Date Told at Dinner

The Christmas season is always a festive occasion and particularly so when romance is a highlight of the holidays. One of Salem's popular young maids to reveal her betrothal and forthcoming marriage to take place during the holidays is Miss Edith Morehouse, daughter of Mrs. W. G. Morehouse, who will be married on December 27 to Mr. Robert Gebert, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Gebert of Longview, Wash.

The interesting news was revealed to members of the family on Thanksgiving day at a dinner for which the bride-elect's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kaufman, were hosts at their Portland home.

but . . . ever try to call the police department for information? The directory says, "Dial O, and say you want a policeman." But as you only want information, you look under "Salem" and find only the Chief's number is listed, but not the police office. Now you don't want the chief, so you look under "City" and it refers you to "Salem, city of" and that's where you started. So you look up "Police" and get your number (which turns out to be the same number as the Chief.) When you finally hear the voice at 3155, he answers your question by turning you over to the desk sergeant and he in turn gives you the chief ( . . and the chief can't answer the question anyway.
