Conviction for Larceny Upheld

County Is Sentenced to Four Years

The Oregon state supreme court yesterday upheld the conviction to a four-year prison sentence of Myrtle A. Garnet, $1, tried in Curry county for the larceny of seven three-year-old Hereford steers, owned by Ellis 8. Dement.

Mrs. Garner was charged with hiring two men to round up the steers, which were sold in Portland to a meat packing firm. The two men, who were not convicted, testified that they took the cattle under the impression they belonged to Mrs. Garner.

Affirming a Josephine county fectiveness. decision, the court held that Edward A. Cox was not entitled to a decree that Owen A. Thomas and R. S.
