

With Salem Folk at U. of O.

By BARBARA JEAN VINCENT

Helen Angell holds the spotlight of great achievement this week for her appointment as editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald. This popular Salem girl has proved to be one of the most active students on the U of O campus. In 1939 and 1940 the women's journalism honorary, Theta Sigma Phi recognized Helen as the outstanding freshman and sophomore woman journalist at Matrix table. She has been news editor and associate editor on the Emerald and has also edited the 1940-41 Figgers' Guide which is a directory of all University of Oregon students and instructors. Theta Sigma Phi recently elected her vice-president. Last year she was president of Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary and this year belongs to the junior women's service honorary Phi Theta Upsilon. Her sophomore year saw her elected as the Associated Women Students reporter. Recently she was chosen as one of eight students to serve on an election board which is to supervise details of Associated students of the University of Oregon and class elections.

At present Helen Angell is a Junior weekend princess and is on the Junior Prom committee for publicity. Helen may be further lauded for her maintenance of high grades. Her appointment as the first woman to edit the Emerald for a full scholastic year was made by the student executive committee upon the recommendation of the educational activities board. She succeeds Lyle Nelson who this year led the Emerald to an all-American standing. This makes the fourth consecutive year the Emerald has taken the honor. All-American means that the U of O paper is one of the top nine college dailies in the United States.

Bill Snell, Stuart Nelson, Peter Smith and newly pledged Merlin Nelson all attended a Beta Theta Pi fraternity banquet in Portland recently. Dorothy Mott, daughter of Congressman James A. Mott, will be a guest at Oregon next weekend.

Quay Wassam is in charge of tickets for the Junior Prom—a big event on the Junior weekend schedule. Betty Buchanan will handle tickets for the Morian Board dance to be held May 17. The dance is to be one of the girldate-boy affairs which always prove popular.

Among the many Salem mothers planning to attend Junior weekend and Mother's day functions are Mrs. Jerrold Owen, Mrs. A. A. Siewert, Mrs. Edgar Pierce, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Waldo Mills, Mrs. Gene Vandendeynde, Mrs. W. H. Wirtz, Mrs. Velma Farmer, Mrs. Theodore Roth, Mrs. Earl Snell, Mrs. J. Lyman Steef and Mrs. Hollis W. Huntington.

Following is a partial list of events:
Friday, May 9
Campus luncheon. Tea for Oregon Mothers, Junior prom.
Saturday, May 10
Annual business meeting of Oregon Mothers; luncheon with sons and daughters; campus tour; sunlight serenade; Mothers Day banquet; canoe fete, open house at living organization; serenades by fraternity groups.
Sunday, May 11
Special Mother's day services in churches. Mother's day dinners at living organizations.

WOODBURN — Miss Monica D. Albrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albrecht, will become the bride of James S. Erwert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Erwert of Woodburn, on May 3. The wedding will take place at St. Luke's church at 9 a.m. Following the ceremony there will be a breakfast at the bride's

A spicy sip made with a carbonated beverage for extra zip is one of the new Latin American coolers for hot summer days. To make it combine 2 1/2 cups orange juice and 1 cup pineapple juice with 2 cups water and 1/2 cup sugar. Add the grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon strained honey, 6 whole cloves, 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Mix well and chill for 1 hour in refrigerator. Strain and just before serving, add 3 pints of chilled ginger ale. Serves 12. Assorted nuts served from a china donkey cart make a good accompaniment.

THE WOMAN'S ANGLE

By MAXINE BUREN

There are innumerable advantages to having one's hair cut, chief among those we count, is the advice about fish cookery we carry away in our mind.

With every hair that slips noiselessly to the floor, our head becomes more filled with ideas on catching, cooking and eating trout and salmon.

For always it's about fresh-caught fish. Always it's ideas, not fish, we go away with.

Yesterday we had a haircut. Today we know lots about cooking trout, but we'll be having hamburgers for supper just the same.

Any good fisherman knows, but most stay-at-home wives don't, that dipping the trout in prepared pancake flour and frying it in a hot skillet with bacon fat, makes a wonderful puffy, crisp coating.

Might try it sometime, on fish that's brought home after a weekend trip, or with any small fish from the market.

There's a secret to keeping a fresh flavor when trout or salmon is frozen. Our barber's technique is to dry it thoroughly and it will keep for months. Be sure the fish is cleaned as soon as possible after catching, and that it is kept cold until ready to freeze. When the fisherman arrives home, he should wash it both inside and out, wipe it thoroughly with a piece of clean cloth, both inside and out. Wrap in waxed paper and allow to freeze under or in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. When it is to be cooked, treat the frozen fish as you would fresh.

Then we heard about the best steams and the correct files—But we'll be having another haircut sometime.

Here's how to Make Biscuits

That biscuit mix dough should be kneaded instead of simply throwing the ingredients together—in order to obtain the perfectibility of melt-in-your-mouth biscuits—is the advice from Mary Mills, home economist for Fisher Flouring Mills company.

This even applies to biscuits "made from scratch" from flour, baking powder, and so forth; that is, the texture improves with kneading.

Biscuits can be made from Fisher's Biskit Mix in two minutes. Knead thoroughly. All that is necessary to do is to measure the Biskit Mix flour, stir in the specified amount of liquid, knead just as you would yeast bread or rolls, roll out to about one-half inch thickness, and cut with biscuit cutter, then place in preheated oven at about 450 to 475 degrees for about ten to 12 minutes.

It is best to time your meal so that the biscuits can be baked at the last minute, since they are most delectable when they are so hot that they melt the butter when you split and spread them.

Singer Gets Award

MONMOUTH—Illa Schweizer, a junior at Monmouth high school, was awarded first place and a medal in low voice vocal competition last Friday in the state high school music auditions held at Forest Grove. Miss Schweizer is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Schweizer, and is, at present, a pupil of Mrs. Florence Coardy Merriam, Monmouth.

WU a Cappella Choir to Sing At Choral Fete

Final major appearance of the year for Willamette university's a cappella choir is Monday night in the second annual collegiate choral festival at Portland. Dean Melvin H. Geist, director, said Thursday night he plans to take 45 students to the concert in the Masonic temple.

Choirs from Willamette, University of Portland, Albany college, Linfield college, Pacific university and Maryhurst college will each sing a group of songs. The combined chorus of 250 voices will sing Gounod's "Gallis" under the direction of Dr. Theodore ratt of the University of Oregon.

Rev. George L. Dum, CSC, of Portland, is general chairman.

Gelatine Molds Cold Tongue

Jellied tongue is a spring special to be used when company is invited for lunch. It makes a fine Sunday night supper too.

JELLIED TONGUE

Cooked tongue
2 cups water
Gelatine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 hard cooked eggs
Pimiento olives
2 cups shredded cabbage
1/2 green pepper, diced
Salt

Prepare lemon gelatine according to the directions on the package. In a two-quart loaf pan, pour 1/2 cup of the lemon gelatine. Let set. Arrange a design of sliced cooked eggs and sliced pimiento olives. Apply a few drops of the lemon gelatine to hold slices in place. Let set. Pack in salted cabbage and diced green pepper. Pour over this lemon gelatine to cover. Let set. Add sliced cooked tongue to fill mold. Cover with remaining gelatine. Let set. Unmold and serve with rhubarb sauce or rhubarb ice.

A tart salad for serving with roast pork or veal is made by mixing drained sauerkraut with diced sweet pickled beets and mayonnaise.

"You can't make a bad cup of M.J.B."

ALBERT: That's the bunk! Sure, this coffee's good, but that's because it's strong—and I like strong coffee, see?

JOEL: O. K., wise guy, so you like it strong. But you'll like M. J. B. any way it's made—strong or weak or in-between. Try this. It's less than regular strength.

ALBERT: Well, say—maybe you do know what you're talking about. This does look weak, but it sure tastes fine. Plenty of real flavor.

JOEL: What'd I tell you! Even a stubborn lug like you can't argue about a taste like that. You can't make a bad cup of M. J. B.
