Left and center, Jane Wyman; right, Ann Sheridan

It's about time to be thinking of that first fall dress. Slimness is the word for the new styles—a slowness that is becoming and easy to wear. At the left above is Jane Wyman wearing one of the new autumn suits. It is in wood brown twill with four-gored skirt and long fitted jacket. The flange collar is cloth of gold accented with a pair of gold keys. Jane has chosen a two-piece dress, center. It has a knife-pleated skirt topped by a brief jacket which shows an interesting double-button front, and is made of bottle green sheer wool. Ann Sheridan is in black, a crepe dress with square collar of eyellet embroidery. It is light enough to wear now, and will be the backbone of her fall wardrobe.

Old Timers Gather Sunday, Cloverdale

CLOVERDALE—The Cloverdale schoolhouse and grounds were again the scene of the Old Timer's picnic which is held annually. At this meeting all former friends and residents of this community are welcomed back. At noon a basket dinner was served to approximately 150 guests.

In the afternoon the business meeting was held with Vice President John W. Schifferer presiding. The meeting opened with the group singing "God Bless America." Talks were given by Mrs. Herman Wipper and Carl Duncan, both early residents of this community. Mrs. Wipper still resides here and Mr. Duncan lives in Turner. Mrs. Wipper told of the origin of the two cemeteries of this vicinity. The IOOF cemetery has been in use since early in 1860. The land was donated by a Mr. Smith and the Delaney family also was interested in the plot. Dan Delaney's granddaughter, Mrs. Josephine Delaney Lafore, donated the gates at the entrances as a memorial to her grandparents. The Hunzaker cemetery was first used in 1870. It is located on the Hunzaker donation land claim. The spot was selected by Mrs. Hunzaker and she was the first to be buried there.

Mrs. Wipper also reviewed the origin of the telephone system here. This service originated in 1904 with about 30 subscribers. Special note was given to the fact that this Sunday was also the birthday of William Anderson, a member of this community for the past 11 years. He was 80 years old.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 21 of a series

WHAT HOPS DO FOR BEER AND ALE

Hops are for flavor. They give to good beer and ale their lively, appetizing flavor, their pleasant, aromatic tang.

Brewers select and blend their hops with extreme care. In fact, every step in making beer and ale is conducted with mastery skill—to give you better-tasting, more wholesome beverages.

Now the brewing industry wants to do one thing more. It wants to protect your right to drink good beer and ale—by keeping the places where beer and ale are sold wholesome, too.

We want undesirable, anti-social establishments "cleaned-up or closed-up." A plan of action has already been put into effect in a number of states. This plan is being extended. We'd like you to know about it. Send for interesting free booklet.
