The good right hand of Terrible Tony Kahut may be of a great deal more use to him in his championship chase with "Mitah Tunah' tonight than it was against Powder Kid Proctor a month or so back. Especially is this true now that the Woodburn belter has shortened his power punch and isn't telegraphing it in the too evident "hereit-comes" manner he formerly employed.

In the main, however, the same premise holds in his battle with Turner that proved so true against Proctor: Tony can't afford to let Leo get in close to him. The dusky one is pure dynamite at inside punching, elbows or no

Which reminds yours sincerely: How come Hammerin' Henry Armstrong was able to win three championships with the stuff no one around here has yet allowed Turner to use?

As for the winner, how can you name other than Kahut? While Turner has the equipment to emerge the victor, the fact remains that Kahut has been steadily improving, has been fighting a better fight each time out and is always in tophole condition, while Turner hasn't fought a decent fight since he stopped Barlund and most certainly wasn't in shape when he fought Proctor. -0-

Russo Hurls 3-Hitter as Yanks

By JUDSON BAILEY

WASHINGTON, April 14-(P)-New York's Yankees, opening the 1941 major league campaign before President Roosevelt and 32,000 sweltering, shirt-sleeved fans, smothered the Washington measles. Senators 3 to 0 today on the three-hit hurling of Marius Russo, their sophomore southpaw star.

Except for the score it was one of the most perfect, colorful curtain-raisings that Washington folks, long inured to official time to be assured of his place pomp and ceremony, could remember.

The president arrived promptly 15 minutes before the game time, was greeted by "Hail to the Chief" from the army band and the cheers of the crowd. Then Vice-President Wallace raised the American flag on the center field pole and the president threw a new ball for his ninth pitch over a period dating back to 1917, when as assistant secretary of the navy he subbed for President Wilson.

An unknown rookie pitcher, Arnold Anderson of the Washington club, came off the ground with the ball after players of both teams had scrambled in front of the White House box to catch it.

The confusion of the sideshow had barely subsided before the Bronx bombers began their firing.

Red Rolfe, second man up for New York, slammed Emil "Dutch" Leonard's knuckle ball for a single into rightfield. Then the ever-reliable Joe DiMaggio drove a tremendous triple into the righteenter field corner to score the runner.

Yanks in 1939 but who was beaten in 6 out of 7 starts against them the past season, managed to set his enemies down in order for the next three stanzas. But in the fifth and sixth they broke loose again for their other runs. Six hits, all of which figured in the scoring, were all that Leonard The three hits Russo allowed were all singles and each in a different ining, so that he never

Batting out pars with machine-like precision, Jim Russell moved into the finals of the Salem city golf tournament Sunday by defeating John Creech 3 and 1. Russell was even par for the route and since his scoring method was more orthodox than that employed by Bob Utter in attaining a similar position with a slightly better medal on Saturday, there is little to choose between the finalists who will tee off Sunday over the 36-hole titular route. Utter has the advantage of more tournament experience.

Creech gave Russell a tough battle, touring the first nine in even par, but it wasn't good enough as Russell had a 35 and was 1 up at the turn. Creech's showing was all the more remarkable in that he had constant trouble with his woods, which threw a tremendous lead upon his iron game.
