

Hatch Bill Voted In House 243-122

Bill Curbs Activity in Politics by Certain State Employees

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The Hatch bill to curb political activity by certain state employees and limit campaign contributions and expenditures was passed by the house Wednesday, 243 to 122, after a long struggle which resurrected the measure from a committee pigeon-hole.

The measure, endorsed by President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie, the republican presidential nominee, will impose these restrictions, among others, upon the forthcoming campaigns after enactment:

1. State and local employees whose salaries come wholly or in part from federal appropriations (highway department workers, agricultural agents and many others) will be subject to the same prohibitions which the original Hatch act imposes upon full-fledged federal employees.
2. Individual political contributions will be limited to $5,000, and firms which receive any remuneration from federal contracts may not contribute at all.
3. The political parties may spend no more than $3,000,000 on their campaigns. (In 1938 the republicans reported an outlay of $5,000,000 and the democrats $5,000,000).

The Smile? She Won Prize

The winner's smile is registered by Mrs. F. Opland, of 2346 Claude street, as Manager Fred Barrell, of the Fred Meyer company, presents her with a Philco radio as first prize in the Fred Meyer snapshot contest.

and south as far as the Yaquina; thence across the mountains to a valley on head of Siletz river, to ascertain its adaptation for a settlement of Indians and the establishment of a temporary military post. (That was Kings valley, and the "temporary military post" was Fort Hoskins, where Capt. Augur was to spend much time in the few years that followed. But the exact spot for Fort Hoskins was, this columnist believes, selected by 2nd Lieut. F. H. Sheridan, who had arrived at Fort Yamhill on April 25, that year, going by way of Dayton. There were destined to be many "human interest" relationships between Sheridan and members of the General Palmer family in the years that followed.)

What disposition was made of those 729 Indians, including the 103 infants, in the three and a half weeks between their arrival at Dayton and their departure for the Coast reservation? If you drive from Salem to McMinnville, through Dayton, you will note on your left, just after having left Dayton, the most conspicuous house in that section; gleaming white, Southern or colonial style. That house is owned and occupied by Mildred Engstrom, the eldest of three granddaughters of General Palmer, the next two owning and living in the next two houses—Elizabeth Morgan and Gertrude Palmer; all on the ancestral Palmer acres.

Well, the Indians were encamped in the then open prairie space between the location of the first (Engstrom) house and the Yamhill river. Arrow heads and other relics are yet found on the site of that encampment. That was Indian headquarters for all Oregon then, with General Palmer superintendent of Indian affairs.

The reader probably knows that the Yamhill river was navigable as far as Dayton, and that Dayton was a very important shipping point.

Mrs. Engstrom and her two sisters have hundreds of historical relics of various kinds, connected with the operations and correspondence of their grandfather, General Palmer, in his public duties.
