Wheat Gains Noted Friday

CHICAGO, May 2—(AP)—The wheat market almost completely ignored crop news and took its cue from a firmer stock market.

Reports of four private crop experts estimating the 1941 winter wheat crop at 643,000,000 bushels, or 27,000,000 bushels greater than the April 1 government forecast was shrugged off by the market which apparently had discontinued these reports long in advance.

Wheat started 3/4 cent higher despite the fact that long expected bearish crop estimates were due 30 minutes later. The gains were almost erased later by profit taking, but short covering checked the decline and prices never reached Thursday's closing levels.

At the close, wheat was 1/2 cent above Thursday's finish, May 91 1/2, July 90-90 1/2.

Shearing Nearly Finish; Crops Reported Good

BRUSH CREEK—Sheepmen in the district are reporting that shearing is nearing completion. Fleeces have been very good this year and top market prices, ranging from 41 to 43 cents have been received.

To date no reports of early lambs being sold has been made. Sheepmen are hoping to get in on some of the early market top price, but report that lambs were down one cent a pound this week as compared to a week ago.

Crops are looking unusually good through the district this spring, with some rain reported needed. Crimson clover is beginning to show blossom and this, the growers report is not so very much earlier than a year ago when fields were in full bloom on May 10. However, the clover has been

Oregon Hop Markets Steady During Week, Trading Light

Hop markets on the west coast were without any new developments during the week end April 30, according to the weekly hop market review of the agricultural marketing service. The general market situation was rather dull but a steady tone was maintained as the result of only moderate to light offerings from growers tending to offset the seasonally slow demand from domestic dealers and industries. Prices quoted to growers for both spot supplies and future deliveries from the new crop held at about unchanged levels compared with other recent weeks. Crop prospects in producing areas of the three west coast states were reported as generally favorable, although some reports of downy mildew and missing hills in some areas were received.

Oregon markets held about steady although trading was of only moderate to light volume. Growers were not pressing either old crop supplies or new crop futures for sale and this tended to offset the rather slow inquiry from buyers. Some small sales of 1940 regular seeded hops were reported during the past week at prices ranging from 23 cents to 25 1/2 cents per pound, net grower, according to quality and size of lots. As the period ended, dealers were offering around 26 cents per pound but with growers mostly holding for higher prices. Some contracts covering 1941 crop regular type seeded clusters were reported on the basis of 26 cents per pound to growers with dealers covering seedless hops were reported consummated during the past week, nominal values on this quality were being placed at around 35 cents to 37 cents per pound to growers. Trade advices indicated the new crop conditions in this state are generally fair to good, although reports continue to indicate some missing hills and downy mildew infestation.

In the Yakima Valley district of Washington contracts covering seedless hops from the 1941 crop were reported at 37 cents down to 28 cents per pound according to seed content in excess of 2 per cent. Contracts in that area for regular seeded types at 26 cents per pound to growers also were reported.

California hop markets were dull but maintained a steady tone during the past week with light offerings from growers tending to offset slow demand from the trade. Prices both on 1940 hops for spot delivery and 1941 crop for future shipments held unchanged at recent advances. Demand was seasonally slow with most domestic dealers and industries filling current needs from stocks accumulated earlier in the year. Growers on the other hand, were holding only a few hundred bales of 1940 hops and were not pressing for sales in the absence of any important inquiry. Most lots of 1940 hops were being held around 30 cents per pound or considerably above trade ideas as to values. Interest in 1941 hops appeared slower than in other recent weeks and contracts were restricted to 100 bales of seedless at 40 cents per pound net coastal county growers with discounts should deliveries prove in excess of three per cent stems and leaves and two per cent seeds. Sacramento Valley growers reported slower inquiry in that area but with an unusually large portion of the crop already contracted, growers showed little interest in making further commitments except at firm prices. Coastal county growers were offering to contract moderate quantities of 1941 seeded hops at 26 cents per pound but inquiry for this quality was slow.

No imports of hops were reported for March, but exports tallied 610,234 pounds including 23,487 to South American countries; 54,499 to Canada; 164,174 to Mexico; 84,593 to the Union of South Africa; 115,850 to United Kingdom, and the remainder in less than 50,000 pound lots to numerous destinations.

Turkey Hens Get 25 Cents

PORTLAND, May 2—(AP)—Fancy turkey hens were available in local markets at around 25 cents a pound Friday.

Chickens were high with little prospect of a drop in price. Spring chickens are in fair volume at mostly three for $1. Regular white springs are around 32 cents or so a pound while colored sorts are 33-35 cents.

Rabbits appeared to be gaining in popularity, selling chiefly at 32-33 cents a pound for the best.
