

Mining Activity on Santiam River Is Steadily Growing

SCIO—A $150 nugget reported turned up in tractor dredging operations on the Little North Fork of the Santiam river, about 25 miles east of Scio, during the early part of the winter, is the inspiration for more extended work in that region, according to Cyrus Peery of near Scio.

Peery has been identified with mining in the Elkhorn district on the upper Santiam for several years, succeeding his father, the late Bob Peery, as secretary-manager of the Crown mining company, one of the early operators on the Little North Fork.

The Crown company has been engaged primarily in quartz operations, having driven a tunnel some distance in the mountain slope to reach ore previously encountered in a 100-foot shaft. The company, inactive at the mine during the winter on account of snow, plans active work as soon as practicable, Peery reported here.

Placer mining approaching profitable proportions, is in its infancy in the Elkhorn district, according to many who have kept in touch with developments there. It promises to grow in volume and results in the opinion of mining men.

Tractors for dredging work is a new slant in mining in the upper North Santiam area, and interest in placer mining has been intensified by reports of discovery of nuggets and fine gold in stream beds.

SCIO—A check for $10, second prize money, was received this week by Jim Kerr, 15-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kerr, Scio farmers, in his contest story "Scotch vs. Scotch." The young man is enrolled in Central junior high at Albany. The contest was sponsored by Viking Press, Inc., New York.

High wind, hail, rain and lightning caused some damage in a narrow strip of country near Scio Saturday afternoon. Tree fruits and tender gardens suffered some.

Mr. and Mrs. John Corser, Hillsboro, visited at the W. H. Dennison home in Scio Tuesday, Mr. Corser being the honored guest at a birthday dinner in the evening. Others in attendance included Miss Florence Dennison, North Albany teacher; Miss Eva Corser, Aumsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Den Herder, Albany.

A daughter, 7½ pounds, christened Doris Anene, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Boone Brown at the farm home near Scio April 2. There are two sons and another daughter in the family.

Word reached Scio this week that Gordon Brown, son of Boone Brown of Scio, has recently been assigned to the medical corps at Camp Grant, Ill.

SCIO—Sponsoring civic programs at the Scio school grounds and entrances to the city, the local garden club has requested advice from the state highway commission as to placing Port Orford cedars at principal entrances to the city. Shrubs have been donated by Mrs. J. Branson of Scio. Scio Rebekah lodge, the Pythian Sisters and the Masonic unit are among cash donors for programs inaugurated by the club which held its monthly meeting this week with Mrs. M. D. Zander.

SCIO—Several Scio members plan to attend the semi-annual district convention of the Odd Fellows convention of the Scio district to be held at Crawfordsville in late April. The district includes Linn and parts of Marion and Benton counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Monroe, visited their mother, Mrs. Cora Miller, Scio, a few days ago. The two families, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McDonald, Scio, visited the Vincent McDonald family and Allen McDonald at Washougal and took in Bonneville enroute.

Six volunteers and five draftees are called from Linn county for April 4 and 7. The volunteers include Edwin J. Burnett, Ira G. Walls, Michael J. Patapoff, Darrel E. Huber, Lloyd D. Kennell, Garold W. Foltz; draftees are Levi D. Crow, Raymond J. McGowan, Roy B. Sloan, Neil R. Willis, Ralph P. McKern.

Mrs. Joy Kelly, near Scio, new worthy matron of the Jefferson chapter of the Eastern Star, is to preside at the regular April meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Lillie Wilson, Scio route 3, is the junior matron of the lodge. Several Scioans have memberships at Jefferson.

SCIO—Councilman M. B. Cyrus is to preside at the regular monthly meeting of the aldermen April 7. Purchase or lease of a site for depositing city rubbish is to have further attention of the council. Mayor Withers, member of the council for the 4-year period ended December 31, is touring the east and south with Mrs. Withers.

Revival of Boy Scout activities at Scio is sought in the sponsorship of the movement by the local Masonic lodge. M. D. Zander, scoutmaster for the last few years and master of the lodge, has enlisted the aid of Executive Secretary Ruddiman, Salem, to assist in getting the work on its feet.

SCIO—Farm union members in large numbers in the Scio community plan to attend the second quarterly county convention of farm unions at Dever on April 12. Mrs. Alice Sprague of the Riverview union near Scio is county secretary. Dever union is located near Albany.

Anton Benes, Scio farmer and dairyman, is expected home soon from Tucson, Ariz., where the family spent the winter. Benes has been in declining health since his World War service overseas and the annual visit to the southwest is made for the benefit of his health. The little daughter attends school here.

Church Board Asks Money

SILVERTON—Amos Corhouse, chairman of Trinity church board of directors appeared before the Aid society Wednesday in a plea for assistance to build the proposed new parsonage. The society, of which Mrs. C. J. Dahlen is president, voted to donate $100 a year until the needed amount was reached. Members had individually pledged better than $3000, Mr. Corhouse stated. It was expected that other societies within the church body would try to match the donation of the Aid society so that the building could proceed in the near future.

The society also voted to hold its annual May 17 festival in observance of the former Norwegian Independence day and to serve coffee at the Melby sale, to be held soon.
