Arrangements for Radio Broadcast and New Clubs to Be Made

DALLAS—The next meeting of the Polk county 4H Leaders' association will be held at the Rickreall grange hall Saturday, April 19, beginning with a covered dish dinner at noon, according to County Agent W. C. Leth.

Mrs. Mary Adams, Rickreall, president of the county association, has invited the Rickreall community to hold this meeting.

Plans are to be made for completing the clubwork that is carried on in the schools by the time school is out next month and also to make more complete and definite arrangements for the Polk county 4H club broadcast over radio station KOAC on April 28. County Agent Leth states that it is approaching the time for the closing date for the new livestock and crops clubs to be formed. Blanks will be available at this meeting for starting any new clubs.

DALLAS—Orders for approximately 700 mattresses have been filed with the Polk county agent's office under the mattress program for the county.

Cotton for these mattresses has been ordered and it is expected that those filing applications will be able to start making them early in May.

It was originally estimated that approximately 300 rural people in this county would apply for the mattress making program but, according to County Agent Leth, more than twice that many applications were received. The closing date for making application was last Saturday, however, if there are any others who wish to file application in case it is possible to accept additional ones later on, they should file their names and addresses at the county agent's office.

Benefit Plays Are Scheduled

UNION HILL—The Union Hill school is giving a benefit program of five plays readings and songs and a pie social Friday night at the Union Hill Grange hall.

Money will be used for 4H scholarships to summer school at Corvallis in June. The 4H achievement night will be in connection with the program and pie social.

Airline Mileage Records up

Domestic airlines last year established a high record when they carried a total of 2,727,280 passengers, an increase of 58 per cent over 1939. Moreover, a continued high level of airplane passenger travel is indicated for this year: Fares during 1940 were maintained at an average of around 5 cents per mile. Number of passengers carried last year by each of the major lines is indicated on graph.

Farmers Union News

Only one-third of the members of Roberts Farmers Union earn their entire living by farming, but two-thirds would prefer to devote all their time to farming. These facts were brought out in a discussion at the meeting of Roberts Farmers Union Tuesday.

Guest speaker was Ralph Beck, extension specialist in land use planning from Oregon State college. Prior to the main talk, in a discussion led by Philip Isely, the 25 people present listed the problems which they had as part-time farmers, including small size of farm, improper equipment, and difficulty in marketing.

To meet these problems, Mr. Beck suggested that small farmers might cooperate. He suggested that tractors and other equipment could be owned and used cooperatively, even to the point of taking down the fences between farms and combining fields.

Part-time farming, Mr. Beck said, was a good arrangement providing the individual had steady work which fitted in with farming. But he emphasized that part-time farms should not be used as a place to "dump" extra labor whenever it wasn't needed in industry. Under these conditions, "the city is asking agriculture to subsidize industry."

Music was furnished by pupils from Roberts school, under Mrs. A. L. Girod. Leta Jean Bruce played the accordion, followed with a duet sung by Robert and Opal Howland, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Girod.

Programs for May and June meetings will be in charge of the education and good-of-the-order committees.

Polk Sheep Men Elect

Plans Made for Annual Lamb Show, Monmouth, to Be Held May 10

MONMOUTH—At a meeting of Polk county sheep men here Monday night, J. B. Lorence, William Riddell and Jack Stump were re-elected to take charge of the annual lamb show in Monmouth, to be held May 10. Lorence is committee chairman. The commercial club will work with the committee on the show.

Ronald Hogg, Eola, Homer Link and James Lewis, Airlie, and James Riddell, Monmouth, will donate mutton lambs to be butchered and packaged as prizes to be awarded to spectators at the lamb show. This is a feature of each year's procedure.

More attention will be given to classes for 4H and Future Farmer exhibits at the show.

Doctors Shaw and Muth of the veterinary department, Oregon State college, presented moving pictures of "stiff" lambs. Dr. Shaw stated that there are many causes for stiff lambs, the most common being an abscess which forms under the scab after tail docking. After removing the scab and thoroughly disinfecting the abscess, the lamb usually recovered, rapidly, he said. Navel infection was given as another common cause, occurring mostly from unclean lambing pens and sheds. He recommended the same treatment.

In eastern Oregon, lameness is caused sometimes by pasturing on green alfalfa, and by transfer of the lambs from green alfalfa to dry alfalfa hay the lameness would disappear in a few days. This condition made it necessary for sheep men to give up the idea of continuous pasturing on green alfalfa.

Dr. Shaw stated that liver fluke is well under control in Oregon. He said the lung worm does no particular damage unless the animal is in a decrepit condition from other causes.

He mentioned that salesmen are going through the country selling a certain worm capsule guaranteed to rid lambs of stomach worms. After giving these capsules a thorough test he found they do not do the work as stated.

Stomach worms affecting sheep in the eastern part of the United States are of a different type than those found in the Oregon sheep, and the capsules, manufactured by an eastern firm, are of no benefit to Oregon sheep producers.

W. C. Leth, Polk county agent, arranged the program.
