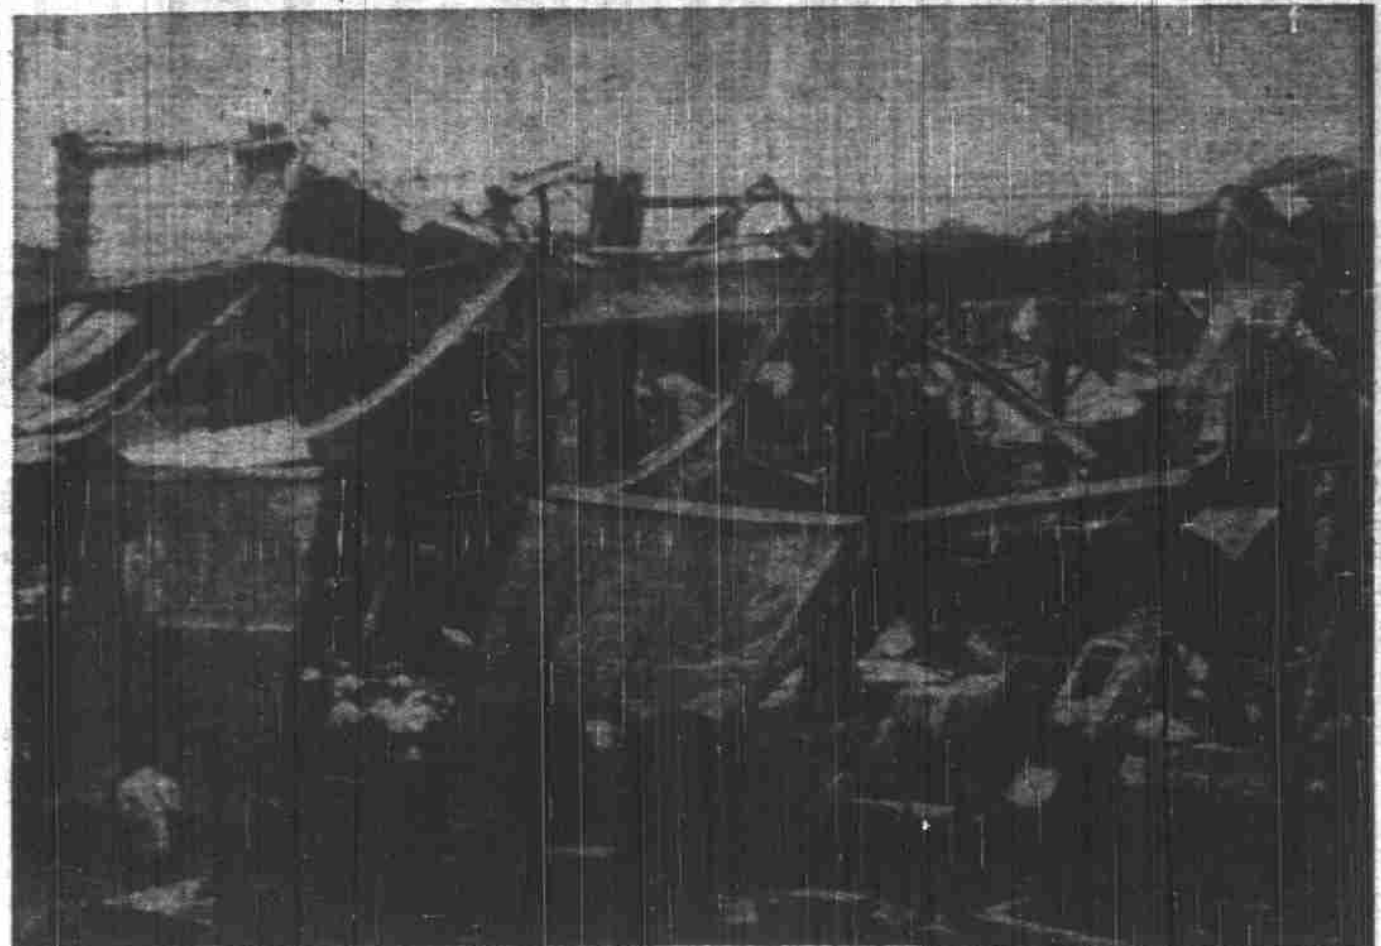

Iron Guard Leader Horia Sima, minister of culture in the new government, forbade Jewish actors and musicians to perform in public and prohibited the playing of Jewish songs and music.

It was announced also that Max Ausnit, Rumanian steel and munitions millionaire, must serve a six-year prison sentence and pay a fine of 250,000,000 lei.

(The monetary value of the lei is about 9.13 cents.)

(Ausnit, a Jew who recently embraced Christianity, and one of Rumania's leading industrialists, was put in custody last November in an investigation of allegedly illegal foreign exchange operations and was displaced as director of Restita, Rumania's munitions trust.)

Saboteurs Peril Parker Dam Plant; $100,000 Loss

A US reclamation bureau warehouse at Los Angeles is shown in charred ruins after fire, started by saboteurs, swept through the structure with a $100,000 loss. Evidence that time bombs were planted in the building was unearthed by G-men. Firefighters who sped to the scene of the fire found that fire hoses had been jammed with iron bolts. Boulder dam power line equipment was destroyed and the new Parker dam power plant was endangered by the flames.—AP photo.

Seizure of Naval Bases Advocated

BENTON, Ark., July 6.—(AP)—Col. Alvin M. Owsley of Muncie, Ind., former US minister to Ireland and a past national commander of the American Legion, declared tonight that the United States "should immediately occupy all strategic naval and air bases in this hemisphere."

"If this means war, let the enemy make the most of it," he told a crowd attending Benton's Americanism celebration.

Ed Smith Asserts He's for Willkie

SC Senator Avers Other Demos of Like Mind; "Party Left Him"

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—Senator E. D. Smith, veteran South Carolina democrat, predicted today that "millions of real democrats" would be attracted to Wendell Willkie.

"I'm a real democrat and I'm tired of my party being led by this so-called new deal," Smith told reporters.

The South Carolina senator, a militant opponent of a third term for President Roosevelt, credited the republican party with an "astute move in picking a former democrat" for its presidential entry.

"Willkie stole my slogan," he added. "Like me, he didn't leave the democratic party, the party left him."

Another senate veteran, Senator George W. Norris (Ind-Neb), loyal supporter of President Roosevelt, said he was certain that the chief executive did not want a third term, "but I can't see how he can avoid it."

Norris said in an interview that he had told Mr. Roosevelt it was his "duty to run again" but added that "I have no knowledge as to the president's intentions."

Explaining his view that the president could not refuse renomination, Senator Norris said "Roosevelt is the only man the democrats could nominate who could win."

The veteran Nebraska independent said the majority of democratic delegates already pledged for a third term made it mandatory on President Roosevelt to run again "regardless of his personal desires."

"He is patriotic to the nation and to his party," Norris said. "A general can't quit in the middle of a battle and the president always has been a party man."

Find Bound Body; Slaying Indicated

PORT ANGELES, July 6.—(AP)—Fishermen in icy Lake Crescent today discovered the floating body of a young woman, apparently slain six months or a year ago.

The body was wrapped in a dark blue blanket and a light one, with ropes pulled tightly around the throat, waist and ankles. Other ropes were wrapped vertically around the entire body. From the condition of the wrappings, Prosecutor Ralph Smythe surmised that the woman might have been killed before she was thrown into the lake from an automobile, possibly on the Olympic loop highway which winds over high cliffs directly above the lake.

Medical Examiner I. E. Kaveny estimated that the victim was about 35 years old. He said she had been about five feet, 10 inches tall and had weighed about 130-140 pounds. Her hair was brown, and she wore a partial dental plate in her upper jaw.

vast territories which they exploit for their own use."

"Given proper education," he said, "these peoples are perfectly capable of self-government."

He suggested that during the interim of education Japan would assume the responsibility of protecting the territories and administering their affairs as the United States did in the case of the Philippines.

Shiratori ridiculed the suggestion that Germany or Italy might take possession of British or French colonies in the far east, and said he had "personal knowledge" this was not part of the Nazi program.

"When the war ends Germany will establish hegemony in Europe," he said. "She will have all she needs there and in the near east without stretching her hands out to the far east."

Questioned about the disposition of Hongkong, Singapore, Penang and other fortified outposts in the East under the new order in east Asia, Shiratori said "obviously the British and other fortifications will have to be altered."

Willkie Going on Vacation in West

DENVER, July 6.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, republican nominee for president, will be on a vacation trip in the Colorado Rockies when his democratic rival is nominated in Chicago.

The republican banner carrier, accompanied by Mrs. Willkie and their son Philip, will arrive in Colorado Tuesday by plane for a two-week visit. Gov. Ralph L. Carr announced today.

Compulsory Drill Will Be Proposed

War Department However Wants Legislation on Subject Changed

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—The war department has decided to urge compulsory military training, it was authoritatively reported today, but will recommend changes in legislation now pending in congress.

The army high command is to give its opinions to a senate committee next Tuesday and at that time, authoritative sources said, will approve in principle the Burke-Wadsworth bill providing for registration and selective training of all men from 18 to 65.

One change, it is understood, will be a suggestion that those in training receive $21 a month—the initial pay of volunteer professional soldiers—rather than a nominal stipend of $5 a month or so.

Word of the high command's attitude on this major armament issue shared attention among defense developments with reports that the navy was organizing a sea-going version of Germany's hard-hitting "Panzer" divisions.

Equip With Tanks

Congressional sources said the nucleus of this division would be three merchant ships, for which the navy is negotiating with the maritime commission to be used as marine troop ships.

The plan is, informed legislators said, to keep these ships fully equipped with tanks, artillery and other armament at all times—"like a fire engine," one congressman put it—so that they could sail just as soon as the marine corps is informed aboard.

The time usually consumed in assembling and loading heavy equipment necessary for an expeditionary force thus would be saved.

"Time will be essential, if we are called upon to move," one house member said, "because you can put down in 48 hours a revolution that might take a month or more to quell if 60 hours elapse before you get on the job."

The ships for the proposed marine corps will be stationed in the Caribbean, probably at Guantanamo, Cuba, where they would be within easy striking distance of Latin America, it was explained.

In addition to the three merchant vessels, the navy plans to convert several destroyers into fast transports.

Third of Refugee Groups in Quebec

QUEBEC, July 6.—(AP)—The third British group to arrive here this week—including youthful relatives of Sir John Simon and Anthony Eden—reached Quebec today en route to new temporary homes far from the menace of Nazi bombers.

Fourteen-year-old John Eden and his three sisters, Ann, 19, Rose, 13, and Amelia, 7—nephew of the British war secretary—told reporters they and their three young cousins will attend a school to be established at Vernon, B.C. by their mother.

Angela Manning, 14, Margaret Bickford, 18, and Carol Bickford, 15, all grandchildren of the British chancellor of the exchequer, said their grandfather "came down to see us off" at the start of their trip to Canada.

Angela will stay with relatives at Lancaster, Pa., while the other two girls will visit relatives in Toronto.

Young Eden said he was "not very sorry to leave England, because this is quite an adventure, you know."

With his youngsters unaccompanied, a stewardess said the trip was "the most dreadful" in her experience.

Campaign Setup Still Indefinite

NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—The republican presidential campaign set-up was still in the formative stage tonight and there were some indications that the present three-man board of strategy to direct Wendell L. Willkie's vote drive might not materialize.

A special sub-committee of the republican national committee with which Willkie has held two sessions adjourned to meet again in Washington Tuesday morning, without having reached a definite conclusion on campaign organization.

"No final decisions have been made," Willkie said, "regardless of speculations, and there will be none until I have had an opportunity to discuss the entire matter with Senator McNary."

Willkie plans to leave New York Monday by plane for Washington to confer with Senator McNary, his running-mate.

Waves of Nazi Raiders Fought

300,000 Men Aged 30 Are Called by Britain to Augment Defense

LONDON, July 7.—(Sunday)—(AP)—German planes flew in relays over a northeastern area of England early today after an undetermined number of civilians had been killed in two German air raids late yesterday.

Several of the latest wave of raiders were spotted by searchlights, and anti-aircraft fire drove them back seaward.

Meanwhile, British warplanes hammered a double blow at Italian and French seapower in far-ranging attacks.

At home, she enrolled another 300,000 men in her constantly expanding armed manpower, poised now for invasion.

"Successful action" by naval and royal air force planes against Italian warships in Tobruk, Libya, was announced by the admiralty.

It said other units of the fleet air arm also had raided an air-drome at Catania, Sicily, leaving hangars and workshops in flaming ruins.

Dunkergue Blasted

Naval night-up planes made sure that the damaged French battleship Dunkergue was out of the war for good.

They revisited Oran, Algiers, where the British attack on the French coast had already crippled the Dunkergue and forced her aground, and scored six bomb hits on the 26,500-ton dreadnought.

"It was considered essential," the admiralty explained, "that the ship should be in no condition to be abandoned, a communique disclosed. But its report that two British craft failed to return indicated that some resistance may have been encountered."

The foundation of British hopes for successful resistance against Nazi invasion, now regarded as inevitable and imminent, is in the vast army she is training.

Dipping into her reservoir of men in their 30's, Britain called her 1909 class—30-year-olds—and before the end of the month three more groups will have registered, the 1908 class next Saturday, the 1907 class a week later and the 1906 class two weeks later.

Potentially, this is an army of 4,000,000 men which Britain expects will be stronger than the Maginot line which failed France.

"You can't buy safety with bombs and shells," Prime Minister Churchill put it today. "You can buy it only with men."

Blow and counter-blow in the air continued as the apparent Britain-raiser to the battle of Britain while British warships, now dubbed "Panzers" for their German allies, kept vigilant guard to prevent them from falling into German or Italian hands.

Bombing planes struck today at Gibraltar, attacking Britain's Mediterranean "rock" for the second time, and made day and night raids over Britain.

British Fliers Score

The air ministry, however, disclosed that British fliers also had scored, attacking the German naval bases of Kiel and Wilhelmshaven, the ports of Cuxhaven and Hamburg, the railway junction city of Cologne and two air-dromes in German-held Holland.

There were several casualties when a Nazi bomb fell on a south Devon town, but authorities refused to confirm whether this was Plymouth, which a German communique reported raided.

Some Britons say Hitler is bound to strike quickly—probably in a week or two. They reason that at the rate Britain is fortifying he must know his chances for success dwindle with each passing day.

But some others hold that Germany may wait. They contend that Nazism already has gained its principal objectives of continental domination and isolation of Britain from European affairs, and has some fences to build in the south and southeast before harassing men, machines and munitions on a new expedition.

Convict DeGaulle In French Courts

LONDON, July 7.—(Sunday)—(AP)—Reuters (British news agency) reported today from Vichy that a French military court had sentenced "former General Charles de Gaulle" in his absence to four years in prison.

(Maj.-Gen. Charles de Gaulle is head of the "French national committee" formed in London to continue resistance to Germany, and has been recognized by the British government as leader of "all free Frenchmen." He was read out of the French army by Premier Petain's government after he had called on Frenchmen to disregard the armistice with Germany and carry on the war.)

Mrs. Davis Dies; Long in Oregon

ALBANY—Mrs. Charles Davis, 63, a resident of Oregon since 1930, died at her home in Shedd Wednesday following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held Friday from the Methodist church in Halsey under the direction of the Fisher Funeral directors. Burial was in the Shedd cemetery.

Mrs. Davis was born in Austin, Minn., but came to Oregon when she was but three years of age. For a time her family lived at Sandy, then moved to Halsey. She had also lived in Albany and Camas, Wash., before going to Shedd where she had made her home for many years. Surviving is her widower, three brothers, Henry Halsey of Shedd, John Halsey of Lacombe, and Carl Halsey of San Francisco, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. Belle Windorf of Portland, and Mrs. Laura Thompson of Shedd.

New Youth Group To Be Organized

Tunney, Sponsor, "Seated" in Absentism; Alien Bills Attacked

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., July 6.—(AP)—"Pro-American" delegates to the American youth congress, denied seats for "technical reasons," headed home tonight after announcing plans for a new youth organization in Michigan as a step toward a national "anti-communist" group.

Their sponsor, former heavy-weight boxing champion Gene Tunney, left for New York with a parting shot:

"The American youth congress doesn't really represent youth. It's a lot of labels and one of its biggest labels is the young communists."

Tunney had declined an invitation from the congress to speak before it and today, in his absence, the delegates satirically "received" him. A committee of six girls "escorted" the absent Tunney to the platform and with all formality "seated" him—in a vacant chair.

Chairman Jack McMichael of Quitman, Ga., "presented" him to speak.

Tunney Criticized

Vice Chairman James Carey of New York said that "Tunney is creating hatred and I challenge him to debate whether hatred is part of American institutions."

The delegates adopted a new constitution, heard the treasurer's report which showed a deficit of $781, and promptly took a collection from groups and individuals which netted $919 in cash and pledges.

On his arrival in New York by plane, Tunney said the youth congress was "completely discredited, particularly on their vote to refuse to help Britain in its fight against Nazism, and also on their stand against compulsory military training."

Tunney said he refused an invitation to address the congress because the "pro-American" bloc was unable to seat its delegates. He added: "They have heeded better men than me, including the president."

The AYC adopted tonight the report of its civil liberties committee condemning as "furthering war hysteria the discrimination now developing against all national minorities under the guise of fighting the fifth column."

The report declared opposition to "anti-alien" bills and to any legislation which would require the registration and fingerprinting of aliens.

"We condemn the nationwide attack on religious minorities, intensified and fostered by such organizations as the Christian Front, the Silver Shirts and the Ku Klux Klan," the report also asserted.

Motor Parts May Be Requisitioned

LONDON, July 6.—(AP)—British motorists must dismantle their automobiles and hand over parts of the motor to authorities if ordered to do so, a ministry of transport said today.

The order also empowers regional commissioners to forbid the use of any kind of vehicle on roads in districts where an invasion occurs.

Vehicles may be put out of action with the double object of rendering them useless to the enemy, and to prevent the start of a huge refugee trek such as hindered allied armies in France and Belgium.

Bloodhounds Fail In DuPont Quest

BATON ROUGE, La., July 7.—(AP)—Sheriff Newman de Breton's bloodhounds were called on last night to pick up the trail of three men suspected of dropping sticks of dynamite near the DuPont Ethyl plant here. Instead of baying loudly off on the trail in the approved fashion, one was busy having puppies and the other picked up a scent, detoured briefly, then made a bee line for a hamburger stand.
