

Contract Let, South Highway

New Route to Be Graded on Sexton Mountain; Other Work Given

PORTLAND, Nov. 12.—(P)—The state highway commission awarded one contract today on the $10,000,000 job of straightening the Pacific highway between Eugene and Grants Pass and another award completing the coast highway.

McNutt Brothers, Eugene, won a $236,390 contract for 1.91 miles of grading on a new route in the Sexton mountain section of the Pacific highway.

Rogers construction company, Dayton, Wash., was awarded a $110,197 contract for paving the Hug Point-Mazanita section of the coast highway around Neah-Kah-Nie mountain.

The commission, with chairman Henry F. Cabell absent, opened bids on ten contracts, awarded six, and heard objections from Cottage Grove officials over commission action in barricading several streets marked for vacation.

Paving Road Opening
Commissioners also considered a petition by the Eugene Junior Chamber of Commerce requesting that the McKenzie highway be kept open to the McKenzie bridge winter sports center throughout the winter, as it was last year under milder snow conditions.

The commission awarded six contracts totaling $95,496, rejected all bids on three projects and referred one bid to the state engineer with power to award the contract to the low bidder.

Contracts awarded included:
Benton county—Alsea highway rock production project, F. C. Dillard, Eugene, $11,920.

Paving Job Given
Tillamook—Macadam surfacing of 9.07 miles, Mazanita-Hug Point section, coast highway, around Neahkahnie mountain, Rogers Construction company, Dayton, Wash., $110,197.

Josephine—Grading 1.91 miles, Sexton Mountain section of Pacific highway, McNutt Bros., of Eugene, $236,390.

Lane—Roadside improvement .80 of a mile Cottage Grove section of Pacific highway, E. L. Gates, Trull, $2811.

Lincoln—Construction bridge on Eddyville-Blodgett secondary highway, J. F. Johnston, Newberg, $14,032.

Union—Rock production project on Wallowa lake and Old Oregon Trail highways, D. C. and A. L. Williams, Condon, $10,236.

Reject All Bids on Some
Projects on which all bids were rejected and the low bidders included:

Grant—Grading, surfacing and filling 4.3 miles east John Dixie summit-Austin section of John Day highway, Leonard & Slate, Multnomah, $115,531.

Grant—Constructing Goose Rock bridge section of John Day highway, C. J. Eldon, Portland, $44,651.

Lake—Grading, surfacing and filling 4.3 miles and constructing two trestle bridges on Forest boundary-Cottonwood creek section of Klamath Falls highway, Jacobson-Jensen company, Portland, $137,173.

The Jacobsen-Jensen company's low bid of $88,792 for grading and surfacing 3.55 miles of the Barbur boulevard-Boones Ferry road section of the West Portland-Hubbard highway was referred to the engineer with the power to award.

Labor Board Case Reversal Ordered relief agency would be "in the nature of penalties" beyond the scope of the law.

Justice Black and Douglas dissented. Justice Roberts did not participate in the case.

In another labor decision, the court affirmed the board's right to certify a CIO union as collective bargaining agents over a longer-established AFL union which claimed to represent a majority of certain employees of the Serrick corporation of Muncie, Ind. The board said that the company had discriminated in favor of the AFL union and indirectly assisted its organization.

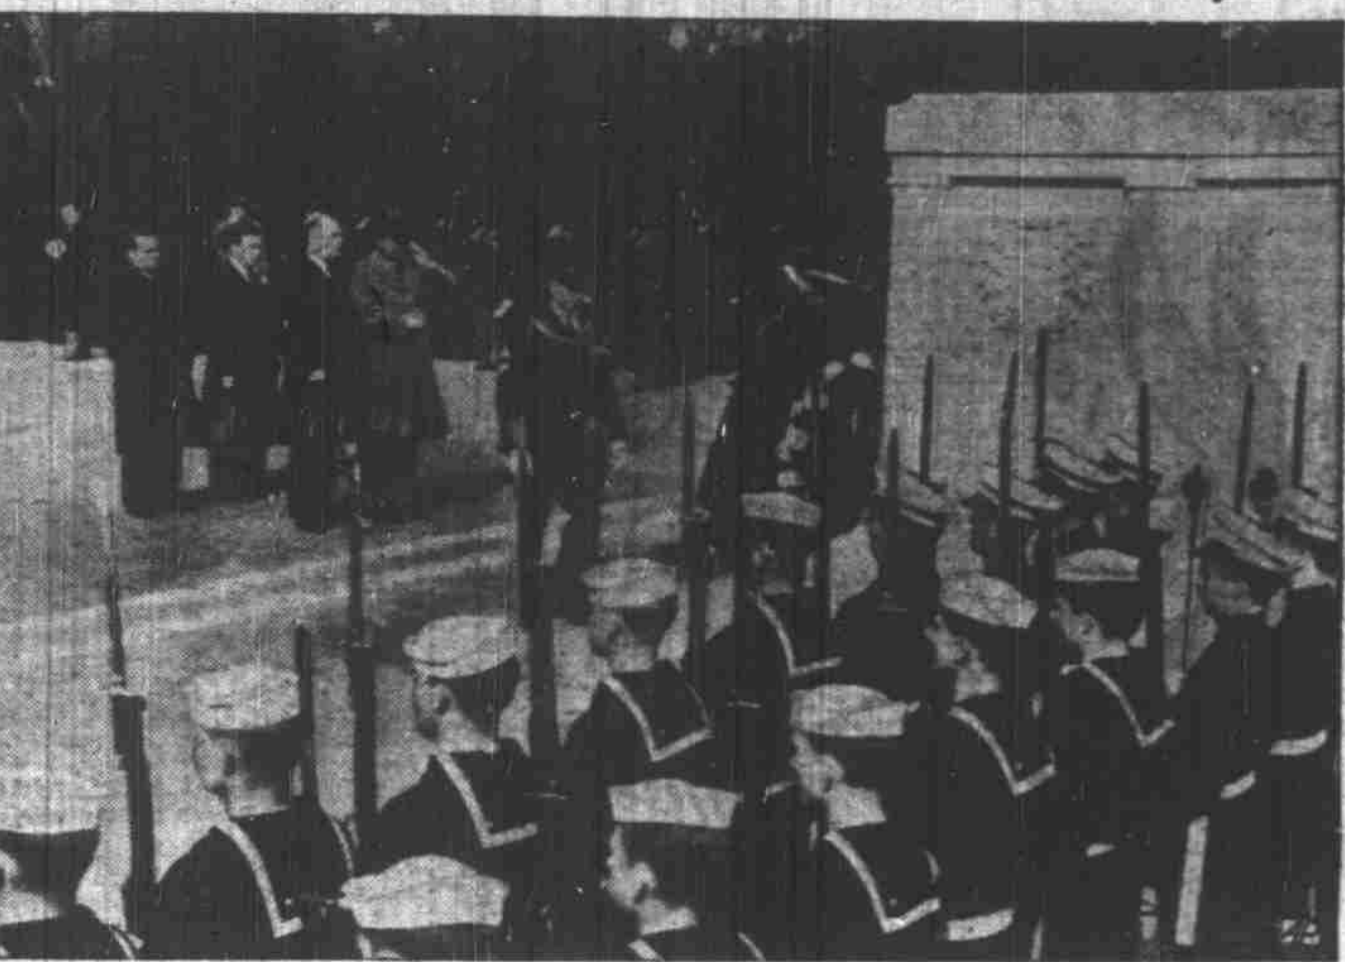

Five members of Jehovah's Witnesses gained a review of their conviction, with 6 other members, of violating a New Hampshire law barring street parades without a license. They contended the statute unconstitutionally deprived them of the right of free assembly.

Thanksgiving Set For November 21

schools and churches and libraries remain free; the arts flourish. Age is respected; youth is privileged; those who toil are protected. A sharp political campaign has ended on a somber note of unity as a vigilant citizenship sets guards to preserve the nation's security.

Our prayers of thanksgiving for these manifold benefits should be joined with petitions for grace to sustain us. Let not our prosperity be dissipated with indulgence; and may sympathy with suffering kinfolk in motherlands drive out the vice of arrogance. Above all, let us not forsake old standards of justice and righteousness and brotherhood. They must remain the constant goals of humankind.

Air Corps Has Crack Sailors

There are sailors in the Army Air Corps, and good ones, too. At least a crew of nautical minded soldiers at Hamilton Field on San Francisco bay's Marine shore, say that in their specialized function of marine rescue work they will match skill with the saltiest of the navy's tars. Pictured is an air corps "crash boat" showing unusual bow design. When power is shut off forward sections act as a brake in slowing down the craft as it approaches a plane downed in water.—H.N. photo.
