Emaciated British Seamen Tell Horrors Of 18 Days in Open Boat After Sinking Of Ship by Italo Sub in Cold Atlantic

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 20—(AP)—Four emaciated British seamen told Monday night of the agonized deaths of 12 lifeboat mates by exposure—some driven mad from drinking salt water—in the 18 days they tossed on the frigid North Atlantic after an Italian submarine torpedoed the 1562-ton British freighter Carlton.

Eighteen other men from the Carlton, they said, had put out in another lifeboat and have not been heard from.

One by one, they said, the men in their lifeboat died as winter winds and icy spray lashed them day after day.

Drinking salt water hurried the end for some. Those who reached here Monday aboard a British freighter said their companions died in agony.

The four were rushed to a hospital. Two of them had badly frozen feet, and all were suffering from extreme exposure.

They said the Carlton, bound from Britain for South America, put up a gallant fight with nothing but a Hotchkiss machine gun.

The cook went mad, the survivors stated, and pulled the plugs from the bottom of the boat, allowing the sea to pour in. Then he leaped overboard. His mates pulled him back into the boat, while others rammed the plugs back in place. He died shortly afterward.

The men said the single torpedo struck the Carlton amidships. She sank within six minutes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20—(AP)—Tossed helplessly about by a gale, the Greek steamer Agi Thalassini radioed for help Monday, Globe wireless stations in San Francisco and Manila reported.

The Manila Globe office reported that the storm had broken the freighter's helm and partly flooded the 2502-ton craft, which carried a crew of 29 of which 10 were Americans who signed on here.

American crewmen were listed as Earl Freeman and Eustace Jacobus, firemen; Robert R. Shields, mess boy; Louis Davarich, Bob Welchman, Kenneth Nysson and Richard Whitley, sailors; John Leery, John Thompson and Michael Simmons, trimmers.

The ship's cargo consisted principally of copper, loaded at New Orleans for Japan.

The Agi Thalassini was about midway between Wake Island and Japan on her way from San Francisco to Yokohama.

The President Cleveland, also bound from San Francisco to Yokohama, was about 800 miles away when she relayed the distress call to Globe. The Greek craft's antenna was down so she could not hear the liner's answer to her SOS.

activities. About 2000 college students are similarly employed in the 24 colleges of the state.

More than 50 students have been employed on the NYA school work program at Salem high school, Principal Fred Wolf reports.

Students on the NYA program are employed during their spare time under supervision of school officials. To qualify for such work, the youth must give evidence of need, satisfactory scholarship and good work habits.

Employment is given on practical and useful projects such as cafeteria work, office assistance, library, mimeographing and teacher assistance. The earnings vary from $2 to $6 per month, and the money is used to enable the student to continue properly in school. Job training and self reliance are important results of the NYA employment.

Approximately 4000 students in 217 Oregon high schools are employed on the school work program. Many of the youths are leaders in scholarship and school

"Golgotha" Is Church Movie

Salem to See Northwest Premiere of Film, Sunday, Feb. 2

To Salem will go the honor of the Oregon premiere of "Golgotha," the devout presentation of the "Passion Play" in motion pictures, when it is presented at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, February 2. Arrangements for the showing have been made through George Lee Marks, who is directing the northwest tour of the picture.

"Golgotha" was produced by non-theatrical interests, under strict supervision of church authorities, and has been acclaimed by critics as "the greatest achievement ever accomplished in the filming of the story of Christ." Produced at a cost of nearly $1,000,000, it contains a cast of thousands, is an all-talking production and has been highly endorsed by prominent religious leaders.

The Presbyterian church is so enthusiastic over the production that three separate showings are being arranged, despite the fact that the church auditorium will seat more than 700 persons. The first showing will take place at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon, February 2, the second at 5 o'clock and the third screening at 7:30 p. m. The public will be invited to attend, and it is hoped that the three showings will accommodate most of those who will want to see the fervently religious screen masterpiece.

The motion picture industry's leading paper, "The Film Daily," in commenting on "Golgotha" called it "one of the greatest and most important productions since the birth of the motion picture... breath-taking... all inspiring." Because similar comment follows every showing of the picture, the Presbyterian church believes that the presentation of this film will be a fitting prelude to the coming Lenten season.

Auto "prowling" in Salem over the weekend resulted in the loss of not only license plates, but clothing and even the top and windshield of a car, city police said Monday.

William Neimeyer reported his license tags taken from his car Saturday while parked at the rear of his drug store, 175 North Commercial street. Jeff O. Robertson's plates were stolen while the car was at his home, 245 Division street.

Two blankets, two pairs of glasses and two pairs of gloves were taken from the auto of Arthur Rieck, 2337 South Commercial street, while parked in the 200 block on South High street. George Casney, 1168 North 15th street, reported a raincoat, sport coat, sweater and fraternal pin stolen from his auto

Cafe Remodeling Started by Owner

Extensive remodeling of the Blue Bird cafe, 624 State street, began Monday, Ralph B. Nollgren, proprietor, reports. A building permit gave the estimated cost at $750.
