20,000 Benefited by Salem Chest "March" in Review Before Chamber Audience; Campaign Opens Monday

By word-picture, a parade of 20,000 beneficiaries of the Salem Community Chest's 1939-40 program was marched through the Salem chamber of commerce dining room Monday noon by Rev. Robert A. Hutchinson, speaking on behalf of the chest campaign organization headed by Senator Douglas McKay, who presided.

The "marchers" included 4500 persons benefited in some way by the Catholic charities, $380 aided by the Salvation Army, 935 Boy Scouts, 2000 boys and girls who participated in the summer camp program alone of the YMCA and YWCA and other young people and adults who took part in their other activities. The countless beneficiaries of the Red Cross and the thousands of transients fed and lodged by the Hotel de Minto.

Rev. Hutchinson later emphasized the slogan of the chest campaign, "Give to the American Way," which he said meant giving not only voluntarily, but enthusiastically. The principal appeal at the chamber luncheon was for campaign workers, chest officials taking it for granted that the members would all be contributors. The campaign opens September 30.

Yamhill Circuit Court Reversed Decision The state supreme court yesterday allowed Peter Zimmerman, Yamhill county, until Thursday to file petition for rehearing in the primary election contest suit brought against him by Representative W. R. Osborne of Amity. Osborne charged that he was deprived of the nomination for representative in the legislature from Yamhill county at the last primary election because of errors in counting and tabulating the votes by the election boards.

Zimmerman, on the face of the returns, defeated Osborne by 13 votes. The Yamhill circuit court dismissed Osborne's suit for a recount of the votes on the ground that he had not filed his contest petition within the five days required by law. The supreme court reversed this decision.

'White Safety' To Be Started

Wednesday Luncheon to Set off Junior C of C Program in Salem

Salem's junior chamber of commerce will be hosts Wednesday noon for a "Safety With White" luncheon at the Argo hotel to motor caravans of junior chamber members which will converge on Salem from all over the state. "Safety With White" is the theme adopted by the Oregon state junior chamber of commerce coming to Portland in cooperation with Secretary of State Earl Snell, the National Safety Council and local police and safety groups, to call attention to the importance of pedestrians wearing white clothing at night to prevent accidents.

Governor Charles A. Sprague will welcome the visitors at the luncheon and Mayor Joseph K. Carson of Portland, Chief of Police Harry M. Nile of Portland, Mayor W. W. Chadwick and Chief of Police Frank A. Minto of Salem will inaugurate the statewide program in Salem. Earl F. Campbell, secretary-director of the Portland traffic safety commission, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon. Campbell, who was manager of the Seattle traffic and safety council before coming to Portland and has studied at the University of Paris and in the United States, has an enviable record in safety work.

A theme girl who will aid in publicizing the program has been selected by each junior chamber where the program is in effect. "Safety With White" girls from each of the participating cities will attend the luncheon Wednesday.

Secretary of State Earl Snell, after reviewing the project, said: "The Oregon state junior chamber of commerce has taken an intense interest in safety work, and I am much impressed with the program entitled, 'Safety With White.' It should have a desirable effect on the pedestrian accident rate."

Primary objective of the Program will be pointing out the causes of fatal accidents and methods by which they could have been prevented. A comprehensive program will be maintained in Salem, in addition to the school patrols instituted last year, will be maintained by the Salem junior chamber with the winning of the award for the lowest accident rate offered by the secretary of state.
