Judge Martin Gets Backing

City Recorder Hannah Martin received Monday further backing for her contention that Marion county should remit to the city all fines in cases of appeals to the circuit court on convictions on municipal ordinances.

A letter to the recorder from Deputy City Attorney David Sandduburg of Portland cited the case of Portland vs. White in 1932 when the court held the city is entitled to the entire fine on appeals of convictions on city traffic ordinances.

The letter also quoted an opinion of Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle, made December 31, 1940, that in cases where arrests are made by state officers within the city limits the fines are divided between city and county in the manner set forth in the Oregon code of laws.

All arrests made by state officers in Salem are tried in justice court.

Permit Issued To Transport Boat on Road

Permit to transport the boat, "Norwind," over the Pacific and Siuslaw highways from Eugene to Mapleton, was issued by the state highway commission Monday.

The permit was issued subject to satisfactory bridge clearances and that traffic be adequately protected. The boat is 46 feet long, 12 feet wide and approximately 13 feet 8 inches high when loaded. Highway commission officials said some of the bridges on the Siuslaw highway would provide only a few inches clearance based on figures received from the owner of the craft.

Transportation of the boat will get under way early Tuesday following appropriate ceremonies under the direction of the Eugene chamber of commerce and American Legion. The distance from Eugene to Mapleton, located up the Siuslaw river a few miles from Florence, is 60 miles.

Chimney Flares—Firemen were called to 655 North Commercial street Monday to extinguish a chimney fire.

Mystery Surrounds County Grand Jury Investigations; Officials Refuse Comment

Several Portland Residents Seen Closeted but Identities Undisclosed; Rumor Has Some Legislative Action Under Probe

Official sources remained silent Monday as to the nature of the Marion county grand jury's current investigation for which the services of a court reporter have been retained and about which no official comment was made last week.

Several individuals, Portland residents, were seen to go into the jury room Monday, but their identities or interest in the matters under investigation was not disclosed. Talbot Bennett, deputy district attorney under whose direction the jury session is proceeding, remained silent as to its meaning, and refused to elaborate on names of witnesses or the nature of their testimony.

Courthouse circles believed that the investigation would continue for at least a week and a half, and perhaps longer. In the interim petition for the services of a court reporter, signed by Bennett and approved by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahan, it was stated that "many witnesses" would be called.

According to rumor, the investigation is connected with events of the last legislative session, an opinion which the presence of Portland witnesses might confirm.

Upon completion of training for defense industry a physical examination is given before they are assigned to an industry.

Several Hurt In Collisions

Mrs. W. V. Jarmin, 42, Portland, was reported resting easily at the Salem General hospital Monday after she received a doubly fractured hip and a broken shoulder in a collision Sunday between a car driven by her husband and one driven by Mrs. Percy R. Kelly, 292 South 17th street, at D and Park streets.

Jarmin received a bruised thigh. Treatment for forehead cuts and bruises and shoulder injuries was given by Salem first aid men to Leona Bartell, 18, 1355 Cross street, Sunday. She was injured in a collision at Capitol and Center streets between cars driven by Edgar J. Hyder, Chemawa, and Lloyd I. Tresham, Astoria.

Mrs. Frederick H. Dickson, Albany, received bad bruises when a car driven by her husband and one driven by Wesley M. Brown, route one, were in collision at 12th and State streets Sunday. Brown's car, travelling 56 feet after the collision, broke off a railroad warning sign, a fire hydrant and a power line guy pole.

Life Sentence Is Commuted

Louis Stevens, Union county, serving a life term in the state penitentiary here for second-degree murder became eligible for parole here Monday under a commutation of sentence issued by Governor Charles A. Sprague. His sentence was reduced to 21 years.

Stevens was received at the penitentiary October 1, 1933. The commutation was recommended by the state parole board. Officials said Stevens would be paroled within the next few days so that he may leave the state to accept steady employment.

DAD ought to know. Look at the wall behind him—his personal military history. Photo of the troop. Dad by himself, very proud in his old-style choker-collared blouse. And his decorations—the Order of the Purple Heart, Victory Medal, Croix de Guerre with palm.

"You savvy quick, soldier," he says to his son as that chip off the old block in the new uniform proffers Camels. "These were practically 'regulation' cigarettes with the army men I knew. Lots of other things have changed, but not a soldier's 'smokin'."

Right! Today, and for more than 20 years, reports from Army Post Exchanges show that Camels are the favorite. And in Navy canteens, too, Camels are preferred.

Just seems that Camels click with more people than any other cigarette—whether they're wearing O.D., blues, or civvies. You'll savvy, too—and quick—with your first puff of a slower-burning Camel with its extra mildness, extra coolness, and extra flavor, why it's the "front-line" cigaretlet!
