

Witnesses Identified Testifying Before County Grand Jury on Asserted Milk Act Campaign

Marion county's current grand jury investigation of matters not yet made public but asserted in some quarters to concern Senator Thomas R. Mahoney's campaign against the state milk control act in the last legislature showed signs Wednesday temporarily.

Witnesses appearing before the investigating body included H. H. Stallard, J. D. Harris, Dan L. Hales, John J. Doyle, G. Maud Styles, M. J. Burke, Frank H. Sawyer, Iva Davis, Jean Barclay and Zola Vandorn, all of Portland.

Deputy District Attorney Talbot Bennett, who is directing the grand jury's investigation, again declined Wednesday to reveal the nature of the jury's work.

Bennett did indicate that no report would be made to the court this week, and left the question open whether a report would be made next week, if at all. District Attorney Miller B. Hayden has been absent from his office because of illness during the course of the investigation, which started last Monday.

Pomona Meet Brings Crowd

Grangers Hear County Agent, Program; Act on Resolutions

SILVERTON HILLS — Nearly 160 Pomona grange members gathered here Wednesday for an all-day session at which Robert Rieder, county agent, was one of the principal speakers.

According to Rieder, who reported for the agricultural committee, the outlook for strawberries is unusually good while the county prune crop will be 20 per cent below par. Three meetings were announced: Onion growers will meet Friday at Labish Center, livestock feeders at 10 a. m. and pea and vetch growers at 1:30 p. m. in Corvallis Saturday. Resolutions Acted Upon Silvertown Hills home economics club served luncheon, during which Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knauf and Ilie Murray, Silvertown Hills, Jessie Specht, Silvertown, and Lena Lambrecht, Stayton, were obligated. J. O. Farr, Ankeny grange, was named alternate delegate to the state convention at Newport in June.

Three of four resolutions presented to the assembly were adopted. The group voted down a resolution which would have endorsed a state sales tax and favored resolutions setting prices of commodities, stabilizing wheat prices and making arrangements for an insurance group for Marion county granges.

County Conclave Set
Marion county council is slated to meet May 7 at Fairfield grange. Memorial services were held for Rebecca Goodrich, Roberts, and Mary Ryan, Stayton, both of whom died since the last Pomona meeting.

Roy Wright, Roberts, served as master. Mrs. J. C. Krenz, Union Hill, arranged the lecturer's hour which included readings by Ella Williams, Stayton, and Otto Dahl, Silvertown; vocal solos, Mrs. Elsie Tate, Union Hill, and Patricia Maulding, Silvertown Hills, and a piano solo by Donna Fish, Silvertown.

Pomona grange will have its next meeting June 25 at Stayton. The annual picnic will be at Silver Creek falls August 3.

PTA Election, 4H Program Announced

Portland Crime Decrease Slow

PORTLAND, April 16.—(P)—Major crime has decreased but slightly in Portland despite the defense program and resulting higher rates of employment, Detective Captain J. J. Keegan said today.

"Much of the crime now committed is by juvenile offenders who need not be employed and by ex-convicts who want to work and lead an honest life but cannot obtain employment because of their past records," he explained.

Crabby Citizens, Or Somethin'

NEWPORT, Ore., April 16.—What's in a name? A crab! The biggest ocean caught crab that can be captured off Newport.

Yaquina bay's metropolis is organizing a group to be known as the Crabby Crustaceans, or the Exalted Order of Crabs, or something! Right now they are too busy getting ready for the fourth annual Newport crab festival, May 2, 3 and 4, to worry about what to call themselves.

But they want a name, a good crabby name, suitable for a group dedicated to promotion of crab festivals, this year and throughout all the years to come.

They'll swap anybody the biggest crab they can find for such a name—a name that they like, and can use.

Sprague's Aide Called to Army

Sigfrid Unander, executive assistant to Governor Charles A. Sprague, has received orders to report to Fort Lewis next Monday. He is a reserve officer in the field army.

Governor Sprague said the position vacated by Unander would not be filled. His duties will be taken over by Mrs. Helen Bealar, private secretary to Governor Sprague, and David Eccles, state budget director.

Cecil Edwards, ex-private secretary to Governor Sprague, previously was called for military service.

Control Board Offers City Dump Site Aid

The state board of control, meeting here Wednesday, offered to cooperate with the city of Salem, in finding a new site for the city dump.

The city has requested 10 acres of state land located near the state hospital farm.

Definite action on the request probably will be announced at the next meeting of the board.

West Coast Lumber Group Chief Reveals Reason for Consent Decree "Will Play Game"

SEATTLE, April 16.—(P)—President Corydon Wagner of the West Coast Lumbermen's association declared Wednesday that the consent decree entered by the association at Los Angeles in a federal court Sherman anti-trust law indictment was "essentially an agreement to revise business practices in accordance with new rules for the game."

The Tacoma executive's statement was issued through the association office here. The association was fined $5,000. Five other lumber associations, 32 companies and 20 individuals were fined under the consent decree. The fines totaled $107,000. Wagner was one of the individuals fined $500.

Wagner emphasized that the consent decree was "not an admission of wrongdoing, but an agreement to 'play the game in accordance with the new rules and to accept the orders of the umpire.'"

"The Douglas fir manufacturers have followed the rules of the game as they understood them," Wagner's statement added. "The federal courts themselves have been confused as to just what the rules are. The government's own economic policy has been uncertain."

"In the days of the NRA, industry was compelled to do many things—then held to be in the public interest—which are now regarded as grounds for criminal indictment. Industry has had to determine its course in the face of a good deal of uncertainty and confusion."

PORTLAND, Ore., April 16.—(P)—The Pacific northwest's public-private power controversy has developed into an "all-out war," James H. Polhemus, president of the Portland General Electric company, said Wednesday.

He told the Northwest Light and Power association's engineering and operation section that private utilities could meet the challenge from government-sponsored public systems using tax-free Bonneville and Grand Coulee power by abandoning "postage stamp" rates and adopting streamlined operation and aggressive marketing.

Polhemus indicated that PGE rate schedules soon would be changed to a zone system. He accused the government projects of forgetting their "former high-sounding pledges of cooperation extended to private industry," and declared that "even the mask of cooperation has been discarded."

"It is now the open and avowed intention of the Bonneville-Grand Coulee administration to convert the Pacific

ESTHER NUERNBERGER

GE Cooking Expert Here

Esther Nuernberger of the Home Service kitchens of the General Electric institute at Nela Park, Cleveland, O., will conduct cooking demonstrations at the Gevurtz Furniture company in Salem today and Friday. Her appearance is sponsored by the firm in cooperation with General Electric's home service section. Demonstrations will be held at 2 and 7:30 p.m. on both days of her stay.

As a GE home economist, Miss Nuernberger tests recipes and kitchen equipment in the GE institute, and makes lecture tours to leading cities.

Before joining the GE staff, she had charge of the home service department of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power company in Lincoln, Neb. for ten years.

Festival Candidate

PORTLAND, April 16.—(P)—Jane Addams high school students elected Berdan Day, 17-year-old brunette, as the first of nine candidates for queen of the Portland rose festival.

The men are accused of wrecking machinery and navigation instruments of the vessel March 28, before it was seized by coast guardsmen.

US commissioner ordered Captain Giovanni Polonio and five of the ship's officers held under $10,000 bond. In addition, two radio operators, the ship's carpenter and a large portion of the engine room crew were held under $7,500 bond.

Twelve other crew members, including Francesco Vittori, the third engineer, heard charges against them dropped, as they were against 19 other crewmen Tuesday.

Furniture Store Blazes

PORTLAND, April 16.—(P)—Fire broke out in a furniture store in downtown Portland Wednesday, causing damage estimated by Owner Milton M. Arnstein at $10,000. A defective furnace was blamed.

Student Flier Crashes Plane Near Berlin

LEBANON—Flier Otto Ohm, Jr., wasn't on a bombing mission but he crashed in Berlin Wednesday, anyway.

It was Berlin, Oregon, south-east of Lebanon, over which Ohm, CAA student flier from Oregon State college, was piloting a Piper Cub training ship.

A hall storm impaired his vision. He evidently clipped a tree and was thrown from the plane. He was taken to a Lebanon hospital, where doctors reported he had sustained three fractured ribs and severe lacerations of the face and legs.

Ohm, who took off from the Albany airport on a training flight, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ohm, sr., who reside in the Berlin district.

Woman Dies At Stayton

STAYTON—Mrs. Freeda Spaniol, 41, Portland, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allis Tuesday at Stayton.

She was born April 26, 1900, in Ohio. Survivors include a son, Richard; her parents; a sister, Rose, Stayton, and one brother, Henry, Chico, Calif.

Rosary will be said Wednesday and Thursday nights at 8 o'clock at the Weddle funeral home. Funeral services are slated for 9 a. m. at the Catholic church in Stayton. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

Industrial Prosperity IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

In addition to providing dependable passenger and freight transportation service, one of the most important functions of a railroad is to further the commercial and industrial progress of those territories which it serves.

In the great Pacific Northwest—where ideal sites and operating conditions are favorable to industry—Union Pacific owns or directly serves twenty-seven industrial areas, all advantageously located.

The vast natural resources of the Pacific Northwest, its great hydroelectric power development, its adequate rail and water transportation have been brought to the attention of American business. As a result, hundreds of manufacturing and processing plants... warehouses and other establishments... have located in this territory.

Thousands of jobs have been created... homes have been built... new money has flown into the channels of trade. Thus, Union Pacific has endeavored to play its part in the advancement of the Pacific Northwest.

FOR SHIPPERS—Union Pacific provides fast, dependable service to eastern markets over the "strategic middle route."

FOR TRAVELERS—Union Pacific provides 39½-hour Streamliner service and daily Limited service between Chicago and Portland, following the scenic Columbia River Gorge for 200 miles.
