Election Revives Lincoln Memories

Lebanon Resident Honored on Birthday by Friends; Recalls Kerosene Lamp

LEBANON—The 85th birthday of Mrs. Anna Gamble, one of Lebanon county's oldest citizens, was observed by 25 friends who gathered at the B. T. Kamler home in Brownsville, Mrs. Gamble, who is alert and well, entertained the party with memories of stirring events.

She was born Annie Shafe, in Fairfield, Jefferson county, Iowa, in 1855. In 1876 she was married in Benton county, Ark., to Lt. L. B. Gamble who had served in Company C of the 3rd, Tennessee, and died in 1908, shortly after the family moved here.

The present election made her think of the first election which she could remember, that of Lincoln, impressed upon her youthful mind because a man in her town was killed during an argument.

Her brother joined the Union army and later, when captured, spent eight months in Andersonville prison, escaping with seven others just a few days before the surrender of General Robert E. Lee.

One of her most entertaining stories is of the first kerosene lamp with a glass chimney which her father brought home upon his return from a trip. While she refers to the three wars she has lived through, the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars, more of her memories are of the horse-back riding and other social pleasures of her girlhood.

WINTER WARNING

QUESTION "Will 'RPM' eliminate starter 'groan' this winter?"
ANSWER Yes! Because it's made to flow so fast, "RPM" in proper winter grade ends the hard-straining "Gr-r-r-r" that wears your starter—eliminates slow-motion engine turn-over that drags down your battery. "RPM" goes into action right now!
