

'JUMPING JACK' FOR AIR LANES—Leaping straight up in the air, for a jump of about 20 feet, this Pitcairn autogiro demonstrated great agility at Willow Grove, Pa., its whirling blades missing easily the beflagged wires marking a small takeoff area. Pilot Fred Soule inspects the giro which has possible military value for scouting and contact work.

WALKING WEATHER—Al E. Smith (above), the "Happy Warrior" and former Democratic presidential nominee who "took a walk" on Roosevelt's candidacy in 1936, is still walking. In New York, he pledged support to Willkie.

ASSOCIATED PRESS PICTURE NEWS

HE'S A HARVARD MAN—During that summer muscle build-up for fall's football games, anything can happen, including this: It's Joe Gardella, the Crimson's 1940 captain, toughening himself by hard labor on Harvard campus at Cambridge, Mass.

WANTED: POTS AND PANS—English households are being combed for aluminum articles, such as pots and pans, shoe irons, bathroom fittings, cigarette boxes, etc., which can be converted into plane parts. Here's a typical response.

APPLE A DAY—When he's not out after sculling titles, Joe Burk tends to his fruit farm at Bridgeboro, N. J. Right now he's busy picking apples. He's the single sculls world champion, recently won his fourth national title.

MEDALIST—For valor in France in 1918, Staff Sgt. Wm. T. Sheffield of Kelly field, Texas, recently received a belated decoration. His medals, left to right: The Purple Heart, Victory medal, Silver Star medal, Texas Service medal.

SHE'S GOOD, TOO—If there are any sour notes, "Robbie" is too polite to mention them, since the player is his chum, Betty Marbury of Baltimore. "Robbie" was befriended by the Marbury family after his escape from a cat.

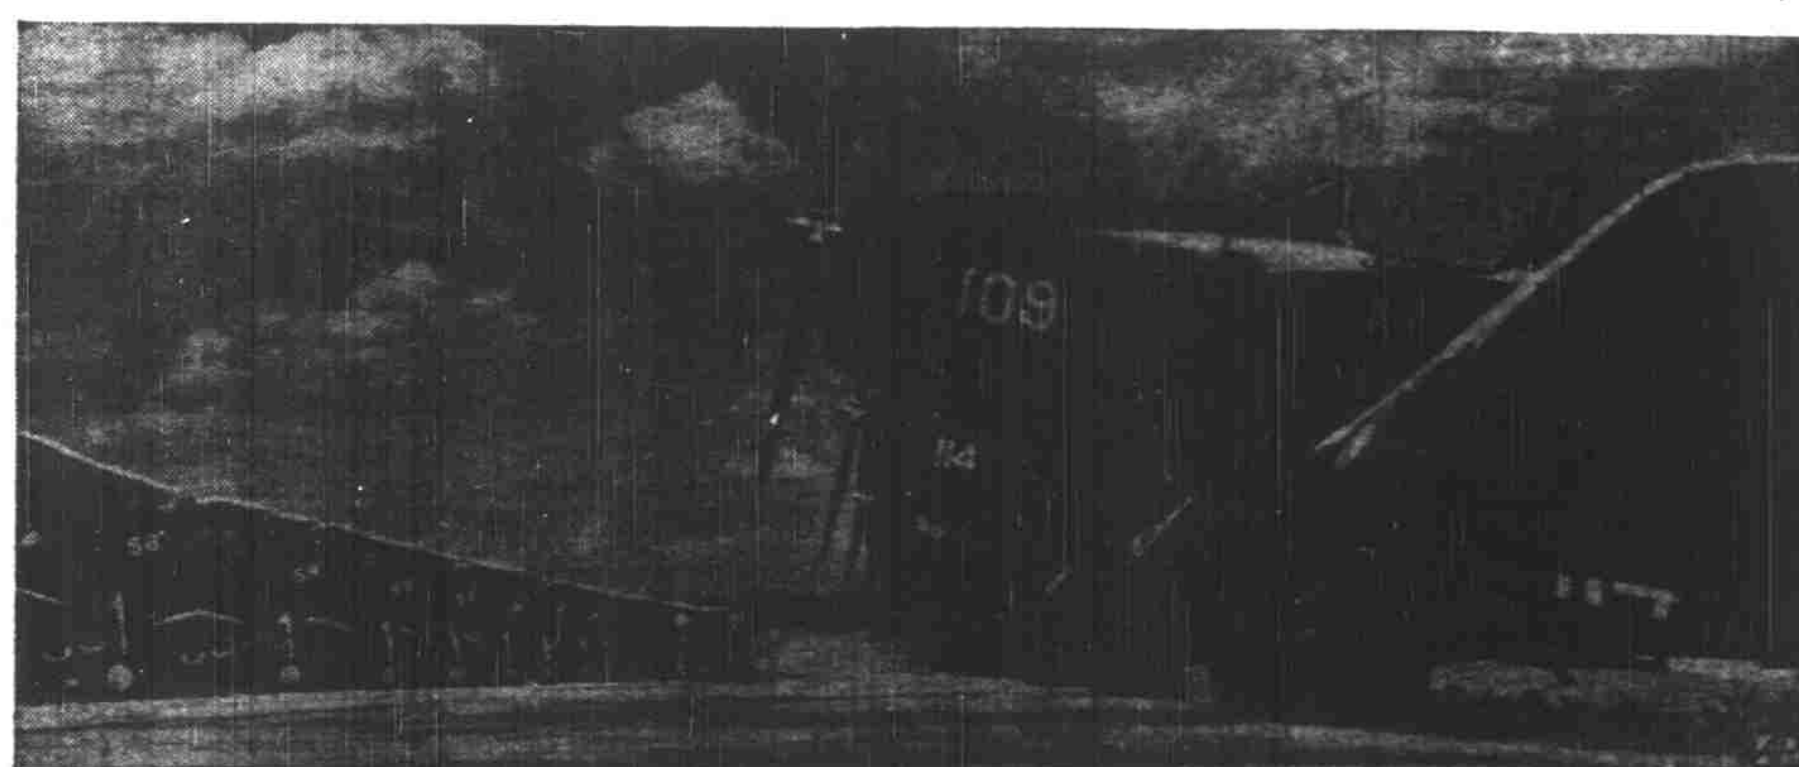

NAMED—Rep. Lindsay C. Warren (above), North Carolina Democrat named by F.D.R. as comptroller general for a 15-year term, is chairman of the House accounts committee, and served on the merchant marine and roads committees.

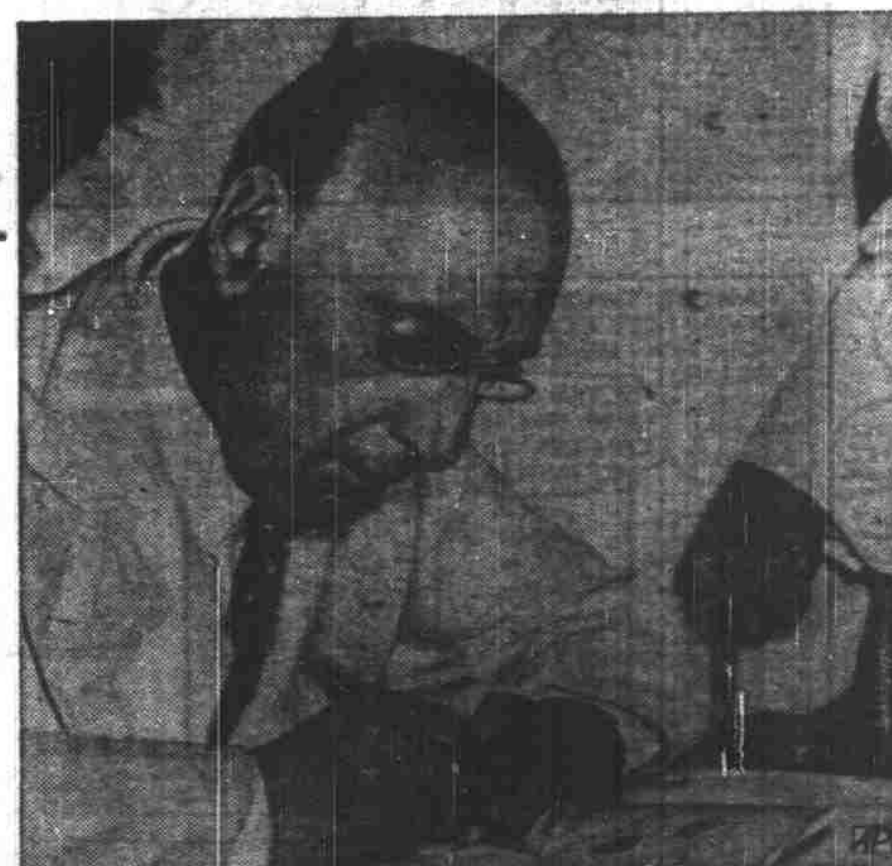

HEMISPHERE HISTORY

PLEDGE OF AMERICAS—Of historic interest to the 21 American republics concerned to signing by U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull (above), and other delegation, of the Havana declaration safeguarding the hemisphere from aggression.

MONOPLANES CROWD OUT OLD TRAINERS—Across the runway from biplane ships (left) used for first training courses are new low wing training planes for the army air corps. They're in use at Spartan aeronautics school in Tulsa.

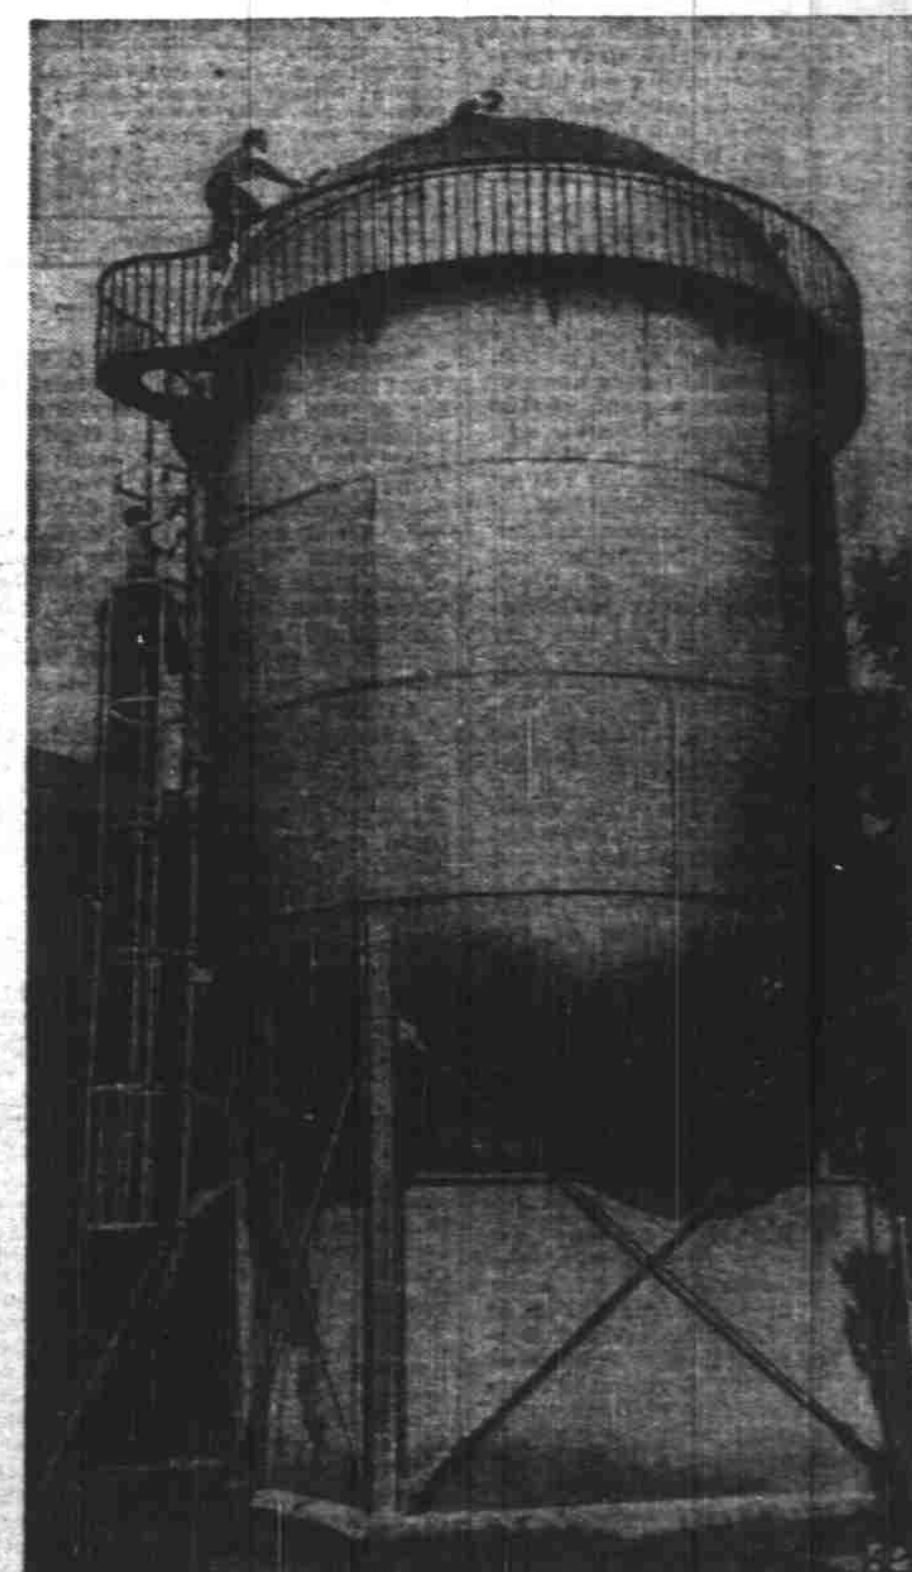

ARGENTINA SIGNS—Another signatory to a document drawn by 21 American republics to protect foreign possessions in the western hemisphere from aggression was Dr. Leopoldo Melo (above), who headed the Argentine delegation at Havana. The conference lasted 11 days. Dr. Melo is expected to come to Washington, D. C., for an official visit with President Roosevelt.

FOR THE ANIMAL ALBUM—"Sure, there's room," decided Mickey as she added a terrier pup to her kitten family. Mickey (That's HER name) belongs to Murray Knaggs of Buffalo.

GOODY—Miss Audrey Good, 17, smiles prettily after being chosen potato blossom queen at the Aroostook county (Maine) annual festival. She carried a bouquet of potato blossoms. This New England state county produces one-sixth of nation's "spuds."

ATOM AMMUNITION—Here is the 40-foot pressure tank that houses the electrostatic generator, or "atom smasher," which will be demonstrated at the University of Pennsylvania's bicentennial celebration starting Sept. 18. Helping with installation of atom gun are William Feldman and Robert Egan, graduate students, and Dr. Robert Hofstadter of physics department.