"No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Aws"

From First Statesman, March 28, 1351 THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO.

CHARLES A. SPRAGUE, President Member of The Associated Press The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this newspaper.

The Fifty Destroyers

It remained for the Italian duce, the well-jawed Musso-terms in the presidency, frowning lini, to invent a new stopping place in the shadowy land be- upon contemplation of a third tween complete neutrality and active belligerency with re- term. It was Jefferson who, after spect to the European war. The word—"non-belligerent"— sent Lewis and Clark to spy out had little meaning as he used it several months ago, and it the land beyond the Rockies. still is vague in its outlines and unexplored in its implica- Their journals kindled the intertions. But for better or worse, non-belligerency rather than est of colonial America in the far neutrality expresses the relation of the United States to the west. The explorer, the fur trap-European war.

The determining factor has been the sale yesterday of fifty obsolete-but not antiquated, and still highly effect- we pause today, we may read in fifty obsolete—but not antiquated, and still nightly effect-ive—destroyers to the government of Great Britain. Whether plicable to the problems besetting for good or evil, we have taken another step on the road to us now. war by becoming in an active sense the supporter of the British war effort. Hitler, if he is a fool (which he is not) may use the sale as a pretext for declaring war; and if he does, the country can only consider itself to have reaped as it has sown. Yet it can hardly feel that the harvest would ment at Washington, absorbed in One's approval of the destroyer deal-and this paper, now that it has been made, is inclined to approve of the fact of the deal, if not the way in which it was made-is based thiefly on the assumption that it was made in response to a raised in discouragement. It was need recognized and put forward by naval experts and not said that Oregon lay beyond our by politically-minded laymen lacking in responsibility. We shall trust that the American naval authorities who presumably approved the deal, and above all the president, had spite of governmental objections. American security at heart when they decided that American settlers were overrunning the destroyers would fight now in the English Channel rather once established would maintain than possibly waiting to fight off the coasts of the western themselves against the world. hemisphere; and if that trust proves to have been ill-placed in the course of months, the blame will not be difficult to Assuming that the purpose of the administration was national defense and not politics in permitting the deal, and then been instructed that they assuming also that reputable American naval advice was must look to Washington for insought, obtained and adhered to, the sale is advantageous spiration and sanction for their to America, just as it is to Britain. The Newfoundland, Ber- every act. muda and West Indian bases received in exchange are of im- they needed to organize their mense value now, and will continue to be of great value in rude society into lawful patterns. future years; the promise of the British not to sink their they made no appeal to the gov fleet is also of value, though the world is now a trifle cynical ernment. They acted. They formwith respect to promises from anybody about anything. The fifty American destroyers may not save Britain; but the bases can be of enormous worth to an embattled western timidity of the obstructionists hemisphere if ever the hand of Hitler stretches toward South day, they thought America finish-America.

In fine there is only one objection which one is inclined seemingly numerous in each gento raise with respect to the exchange. That is the way that eration, which holds that the limit was consummated, i.e., by executive order, and by exit has been reached. Little Americans they were; the type that changes of notes between the foreign office and the state advocated impeaching Jefferson department, rather than through congressional action in the form of senatorial approval of a treaty, or formal legislation and for buying Alaska. passed through both houses. The only suspicious thing, indeed, about the whole transaction is the president's light-heartedness in tossing off his decision; and one could wish hears is not the hum of Amerthat the country, and the congress had been better informed ica's dynamos, but the hardening in advance. But this is still the administration with "secrets," of American arteries. It is his and ill betide that the mere people should know them in ad-

Municipal Power Elections

Woodburn will vote this coming Friday on a municipal power program; West Salem will vote upon a similar issue try, reject the hypothesis of the said, "I'll send you to a friend of had enough time. There were just a week later. Since The Statesman pays taxes in neither community we will hold to our past policy of admitting that it is "none of our business." Yet there are points involved dates the decline of American en- told him not to advise anything which are worthy of discussion.

Woodburn proposes a $65,000 issue of general obligation bonds, and the municipality's debt is already of such volume that it is necessary to vote at the same time to abrogate the debt limitation. Some of Woodburn's business men are opposing the program because of this feature. The general obligation bond proposal puts all of the risk upon the shoulders of the community's taxpayers although it should make possible a better deal for the bonds. At the hearings held in Woodburn on the municipal power issue, speakers from nearby Canby have been prominent, telling of the advantages that community has gained from municipal ownership. It should be recalled that Canby has and as long as well being is inhad municipal ownership for many years, but until recently equitably distributed, then we it bought its power from Portland General Electric company. Under that arrangement, Canby was required to charge, or did charge, the same rates as PGE. There was a profit left over, so Canby proceeded to pay for its system and later ap- the pioneer to the end that we plied its profit to municipal expenses and improvements.

Now relieved of that arrangement since it is buying Bonneville power, Canby has reduced its rates. What some Woodburn voters may not realize is that, whatever benefits they may realize, they cannot hope to match Canby's rates until the debt they now propose to create, is largely liquidated.

Canby's minimum charge is now $1 a month, as compared to PGE's 87 cents; beginning at about 50 kilowatt hours Canby's rates are lower, though if taxes returned to the public are subtracted from the PGE rates, the comparison again favors PGE. Since some of these taxes now going to county and state would be eliminated, it is somewhere near a standoff-if Woodburn could match Canby's rates. nation United States Senator Woodburn will, on the contrary, be in comparable position to Cascade Locks, whose rates are substantially higher—the penalty for small-volume operation. If Woodburn gains any financial benefits from municipal operation, it will have to due and consistently avoided anymanage better than Cascade Locks has done.

There are a couple of other matters that have nothing to do-or not much-with the dollars and cents angle. Discussing the issue with Woodburn people, we find them talking of voting for or against "Bonneville power." Somehow the idea has been put over that this is a matter of getting, or not getting, Bonneville power. They are already using Bonneville power a considerable share of the time, and benefitting somewhat from its low cost.

The other matter concerns the Woodburn Independent. The editor of the Independent consistently resents the existence of privately-owned utilities. It is a sort of religion with him. And consistency is a virtue. But we wonder-if the editor of the Independent should take pencil and paper and figure out that the municipal ownership deal is not in the community's best interests—we wonder if he would tell his readers so?

Lax Prison Methods

In the spectacular escape of 36 convicts from a prison farm in Arkansas there is a stern lesson in penology but one which the management of the Oregon prison obviously Truly, as he expressed it, "this is

The news dispatches reveal that ringleaders in the escape were trusties—convicts—armed and placed on guard The new deal has "sought to inover their fellow-convicts! In fact it seemed that the more culcate reliance on the governserious a man's offense and the longer his sentence, the bet- ment in place of self-reliance and ter he was armed; for the two trusties armed with rifles were a republican victory this year is necessary for revival of the spirit shorter terms for burglary and armed robbery.

Up-to-date penology scarcely wastes time frowning upon such a lax system of detention as this; it insists, in fact, that

Bits for Breakfast

By R. J. BENDRICKS

Charlie McNary, in his acceptance speech Tuesday, Aug. 27, struck a high note in paying tribute to our pioneerst (Continuing from yesterday:) Still continuing the part of the McNary acceptance speech in which he paid tribute to the pioneers: "The beginnings of Oregon lay in the imagination of Thomas Jefferson the apostle of democracy, who served only two Next came the missionary; and, close behind, the homeseeker. If

"Most Americans are familiar with the broad outlines of this vast migration. They are not so familiar with the fact that it was a people's movement. The governthe 1840s by the acquisition of Texas and the gathering clouds of secession, virtually ignored the trend toward the northwest. In congress, numerous voices were proper aspirations as a nation; that the Rockies should mark once established, would maintain

"No, the government did not occupy the Oregon Country. That job, thank God, was accomplished by the people. Americans had not

N N N

"And when the pioneers found ed their own government. . . .

"We can afford to smile at the ed. They belonged to the tribe.

"In like manner, the little the hopes of youth; insists that our industrial plant is over built and that we must look forward ever forget this?" only to a slippered senility.

"We, of the old Oregon Counlittle American. We are optimists. mine. I'll go telephone him now." We say that America is not yet half built. The little American He found his lawyer friend in, last free land was thrown open to settlement "We hold that the theory of the last frontier is only figurative. Land, if you had to work it, never was free. Men paid for it in sweat and blood and loneli- talk to him and you'll feel better. ness, if not in dollars.

3 3 3 "As long as great rivers run idly to the sea; as long as vast reaches of virgin soll await only life giving water; as long as Americans prefer work to ease, say that America is not finished.

"Our job is to work for an integrated self confident country, ready to undergo the discipline of may not only survive in a threatening world but distribute our blessings more abundantly."

(Concluded tomorrow.)

Editorial Comment

From Other Papers

AS McNARY SEES IT In formally accepting the republican vice presidential nomi-Charles L. McNary of Oregon delivered a temperate but profound speech. He gave credit where it seemed to him that credit was thing that might be described as purely partisan criticism. On the whole the speech constitutes a thorough justification of a progressive's refusal to endorse the new deal. While accrediting the new deal administration with some good intentions and some constructive convinced that its net effect is to it with a desperate hope it decidedly on the liability side. might be Tex. From him, one of the best agricultural authorities in politics today, there is tremendous practical force in the statement that the new deal has practically benefited foreign farmers at the expense of Americans. When he advocated greater em-phasis on individual initiative Senator McNary was speaking out of his own experiences and ob-servations as a resident and political representative of a section of the nation in which the pioneer spirit is still strnogly exemplified. not a mere contest between rival political parties; this campaign is necessary for revival of the spirit that will promote national progress .- South Bend, Ind., Tribune. way from home."

A Situation Redolent With Consequences

"Hying Blinds

Chapter 20 "Tex can't be serious," said

Hugh. "He packed his clothes and left the apartment." "Then you must have had a quarrel.'

"I swear we didn't." Hugh tried to persuade Judith to eat something but she refused. "Now the point is I must have some legal advice. If he wants a divorce, a divorce he shall have." "You're being hasty. This will blow over!'

Judith looked at Hugh, you believe that? How could I new crate on a trial trip."

terprise from the time when the drastic. When he came back to the table he felt better. Attorney Richards had reassured him, "I'm an expert at calming down irate wives, Hugh, Don't worry." Hugh patted Judith's hand as it lay on the table. "Now you go and I'm going to take you to dinner tonight. You'll be OK and Tex will come to his senses."

That is the way things stood when Judith left Hugh. As he said good bye, he squeezed her hand. "You know how I feel about you, Judith. You're tops with me. Any time you decide to change husbands, I'm waiting."

Underneath the levity of his voice, there was a serious note. Richards' law office was in a building near 54th street on Fifth avenue. She walked and the air made her feel better. The lawyer talked with Judith for some time.

"There's only one thing I can advise if you wish to push the thing through in a hurry. That's Reno. But it costs money." He continued: "You could get a divorce in Michigan in about three months if your residence were established, but I'm afraid the court would rule New Jersey as your home. Reno takes about forty-two days. Have you money enough?"

"I think so." "But you better wait a few days before you decide anything. Then I'll write a friend of mine out there and he can look after you." The lawyer found Judith hard to handle. She was horribly hurt and shaken. No use talking to her in that frame of mind. He refused

"You're Lanning's friend. That makes it all right with me." Judith went on back to the apartment. She had to think about packing. Mechanically she went on about her preparations. achievements Nominee McNary is The telephone rang and she rushed to take any money for his advice.

It was Roy Trendel looking for Tex. Judith had known Roy for & long time. He was factory pilot for the Mercury ships which Tex flew.

"Where's the big shot?" Roy asked.

"He's supposed to be at the airport," Judith answered. "Well, he isn't, for that's where am. Ferrying a ship back to the coast tonight. I'd like to see him before I leave. Ellen is with me." Ellen was Roy's most recent romantic interest.

There was more conversation. Judith answered mechanically. Then she got an idea: "When are you leaving? "About five, I'm waiting here for a wire from the coast before I "Could I go with you?"

sort of community loyalty among convicts—enforced by them . One can only gasp at the condition in the Arkansas pri-if not voluntarily shared—which makes it practically im- son farm as disclosed by the details of the Labor day break.

"Then I'll be there at five." Ju- | again! dith had made up her mind. "What route are you taking?"

you going?' "The coast," Judith could not said. He headed for a large red bring herself to tell him her des- airplane which was already on the has gotten more out of the new tination. She could fly back to line. In the waiting room she Reno from Los Angeles, or take a found Elien Stark, Roy's fiancee. train. It wasn't far. How queer it was she was going to see the west now! For a divorce which she detested!

"You're welcome to come if you dith?" want to. Better ask Tex. He "Do might not want you flying in this Judith went back to her pack-

Judith finally convinced Hugh ing. She filled a small trunk, left that Tex had been quite serious it to be sent on later. Then she about the whole thing. And so he packed an airplane suit case. She some small bills to be paid. Milk Hugh was gone five minutes. man, the laundry. She left the money for them with the care-

Tex could do what he wanted with the apartment. She never wanted to see anything in it

Today's Garden By LILLIE L. MADSEN

B.P .- Yes, there is a tree wound dressing made from Bordeaux. You simply stir raw linseed oil into dry Bordeaux powder until a paintable mixture is obtained. Then put it on the wound.

Botrytis is a genus name for a widespread fungus and that is why you find it a peony blight, fire disease of tulips, on lilies and many other plants. It will also be found on sinnias and marigolds. Pick off all diseased leaves and flowers and then spray with bordeaux. The disease spores live over winter in the garden and clean gardening is essential to its riddance.

Tri-ogen is a spray; Kolotex is used as a dust. Both are good control measures for the rose gardens. It is important that you go over your rose bed thoroughly now if you want good October roses. Almost every mail brings questions about the rose garden at this time of the year. We are coming into one of Oregon's finest rosetimes, I think. A contact spray is necessary to control the leafhopper which does so much damage in the rose garden in September.

At a quarter to five, Judith ar rived at Newark airport in a taxi. "Denver, I think. Where are The porter knew her. "For Mr. Trendel's ship," "I'm glad you're going. It's a long trip."

"Nothing."

"Roy's with some of the big Tex?" shots. They're arguing about carburetors. What's a carbureter,

News Behind Today's News By PAUL MALLON

ABOARD PRESIDENT in the speech, only subtle con-give them spades in e a m p a i g n-ing. The techni-que this time to answer Willkie without onceding that there is such a man. It was to present the heavy breath of Hitler upon the public neck at just the right ture, not too hot because that would be disastrous warmongering, not too cold as then such a reason for voting for Roosevelt would be

The great humanitarian accomplishments of the first two terms must be heralded, but not by open campaigning because that would disclose personal ini-tiative for a third term. It had to be done indirectly, coyly, graclously. The necessity for a third term must be presented without seeming to. The picture of a man too busy at great projects to waste time in sordid politics, the photo of a leader drafted against his personal inclinations, had to be perpetuated.

That's a tough job, an impossible one you might say, un-less you had accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on his first stump foray since his acceptance speech, the opening gun of his campaign in the hesitant south. Ickes tried to do it and messed it up with rhetorical overindulgence. Wallace attempted it but slopped over into painting swastikas on practically everyone except himself and Roosevelt,

Down here the old master showed them how it should be done. He demonstrated conclusively that what the republi-cans have deluded themselves into believing was only a ma-gic radio voice, is unquestionably sharpest political wit of the age. This is the picture:

The Chickamauga dam was finished last March and could have been dedicated any time since then, or not dedicated at all, because few dam openings have been patted by presidential hand, was selected for the opening of the president's campaign. . . It was chosen because it afforded the desired contrast with Willkie, in the heart of the district where he represented private power, a community which deal than any other . . . never a word about Willkie was there

Judith?" Ellen yawned. "I hate Judith was so nervous that El- all this airplane talk. Ive heard len asked, "What's wrong, Ju- nothing else for twenty-four hours, right through floor shows, dinners, and everything. How's

(To be continued)

ROOSEVELT'S SPECIAL TRAIN, trasting pledges for cheap elec-Sept. 3 - Mr. Roosevelt can tricity, sorrow that "some people" misunderstood the great purposes of TVA, personal recollections showing FDR had always been against private power, how "practical" the president has been instead of wasteful, (mentioning his Dutch and Scotch ancestors), how unlike a dictator he had been in letting state and local governments, farmers, laborers, "cooperate" in building the dam . . . not a word about reelection or third term, only: "We propose not only to retain these dams (Willkie said this, too) but to improve and extend them." . . . "The progress that we propose to continue to make" . . "We must have continuance of your labor." How better could "Re-elect me?"

Then in the Great Smoky National park which has been ready for dedicating for a full year (it was finished in June, 1939) Mr. Roosevelt chose the occasion to out-pioneer the Willkie acceptance speech, again without conceding there is such a person.

Our ancestors were paraded in this speech, keeping their rifles near their axes to save themselves from the Indian scalping knives, arrows and tomahawks which have been replaced, my friends, today by "the airplane, tank and machine gun." . . . No Hitler attack "this fall" appeared in this one, but "the greatest" attack that has even been launched against freedom of the individual is nearer the Americas than ever before. . . Nothing about re-election, but "we need not swap the gain of better living for the gain of better defense. I propose to retain the one and gain the other." . . . The president even borrowed without credit, the Willkie acceptance line (Willkie borrowed it from Churchill with credit) that all this defense is going to "require sacrifices from us all." . . . Nothing aboue anyone else standing for fascism, but plenty about how free Mr. Roosevelt has kept our liberty with the implied question of who could do it better. .. Thus does Mr. Roosevelt's reelection, from his own words, become imperative—although you must admit he did not exactly This, then, is to be the Rooserelt type of campaign for the third try, as delicate a job as a statesman ever set his mind to, and clearly now one behind the capacity of his subordinates to attempt. Only he can say with a face that is straight, except for a minor twinkle in the eye, "I am too busy for politics. This is to be the classic countersign of the campaign. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.; reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Radio Programs

KSLM-WEDNESDAY-1360 Ke. 6:30—Milkman Melodies. 7:00—Farm Talk—Harry Riches 7:15—Hits and Encores.

1:30-News. 7:45-Melody Lans. 8:00-Breakfast Club. 8:30—Breakiast Cius, 8:40—Bess Bye. 8:45—Pastor's Call. 9:00—I'll Never Forget. 9:15—Popular Music. 9:30—Johnson Family.

9:45-Keep Fit to Music. 10:00—News. 10:15—Ma Perkins. 10:30—Hits of Seasons Past. 10:45—Bachebor's Children. 11:00—Our Friendly Neighbors. 15-Popular Music, 45-Zeke Manners and Gang. 00-Value Parade. :15-News. :30-Hilbilly Serenade. :35-Willamette Valley Opinions.

:50-Musical Interlude. 1:00-Hollywood Whispers. 1:10—Hollywood Whispers.
1:15—Interesting Facts.
1:30—Joe Venuti Orchestra.
1:45—Popular Music.
2:00—US Marines.
2:15—Hits of the Day.
2:45—Grandma Travels.
3:00—Maddox Family and Rose.
3:30—Your Neighbor.
8:45—Carol Leighbor. Ballads. 8:45-Carol Leighton, Ballads.

10:00—Serpico and His Music. 10:30—Vocal Varieties.

4:15—Popular Music,
5:30—Shafter Parker,
5:45—Cheer Up Gang,
6:00—Tunight's Headlines,
6:15—Dinner Hour Melodies,
6:30—News and Views—John B. Hughes 6:45-Musical Memories. 7:15-Elliott Roosevelt 7:30—Lone Ranger. 8:00—News. 8:15—Louis Prima Orchestra. :30-BBC News. -Freddy Nagel Orchestra.

11:00-News. 11:15-Morton Gould Orchestra. 11:30-Rhythm Rascals. 11:45-Melody Lane. KOIN-WEDNESDAY-940 Ke.

6:00-Market Reports. 6:05-KOIN Clock. 7:15-Headliners. 7:30-Bob Garred Reporting. 7:45—Bos Garred Reporting.
7:45—Consumer News.
8:00—Kate Smith Speaks.
8:15—When a Girl Marries.
8:30—Romance of Helen Trent.
8:45—Our Gal Sunday. 8:45—Our Galdbergs. 9:00—The Goldbergs. Can Be Beautiful. 9:15—Life Can Be Beauti 9:30—Right to Happiness, 10:00—Big Sister. 10:15—Aunt Jenny. 10:30—Firtcher Wiley. 10:45—My Son and I. 11:00—Society Girl. 11:15—Martha Webste

11:45—Marina Webster.
11:45—News.
12:00—Pretty Kitty Kelly.
12:15—Myrt and Marge.
12:30—Hilltop House.
12:45—Stepmother. 12:45—Stepmother.

1:00—By Kathleen Norris.

1:15—Beyond These Valleys.

1:30—Singin' Sam.

1:45—Scattergood Baines.

2:00—Young Doctor Malone.

2:15—Hedda Hopper's Hollywood.

2:30—Jeyce Jordan.

2:45—The World Today.

3:00—Hello Again.

3:30—Newspaper of the Air.

5:00—Star Theatre.

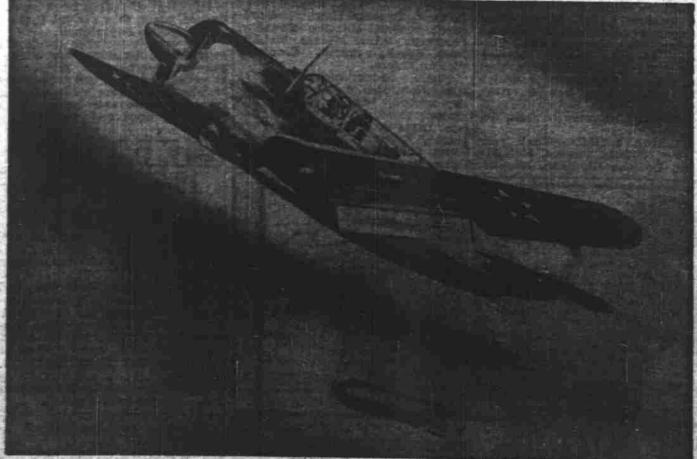

6:00—Glenn Miller Orchestra.

6:15—Public Affaire.

6:30—News of the War.

6:30—News of the War. 7:00—Amos 'n' Andy. 7:15—Lanny Ross.
7:30—Dr. Christian.
7:55—News.
8:00—Adventures of Mr. Meek. 8:30—Question Bee. 9:00—Sullivan Reviews the News.

Latest US Weapon-Curtiss Dive Bomber

when convicts are made trusties, they be segregated at all possible for a trusty to plot with his fellows if he mingles with the Us navy and which is almost ready for test flights. The new craft is powered with a 1700-horsepower 14-cylinder engine, establishes new standards for aircraft of this type by having unusually heavy fire, increased bomb carrying capacity and general performance,—IIN service,

These schedules are supplied by the respective stations. Any variations noted by listeners are due to changes made by 11:00—Jantzen Orchestra, the stations without notice to this news-

11:30-Manny Strand Orchestra. 11:55-News. KGW-WEDNESDAY-629 Kc. 6:00—Sunrise Serenade. 6:30—Trail Blazers.

6:30—Trail Blazers.
7:00—News.
7:15—Home Folks Frolis.
7:30—Wife Saver.
7:45—Sam Hayes.
8:00—Weman in White.
8:15—The O'Neills.
8:30—Stare of Today.
9:15—Nature Sketches.
9:30—By Kathleen Norris.
9:45—Dr. Kate.
10:00—Light of the World.
10:15—Arneld Grimm's Daughter.
10:30—Valiant Lady.
10:45—Betty Crocker.

10:45—Betty Crocker.
11:00—Story of Mary Marlin.
11:15—Ma Perkins.
11:30—Popper Young's Family.
11:45—Vic and Sade.

11:45—Vic and Sade.
12:00—Portia Blake Faces Life.
12:15—Stella Dallas.
12:30—Lorenzo Jones.
12:45—Your Treat.
1:00—Girl Alone.
1:15—Stars of Today.
1:30—Midstream.
1:45—The O'Neills.
2:00—Hollywood News Flashes.
3:15—Mine to Cherish.
2:30—Against the Storm.

2:30—Against the Storm.
2:35—Against the Storm.
2:45—The Guiding Light.
3:00—Fred Waring in Pleasure Time.
3:15—News.
3:45—H. V. Kaltenborn. 4:00—Speaking of Glamour, 4:30—Gentlemen Relax, 5:00—Paul Carson, Organist, 5:30—Stars of Today, 5:45—Cocktail Heur.

5:45—Cocktail Hour.
6:00—Kay Kyser's Kollege.
7:00—Hollywood Playhouse.
7:30—Plantation Party.
6:00—Abbott and Costello.
8:30—Mr. District Attorney.
9:00—F. Manchu.
9:15—Faithful Stradivari.
9:30—Stanford University.
9:50—Hotel Sherman Orchestra.
10:00—News Flashes.
10:15—Biltimore Hotel Orchestra.
11:00—News
11:15—Biltimore Gardens Orchestra.
11:30—Florentine Gardens Orchestra.

KEX-WEDNESDAY-1160 Ec. 6:30-Musical Clock 7:15-Financial Service. 7:30-Dr. Brock. 8:15-Breakfast Club. 30—National Farm and Home. 15—Between the Bookenda. 30—Home Institute. 0:00-News. 0:15-Ledies in the Headlines

1:00—Orphans of Divorce.
1:15—Amands of Honeymoon Hill
1:30—John's Other Wife.
1:45—Just Plain Hill.
1:00—US Department Agriculture. 12:30—News.
12:45—Market Reports.
1:00—The Quiet Hour.
1:30—Masters of Melody,
2:00—Curbstons Quis.

2:00 Curbstone Quis.
2:25 Associated Press News.
2:45 Sports Column.
2:45 European News.
8:30 Easy Does It.
4:00 Bad Barton.
4:15 Portland on Parlam 4:15—Portland on Review.
4:35—Ireene Wicker.
4:45—Malcolm Claira.
5:00—The Song of Your Life.
6:00—European News. :15—Ink Spots. :20—Easy Aces.

1:45-Mr. Keen, Tracer. 1:00-Quiz Kids. 1:80-Manhattan at Midnight. -News. Dismond Dust. 8:86—Bassball, 10:15—Hotel St. Francis Orchestra, 10:30—Ambassador Orchestra, 11:00—This Moving World, 12:15—Paul Carson, Organist, 12:00—Midnight War News Round