Little Stories about GREAT HYMNS

"HE LEADETH ME"
Rev. Joseph H. Gillmore

"He leadeth me, O blessed tho'!
—O words with heavenly comfort fraught!
Whate'er I do, where'er I be,
Still 'tis God's hand that leadeth me."

Chorus:
"He leadeth me, He leadeth me!
By His own hand He leadeth me!
His faithful fol'wer I would be,
For by His hand He leadeth me."

"The Rev. Joseph H. Gillmore, son of Governor Joseph A. Gillmore, of New Hampshire, was a native of Boston, Mass. In 1862, he was conducting a prayer-meeting in the First Baptist Church, Philadelphia, on the theme of Psalm 23 and after the service, in a home nearby, he continued the subject in conversation and right then received an inspiration to write this hymn."

Oldest Pioneers of Valley Are Sought By Bishop's Store; Will Win Stetsons

A search for the oldest living pioneers in the Willamette valley will be started Monday, according to C. P. Bishop, president of Bishop's store, who Saturday okehed final plans for a valley-wide contest sponsored by his store.

"We have been in business here since 1890," stated Mr. Bishop, "and we are very interested in finding the oldest resident born in the west, the oldest resident who came across the plains, and the oldest living customer of our establishment."

An advertising Director Ellis Cooley of Bishop's has arranged the purchase of special Stetson ten-gallon hats to be presented to the winners of this eight-day contest as well as to present the winners in person riding on the Bishop float on the night of the Centennial pioneer parade.

A large group of selected scouts will also act as ushers at the pageant at the fairgrounds each night. All scouts will be in uniform and a preliminary rehearsal will be held on how to handle the crowds. They will also participate in the opening and closing scenes of the Centennial pageant.

In the junior parade on Thursday, all scouts in Salem and surrounding towns will march. This will include scout troops, Sea Scout ships and Explorer scouts. The parade committee is giving prizes for the best uniformed scouts and for the best marching units. Besides having their scout flags, the scouts will act as color bearers and escorts to head up the parade.

A large number of Salem scouts under I. N. Bacon, chairman of troop nine committee and legionnaire representatives are doing their bit by selling stickers advertising the Centennial. Already they have sold over 1000 of the stickers.

Final Dividends of Bank Will Be Paid

Final dividends in the liquidation of the Montavilla Savings bank will be paid on July 26. A. A. Rogers, state superintendent of banks, announced Saturday.

This dividend will be the second paid on savings deposit claims and will be for 18.7 per cent. The first dividend was for 20 per cent. The dividend on commercial deposit claims will be for 10 per cent. No previous dividend was paid in this department.

These dividends represent the proceeds of liquidation in addition to 60 per cent of all deposits which was released at the time the bank was closed.

Thrown to Ceiling and Burned, Gas Explosion

MEDFORD, June 20—(AP)—Al Gilhouse, Jr., 10, son of Al Gilhouse, former United Airlines pilot, sustained serious injury Friday, when in a leap from a hay wagon in the Trade district, the tines of a pitchfork penetrated his chest.

Physicians said the crisis in the case would be reached Sunday.

Parade Moves In 3 Sections

Hayden in General Charge of Pioneer Parade of August 2

The pioneer parade on Friday afternoon, August 2, promises to be one of the most interesting highlights of Centennial week. Entries are now coming in fast with Miller Hayden in charge.

There will be all kinds of floats, horsemen, pioneers, old-time characters, soldiers, ox carts, Indians, covered wagons, hand-drawn cars, mules and stage coaches. The committee is also trying to get different organizations to represent pioneers and participate and march as a body.

Major Hayden has made the following outline so that the public and participants will have an idea of the time and line of march and sections in the parade:

The head of parade will move promptly from Center and Commercial streets at 5 p. m. Time of assembly for entries in the parade will be 4:30 p. m. near Marion square.

From Center and Commercial the parade will move south on Commercial to State, east on State to Liberty, north on Liberty to Center, east on Center to High, south on High to Court, east on Court to downtown area.

The parade will be organized into three sections as follows:

First section—Police escort, Grand Marshal B. F. Pound and staff, official party in automobiles.

The second section will be comprised of all mounted entries and animals and accompanying or escorting animal-drawn entries.

The third section will consist of all motor or motor-drawn entries.

Section commanders will be Captain A. E. Berger, first; Major M. B. Hayden and Karl Stein, second, and Lieutenant Harlan Judd and Waldo Mills, third.

The reviewing stand will be located at the front of the state capitol building.

Dollar Seats for Pageant 'Bargain'

Morley Says Wednesday Night Show Won't Be Rehearsal

Laurence Morley, pageant ticket sales manager, stated yesterday, "Our tickets are going fine but I want the public to know of the excellent $1 seats that are still left for the Wednesday night show. They are a real bargain. We still have 150 left for that performance. Salem folks who feel they cannot afford the more expensive places will have a real surprise. These are really fine seats with a very good view of both front and side and have very good acoustics."

Morley continued, "Also, I want to impress on the public that the Wednesday show is not a rehearsal but a real production exactly as good as the other nights. Many of our people are also asking about the charging of extra fees. Tell them there is no extra charge other than the price of regular tickets. Also there will be plenty of free parking space and special guards on hand to police the grounds." These are the same prices as charged at Eugene.

Utilities Serve 266,941 in Year

Oregon's 32 privately-owned electric utilities in 1939 served 266,941 customers, sold 1,351,738,284 kilowatt hours of electric energy and had total revenues from sales of $22,158,860, State Utilities Commissioner Ormond R. Bean reported here Saturday.

In addition to these electric companies there are nine gas, 80 steam railroads, 67 telegraph and telephone, 68 water, three steam heating and four long-haul companies under the jurisdiction of the utilities commissioner.

Summer Camps

By PERCY R. SMITH BOY SCOUT CAMP PIONEER, July 20—With its latest improvements, Camp Pioneer, is one of the best in the Pacific northwest and offers splendid opportunities for real scouting.

Robert Hayes, deputy regional executive, declared Thursday while on his annual inspection tour of camp. He told the Scouts that the dining hall and kitchen, dock, and improved sanitary facilities placed the camp unquestionably in the first rank. He also revealed that Pioneer was one of the four council-operated camps in the northwest that require a hike of any distance.

Wednesday night Hayes visited camp fires of Troop 23 of Albany, and Troop 11 of Salem, dividing his time between the two. He answered questions of Scouts that included a discussion of the state of scouting in Europe and also how scouting is conducted in Alaska. He said that many Polish scouts were in concentration camps because they persisted in maintaining allegiance to an organization that taught friendship to all.

Troops 9 and 21 were at Marion lake on an overnight.

VFW to Dedicate Building Saturday

McKay, White to Speak; Structure Finished in Oregon Wood

Members of Marion post 661, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will dedicate their recently completed headquarters building at Church and Hood streets during an open house program from 1 p. m. to midnight next Saturday.

State Senator Douglas McKay will be master of ceremonies and Major General George A. White, principal speaker for the dedication, observations arranged by Onas S. Olson, chairman of the building committee, for 8 p. m. Both McKay and General White are members of the post.

Construction of the bungalow style building was begun under the administration of Post Commander Phil H. Ringle. Commander Frank Millett will receive the keys in dedicatory exercises.

The meeting place is of full two-story construction and occupies a corner space of 60 feet. It was erected at a cost of $14,000 with much of the labor donated by post members and local labor unions.

The main floor, containing meeting rooms, lounge and rest rooms for the post and auxiliary, has solid pecan flooring. The walls are finished in natural Oregon woods.

EUGENE, July 20—(AP)—The Lane County Bar association endorsed William East, Eugene attorney, last night for bar governor of the first congressional district.

The district comprises all counties west of the Cascades, except Multnomah.

Seek Cooperation, Guard Employers

General White Will Ask Written Agreement to Job Return

Enlistment of all employers of national guardsmen of the 1st division in an agreement to list jobs open for men called to the colors is to be launched by Major General George A. White, division commander. It was announced at military headquarters here yesterday.

General White's plan is to list the name of each employer of a guardsman; ask his written agreement to return the soldier to his employment when demobilization occurs, and follow up the lists throughout the period of active service.

In cases where employers go out of business an employment committee in various guard stations will be asked to secure other positions. Veterans' organizations, mayors, other officials and civic organizations will be urged to cooperate.

"It is necessary to avoid the unfortunate condition that followed demobilization in 1918-19, when more than 900,000 returned soldiers were walking the streets looking for jobs," General White commented. "It will mean a great deal to the men in the ranks to know that they will return to their place in civil life just where they left off."

General White said experience in four previous mobilizations had convinced him that oral promises sometimes are valueless.

"The employer will be doing his part by signing a reemployment pledge, just as the soldier is doing his part by signing his name to the oath that binds him to active service as long as the government needs him," General White concluded.

Salem Lifesaver Sees Vessel Sink

A doorknob, "good but slightly burned," was the souvenir saved from the fire-ravaged Greek steamer Hellenic Skipper, which sank off the Oregon coast July 10, by Gene Isely, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Isely, Salem, route three, box 837.

Isely, who is stationed on the coast guard cutter Onondaga at Astoria, viewed the sinking of the freighter as the ship was towing it toward Astoria, and told about it in a letter to his parents. "In 90 seconds from the time she was reported going down, she was gone," Isely wrote.

The letter described also the appearance of the ship as it found it and of the dramatic moment when the Hellenic Skipper started to upend itself and was hurriedly cut loose from the cutter.
