Unemployment Aid Fund at New High

$9,520,147 on Hand, Says Gaiser; $1,771,359 in Benefits Paid out

Oregon's unemployment compensation fund now totals $9,520,147, more than $250,000 above the previous high in January of this year, Silas Gaiser, unemployment compensation commission administrator, reported here yesterday.

This figure compares with $6,981,499 a year ago and $4,919,947 two years ago.

Unemployment benefits for the first seven months of 1940 aggregated $3,093,288, compared with $2,987,435 for the same period in 1939 and $4,313,614 in 1938.

July checks totaled $276,790 against $253,974 for the same month last year and $475,825 in July, 1938.

Of the 57,034 claims for jobless insurance filed this year, 17,882 have drawn maximum benefits of $1,771,359. Non-valid determinations were made in 6463 cases while $16 still are pending.

Initial claims taken during the past week dropped to 463 against 679 for the previous week.

Mary A. Melson Dies at Age 79

Mary Amanda Melson, who was born October 21, 1860, at Petersburg, Ill., died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Etta M. Eyre, at the age of 79 years. One son, Roy S. Melson, of Salem, also survives, as well as six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

At the age of 17 years, Mary A. Gibson came to Oregon with her brother, Joseph, to make her home with her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Cason, of Heppner, Oregon. Mrs. Cason was an eye witness to the Whitman massacre, when she was a girl of 13 years. Walter Marsh, father of Mrs. Cason, and grandfather of Mary Melson, was killed in the Whitman massacre. Mary Marsh, daughter of Walter Marsh, was taken prisoner, but later was ransomed by Governor Ogden. She was married to Bay company and brought down to the Dalles.

Mary Amanda Gibson and James Asbury Melson were married in 1879.

To this union were born five children, the three oldest died in infancy. Mrs. Melson is survived by the two youngest children, Mrs. Etta M. Eyre and Roy S. Melson, both of Salem. With her husband Mrs. Melson came to Salem in 1889 and has resided here since that time. James A. Melson died in 1904.

Mrs. Melson was a member of the First Methodist church of Salem.

Funeral services will be held from the Clough-Barrick chapel at 3 p. m. today with Dr. J. C. Harrison officiating. Concluding services will be held at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Southern College Executive Visits

Dr. A. C. Roberts, president of San Francisco State college, visited with friends in Salem on Wednesday while on his way to Camas, Wash., to visit relatives. Here he saw Bishop Bruce Baxter, Dr. Chester Luther, Dr. J. C. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown, renewing in the latter cases friendships dating back to a period when Dr. Roberts was head of the department of education at University of Washington.

San Francisco State college with a present enrollment of 2500 students, a four-year liberal arts program, is entering upon an expansion program which will include development of a 1,500,000 campus several miles from the center of San Francisco, overlooking the ocean. The present campus is virtually in downtown San Francisco.

Selective Service Plans Ready Here

Oregon will be ready to act promptly if the army conscription bill is enacted and signed, Colonel E. V. Wooten, who has been directing a school on selective service at the armory here this month, said yesterday.

Colonel Wooten said that under preliminary plans at least one board of three members would be designated in each county to classify men registering in their respective voting precincts under conscription requirements. Larger counties would have a board for each 30,000 inhabitants. The boards would be appointed by the president upon recommendation of the governor.

Quotas assigned each state by the federal government would be broken down by counties.

Sprague Backs Liquor Chief

Hague to Be Reemployed if Discharged, Governor Declares Here

If J. J. Hague, state liquor administrator, is discharged because of his comment on the initiative measure repealing the Krumm liquor control law, he would immediately be reemployed, Governor Charles A. Sprague declared here yesterday.

Hague's dismissal recently was demanded by Mel F. Brown, president of Common Sense Inc. in a letter sent to Floyd J. Wentworth, chairman of the state liquor control commission. A copy of the letter was received by Governor Sprague.

Brown pointed out in his letter that the Oregon liquor law provides for dismissal of any state liquor commission employee who supports or opposes any candidate or measure. Hague's comment was said to have been made during a luncheon at Hood River recently.

"That is a matter for the liquor commission to decide," Governor Sprague said, "but I'll say that if Hague is fired, he'll immediately be reemployed."

Governor Sprague added that at the proper time he would let the people of Oregon know what he thinks of the Common Sense, Inc. bill.

"Apparently you don't think much of the bill," a newspaper correspondent said.

"No, I don't think anything of it," Governor Sprague replied.

Wentworth, in reply to Brown's letter, said Hague's remarks "were only statements of facts made in an endeavor to explain the measure."

Completed petitions for the measure have been filed in the state department and it will go on the ballot at the November election. It would permit the sale of liquor under license.

Cooperation, Booster Spirit Made Centennial Success, Says Baxter

Salem's Centennial celebration proved a direct example of what a community may accomplish through cooperation and the booster spirit, Bishop Bruce R. Baxter told the Salem Rotary club yesterday noon in which, as president, he jestingly introduced himself as speaker of the day and, at the close, thanked "the speaker."

"The Centennial should be regarded as a tribute to youth and vitality rather than looking backward into the past," Bishop Baxter told the club men. "It was appropriate that an united religious service marked the conclusion of the celebration, for the founding in Salem was based upon religion and without that spirit, exemplified by Willamette university, the city could not have existed."

The men and women who conceived pioneer goals, the Whiskers who provided color and the businessmen who pledged financial support of the celebration in event it did not pay its own way were especially commended by Bishop Baxter.

Quota Is Met For Red Cross

Ball Game, Accompanying Contributions Wipe out Deficit

Proceeds from the benefit baseball game staged Monday night by the state penitentiary, Grap and the Carl Mays school, along with accompanying contributions, pushed the Marion county Red Cross chapter more than $100 over its $3000 war relief fund quota which registered a deficit of $1133.84 prior to the game. Red Cross officials announced after yesterday's checkup.

Penitentiary inmates contributed $158.74, an amount which included $48.38 worth of programs printed by them, while prison guards and officials contributed another $123.30 to bring the total penitentiary contribution to the fund up to $181.04.

Total deposit from game receipts, penitentiary donations and small voluntary contributions reached $1321.94 yesterday, according to Milton L. Meyers, chairman of the relief fund, with some money advanced from tickets sales in outlying county districts yet to be received. This amount is $181.88 over the quota.

Staging of the benefit game was suggested to Red Cross officials by Ron General, Steamboat sports editor. Manager B. D. Bishop of the Salem Senators baseball club immediately offered his cooperation.

Included in yesterday's report was a $10 contribution from George Grimes, acting mayor of Hubbard, who won that amount as winner of the mayors' calf roping event in the St. Paul rodeo.

Four Men Enlist For Army Posts

Enlistment of four Salem men for the regular army so far this month is announced by Joseph Scarpa, commander of the local recruiting substitution. Applications of the four were accepted here and the men forwarded to Portland for final examinations and actual enlistment.

Carl Rybloom, son of Otto Rybloom, route five, and Wallace E. Lott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lott, 166 South Liberty street, were enlisted for the 23rd Base Squadron, signal corps, March Field, Calif. Stanley Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, 250 Kingwood avenue, West Salem, and Theodore Rape, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Rape, route one, were both enlisted for the 62d coast artillery, Fort MacArthur, Calif.

The Salem office is accepting enlistments for many branches of the service. Eligible men may be accepted for the corps, signal corps, coast artillery (harbor defense and anti-aircraft), field artillery, quartermaster corps, ordnance department, infantry, cavalry and medical department.
