OSC and Troy Both Satisfied To Avoid Loss

Scoreless Tie Is Result but Each Team Comes Close to Paydirt
Kisselburgh's Defensive Work Stands out in Orange Showing

By ROBERT MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The orange-shirted men of Oregon State and the Trojans of Southern California...

Fifty five thousand fans roared a tribute to the two teams, just as they had howled a few moments before when the rejuvinated USC swept into deep Oregon State territory.

The stubborn Beavers, boasting their best team in years, fought every yard, and with seven seconds to play, USC tried a field goal. It missed.

Pass Interception
Rains Orange Hope
Earlier in the quarter the Oregon States marched into the Trojan back yard behind the great work of big Jim Kisselburgh, Bob Olson and Gene Gray...

The eleven, both candidates for the coveted Rose Bowl assignment, each achieved 15 first downs. Each team rolled up great yardage but neither could score.

In One Ear..

—Paul Hauser's Column

We've just got newspaper week out of the way (and, believe it or not, it was a struggle being on our best behavior and not committing more than once all week) when along comes this week, which is a heck of a lot worse.

It's not only business women's week, letter writing week, fire prevention week and parent-teacher week, but it's also anti-noise week.

It's going to be quite a problem for us, as we look at it now, to observe all those weeks in seven days. My old friend Joe Tweek says it's a cinch. Of course he's in a little different situation than we are.

Miss Eugenia Filditch

Casanova High School
Dear Miss Filditch,
Please disregard the foolish things I said to you while we were sitting on the steps after the Casanova Parent-Teachers (A) meeting of Tuesday last.

As a teacher and business woman (2) you will appreciate my stand in this. Please burn (3) this and previous letters (4) with my wife back in town it would be terrible to have this thing noised (5) about.

Tenderest personal regards,
(1)—This takes care of Parent Teachers week, or at least one parent and one teachers week.
(2)—B. W. week.
(3)—Things burned with care will never flare.

(4)—Be more careful than Tweek during letter writing week. It's usually much better not to put it in a letter.
(5)—Anti-noise week. You make much less noise when you stay with the boys.

We don't know when Franklin found time for it, what with the war and Willie, but Monday is Thanksgiving day in the Windward Islands.

That Trojan horse stuff may have gone in in Norway and Holland but all it meant to our Oregon State football club was nothing.

Paper Industry's Outlook Is Good
Production Above Normal Capacity now, Leader of Union Remarks

Outlook is bright for continued steady employment in the paper making industry, Arthur Huggins, of Albany, N.Y., president of the International Brotherhood of Paper-makers, said here yesterday.

Huggins left last night for California after visiting local union officials and addressing a meeting of the Salem local of the International Friday night. He was shown about the city by Charles F. Davis, local president.

Producing at only 58 per cent of capacity a year ago last summer, the American paper industry is now running above 90 per cent and some mills, operating seven days a week, are operating at more than 100 per cent of their normal output.

Onset of the war a year ago resulted first in an abnormal domestic demand that sent paper production soaring, but shutting off (Turn to page 2, col. 1)

German Novelist Helped in Escape

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Fellow passengers of Lion Feuchtwanger, famous German novelist, told today how he made a daring escape from a French internment camp in women's clothing smuggled to him by a young American ambulance driver.

Feuchtwanger, self-described as the "No. 1 man on the nail list of men to be killed," arrived as a refugee on the American export liner Excalibur.

Passengers said Feuchtwanger made his way to safety with the help of an "underground" group of young Americans engaged in aiding German-born refugee writers and artists escape French internment camps.

They said that at least six German or German-Jewish writers and artists had been rescued, including Gold Mize, a son of writer Thomas Mann, now in the United States.

Registration Record Broken Here, County Clerk's Belief

A few minutes before his office closed last night for registration of voters, County Clerk U. G. Boyer expressed the opinion that registration in Marion county will reach a new high in the November general elections.

"In my opinion the registration of eligible voters for the coming election is the greatest ever seen in this county," he said. The clerk's office remained open until 8 p. m. to accommodate persons desiring to register.

Boyer made his statement on the basis of observation of large crowds which have besieged deputies in the clerk's office for two weeks with requests to register.

He emphasized that actual tabulation of registration cards has not yet begun, and that although the work will be started next Monday, final figures on county registration will probably not be available for at least a week.

In addition to registration cards to be checked and filed in the clerk's office, hundreds of additional cards are expected to be received within the next few days from 30 registrars located in every portion of the county.

Wilkie Swats At Impugners Of Patriotism

Whispering Campaign Is Answered; Prejudice Harmful, Asserts

Candidate Pledges Civil Liberty Defense, Says Tolerance Needed

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Wendell L. Wilkie told a cheering Brooklyn audience tonight that "Any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

"I understand there has been a whispering campaign against me because one of my parents was born abroad," the republican presidential nominee declared, adding:

"I tell all of you that I denounce such base, such cowardly insinuations. I want you to vote for me on the basis of what I represent and advocate and not in the basis of a whispering campaign and not on the public statements of any official, no matter how high, that he would do more than Wendell Wilkie would to defend American democracy."

Intolerance Works
Both Ways, Warns
Speaking in a Brooklyn high school auditorium, the republican presidential nominee appealed for the protection of civil liberties and said they should be guarded "without prejudice from any source."

He asserted that in setting up any governmental machinery which deprives "those you hate of their rights, you are setting up machinery which tomorrow will deprive those you love of their rights."

Saying he wanted to keep the country "completely tolerant of the various groups within it," the candidate added that unless this was done democracy would pass away.

"The changing cycle of public opinion," he said, "which today are unpopular tomorrow," he said.

"If we cannot keep this country completely tolerant in its viewpoint of the different groups within it, then this precious way of life will pass."

The crowd inside Edward B. Shallow high school, the first of five stops by Wilkie in a whirlwind speaking tour of Brooklyn, democratic stronghold, gave the candidate a loud ovation with noise-makers and horns.

Wilkie began by saying that if in this campaign he had been seeking only applause, he would not have asked to visit strong democratic sectors.

"This campaign is a struggle of (Turn to page 2, col. 5)

Vulnerable Spot Target of Nazis

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Germany and Italy are making ready to strike new blows at Britain in some especially "vulnerable spot," Nazi informants indicated today amid a great deal of talk that the eastern Mediterranean may now become a decisive battleground.

Emphasized was the notion that Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini had reached momentous war decisions in the Brenner pass yesterday and that soon they would act.

It was a meeting said one authorized person, whose subject was not peace but victory—a "war and diplomatic council."

"England," he observed, "is vulnerable in many places. And certainly will be struck somewhere. Naturally, we cannot tell you where."

War Bulletins

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(Sunday)—(AP)—The air ministry announced today that British aircraft last night attacked "oil plants and railway yards and other industrial targets in Germany. A concentration of barges and shipping in Holland and air-dromes in Holland."

Italian Island Base Is Shelled; Gateways to Egypt Bombed

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 6.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A British naval unit today was credited with shelling an Italian Dodecanese island naval base, hurling big shells into the hilly island of Stampalia.

Air bases on the island also were shelled, a British naval communique reported.

The British reported that a force of cruisers and destroyers swept close to the island, taking the enemy by surprise.

The attack was said to have taken place shortly after midnight, October 2.

CAIRO, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The royal air force middle east command announced tonight simultaneous heavy bomb blows on Italy's three main gateways to the Egyptian arena—Benhasni, Tobruk and Bardia.

These western Libyan ports, into which Italy has been pouring additional men and supplies for the expected big push toward the Nile and Suez, all suffered heavy damage to shipping and warehouses, the British said.

Widespread raids also were carried out against Italian east Africa.

Heart on Outside Of Infant's Body

"Incredible" That Child Lived; Operation May Save Her, Belief

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A three-day-old girl, born with her heart outside her body, was under observation at Doernbecher children's hospital today.

Physicians said the child appeared to be perfectly healthy and was taking nourishment.

The heart, on the chest just to the right of the breast bone, is covered with a membrane thin enough so that pulsations may be easily observed.

The baby, born to an unnamed eastern Oregon woman, was brought here in an automobile by her father and an aunt. The child, the first born to the couple, weighed five pounds, eight ounces at birth.

A physician said it was "most incredible" that the child had survived (Turn to page 2, column 8)

Feeding Captive Nations Opposed

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A statement expressing opposition to any proposal through which American aid would be enlisted to feed civilian populations in conquered countries was issued today over the names of a group of widely known citizens.

The statement was distributed by Ulric Bell, Washington correspondent for the Louisville Courier-Journal, and Francis P. Miller, formerly field secretary of the Foreign Policy association and now vice-chairman of the national policy committee, and organization director of the committee on foreign relations of the council on foreign relations. Bell said they were acting for citizens who operated as "an informal group."

At Same Time German Engineers and Some Troops Head for Libya; Rumor Says Spain May Join Axis Suddenly and Attack Gibraltar

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(Sunday)—(AP)—The German shortwave radio broadcast early today that "maybe" waves of German bombers now flying toward England would be followed "soon" by hundreds of thousands of troops now standing ready.

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Signs of an imminent axis offensive against both England and the British empire, dismissed at first as a smoke screen, were regarded by neutral and belligerent military observers alike here today as probably correct.

British sources have begun to credit what they first took as axis-inspired reports, that German forces on the North sea and English channel now have completed preparations for a smash at England and are only waiting the word "go."

Similar reports from the Mediterranean indicate the Italians also are set for a land drive across Egypt toward Alexandria and the Suez canal and down the valley of the Nile from Ethiopia.

Spain, which the axis has pictured as sticking to her non-belligerent role, is believed in these quarters to be ready to try to seize Gibraltar with air and sea aid from Italy and land aid from Germany.

(Dispatches from Algiers, Spain, said 2000 British troops landed today to strengthen the garrison of the "rock" sentinel of the western Mediterranean.)

Here are some of the reports many veteran foreign observers have added up to mean an axis offensive—perhaps in the coming week:

Issues Analyzed, Farm Union Meet

PUD Discussion, Reports on Program; Expansion of Flax Is Sought

MT. ANGEL, Oct. 5.—About 300 members attending the quarterly convention of the Marion county Farmers Union at an all-day session Saturday heard arguments for PUD, had measures on the November ballot explained and heard gratifying reports on the general progress of the organization.

Ronald Jones' explanation of the measures to be voted on was followed by considerable discussion.

State President Harley Libby likewise stressed the importance of the election and urged intelligent voting. He also recommended membership drives to secure members interested in the Farmers Union program.

Herman Latky, secretary of the Washington PUD association, explained the setup there in detail, outlining his belief in advantages the PUD would provide and answering arguments against the plan.

Other speakers were Jess Adams, chairman of Mid-Willamette Marketing association, who gave a review of the marketing setup and stated substantial savings had been secured farmers in marketing seeds, and Karl (Turn to page 2, column 7)

County Clerks Are to Hear Service Registration Facts

Machinery of the selective service program will begin to function more visibly in Oregon on Monday when county clerks from all parts of Oregon will gather in Salem to receive final instructions as to the part they will play in the registration of Oregon men between the ages of 21 and 35 on October 16.

Governor Charles A. Sprague will give the opening address, after which Colonel Elmer V. Wooten will explain the selective service law.

Election machinery of the state will be used in the registration operations.

Called to Man New Warships, Reason Listed

27,591 Are Included in Order; All Have Had Previous Training

"We Shall Be Ready" if Fight Is Forced Upon Nation Says Knox

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Secretary Knox ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform today after pointedly warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis that "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

The order applied to the entire organized and fleet reserves of the navy and marine corps. It will swell to 239,281 the number of officers and men on active duty, giving the seagoing forces a strength in personnel they have not possessed since the post-World war period.

A navy spokesman said the call for the reserves was necessary because the fleet construction program was five weeks to six months ahead of schedule and the training schools were unable temporarily to run out enough trainees to man the new ships.

The reservists called to duty have all received training which enables them to take their places aboard the ships immediately upon mobilization. They are specialists, consisting of specialists and men capable of being trained but who have not been required to drill, were not called out because the need was only for trained men.

The reservists will be notified individually, by mail in most cases, when and where to report. Says New Alliance Directed at US

Shortly before he issued his orders, the naval secretary said unequivocally in an address to graduates of the national police academy that the Japanese-German-Italian alliance "is directed at us," and that the United States would not be "intimidated." His remarks were widely interpreted as an admission of the "new" alliance.
