Higher Education Budget Is Boosted

Most Increases Involve Research; $614,000 Given in 1939

Requested legislative appropriations of the state board of higher education for the 1941-42 biennium will show an increase when compared with the appropriations for the current two year period, David Eccles, state budget director announced yesterday.

Board members spent most of Friday forenoon conferring with Governor Charles A. Sprague in connection with the new budget.

Eccles said the most substantial increases asked by the board involved research divisions.

Records show that the so-called supplemental legislative appropriation for the board for this biennium was $614,000. The board had requested $664,000. This was in addition to the millage tax received for the support of the higher educational program.

The board has jurisdiction over the University of Oregon, state college, three normal schools, and other educational activities.

The enrollment at the higher educational institutions for 1941-42 was estimated at about the same as that for the current biennium.

Figures contained in the budget will not be released until later, Eccles declared.

Reduction of Rate Indicated, Clatsop

A substantial rate reduction for users of electricity in the proposed Clatsop county people's utility district was indicated in a report of the state hydroelectric commission released here yesterday.

This reduction, the report said, would be contingent upon the district acquiring the existing distribution facilities, maintaining a steam auxiliary plant and purchasing electrical energy from the Bonneville dam administration.

The commission estimated that on this basis there would be an annual surplus of $161,113 during the first four years of the district operations and $107,723 per year during the amortization period extending from the 5th to the 26th year.

Total estimated annual costs during the first four years were fixed at $411,591 with annual revenues of $572,704. Operating expenses were estimated at $261,833. The investment was fixed at $2,365,365.
