

Mt. Angel Boy Dies, Salem

MT. ANGEL—Funeral services for Everett Leroy Mendenhall, 21, who died at a sanitarium in Salem, February 17, were held from the Unger funeral parlors here

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was in the Pioneer cemetery. Pallbearers were Lee Schindler, P. Englehardt, Francis Schindler, Bob Kuschnick, Carl Prantl and Bud Stravens. The deceased was born August 8, 1919, at Gervais, Oregon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mendenhall. Besides his parents, two brothers, James and Lloyd, both at home, and five sisters survive him. Sisters are Mrs. Clarence Cleveland, Fort Angeles, Wash.; Mrs. Huston Summers, Tokeland, Wash.; Mrs. John Lutz, Mrs. A. L. Kostenborder and Mrs. Carl Johnson, all of Gervais. Also surviving is an aunt, Mrs. Myrtle Terry, Salem.

Dallas Stores To Try Hours

Merchants Arrange For Uniform Opening

DALLAS—A meeting of retail merchants of Dallas was held Monday night in the city hall to discuss plans for uniform opening and closing hours for retail business houses here. The group decided to open at 8 o'clock and close at 6 p. m. on week days except Saturday, when stores will stay open until 8 p. m. This will be done for a trial period of six weeks.

Another meeting of the group is scheduled for March 24. The committee in charge of this includes E. A. Wagner, J. A. Ingalls, and A. J. Kracher.

DALLAS—A meeting of the Dallas city council was held Monday night at which time a public hearing on the proposed sewer improvement on Howe and Washington streets was held. No objections were present to voice disapproval of the estimated costs for the project, so the improvement will be made. WPA funds are already allotted for the work.

An ordinance providing for the vacation of certain parts of streets lying within the Willamette Valley Lumber Co. plant was read for the first time. The ordinance will be up for final reading at the next council meeting. The streets designated have not been used for many years and will provide more land for the lumber company's new buildings.

DALLAS—Between 60 and 70 ex-service men met at the Dallas armory Monday night to fill out blanks showing specialized qualifications, as part of the American Legion's preparedness program. Clyde Gibbs, commander of the Carl E. Fenton post of the American Legion, was in charge.

Council Hits Bike Riders

Woodburn Cyclists May Face City Ordinance

WOODBURN—Woodburn city council met for a short business session Tuesday night to consider the problem of bicycle riding on Woodburn streets and sidewalks and an ordinance to regulate such will be prepared. The matter of improving Hardcastle avenue brought up by Councilman Matson, who wanted to know the city would establish a new grade, provided property owners are willing to go ahead with the rest of the project.

WOODBURN—The Woodburn fire department has answered four calls in the last week.

February 14, fire in roof of the old Mosberger house on Gatch and Cleveland streets. Started by sparks from chimney. February 18, fire in roof of Fred Hall's house on Gatch and Young streets. Started by sparks from chimney. Night of February 18, George E. Vari house, Blaine and A streets. This fire was too far gone and the house burned to the ground. Night of February 18, chimney fire at apartment house, 961 Corby street. The fire of the Vari house was the only one not extinguished before becoming serious.

Patriotic Motif Adorns Tea Table of West Salem Women

WEST SALEM—The Woman's Society of Christian Service sponsored a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Forster Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Phil Hathaway led devotionals, and Mrs. G. E. Ross gave a talk on her work with migrants in Independence hop yards. Rev. Don Huckabee played a piano solo, followed by a talk on Mexico by Mrs. Lillian Williams, who displayed articles she had purchased in Mexico. Also displayed were a 30-year-old shawl purchased at Vera Cruz by Mrs.

Ross Darnell and a tortoise shell comb belonging to Mrs. Darnell. The tea table was decorated with red, white and blue flowers, arranged in a circular vase on a mirror. A small statue of George Washington riding a horse, and an American flag completed decorations. Many of the dishes used for serving had pictures painted on them connected with the life of Washington. They belong to Mrs. Williams. Mrs. Arthur Brown poured during the tea hour.

Hostesses were Mrs. G. E. Vought, Mrs. Lillian Williams, Mrs. Verne Avelson, Mrs. Ed Engelhorn, Mrs. Fred Gibson and Mrs. Forster.

Residents Say Reports False

KEIZER—Citizens of this community Monday hastened to deny reports circulated in Portland papers last weekend to the effect that the old Keizer school is on the verge of being torn down and the land on which it stands returned to the original owners.

They pointed out that the land was originally deeded permanently on the single condition that it be used for educational purposes, and that the old building, which last year was supplemented by a new structure built by WPA, is still in use. No plans have been made to raze it, they indicated.

WEST SALEM—Mrs. C. H. Willis of Salem entertained the Laurel Social Hour club Tuesday at an all-day meeting with a no-host luncheon.

The club voted to send $1 to the Polk county infantile paralysis fund.

Mrs. Everett Lisle and Mrs. T. R. Peterson joined the club and Mrs. Collins was a guest.

Mrs. Bernard Benson will be hostess at the next meeting, on March 4.

WEST SALEM—Mrs. Elsie Dierks of Salem entertained a group of friends with a luncheon Tuesday noon. Bidden were Representative and Mrs. Lyle D. Thomas of West Salem, Mrs. C. E. Boyer, of Junction, Alaska and Mrs. Bernard Dierks of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Richardson returned the first of the week from San Francisco where Richardson was in the Southern Pacific hospital for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and family left Tuesday for a visit with Mrs. Thompson's father at Broken Bow, Nebraska.

Finger Lost By Mill Man

SILVERTON—Evan John of Scotts Mills, 21, is at the Silverton hospital with the end of his index finger on the right hand cut off. The accident occurred in a mill. G. Price also lost the tip of his one finger this week in an accident in his planer mill.

Dallas Men Miss Death as Car Turns Turtle

DALLAS—Occupants of a car, driver not disclosed, narrowly missed death Thursday morning at 1 o'clock when the machine in which Victor Brant and Fay Adkins of Dallas and Willard Diehm of Monmouth turned turtle near the Ferris mill on the Falls City road. The car became out of control when striking loose gravel. It was completely demolished. All three were brought to the Dallas hospital.

Brant was most seriously injured, suffering bruises and possible internal injuries. Adkins was confined to the hospital for a few hours observation. Diehm was treated for minor cuts and bruises and released.
