

Lou Hickman Became the Bride of Lt. Glaisyer At Church Rites

Amidst a beautiful all white setting of gladiolus, iris and stock and lighted candles in the stately auditorium of the First Presbyterian church, Miss Lou Hickman, daughter of Mrs. Clara Hickman, became the bride of Lieutenant Herbert B. Glaisyer, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Glaisyer, at a lovely ceremony Saturday night.

It was at 7:30 o'clock that Rev. W. Irvin Williams read the service. Miss Flavia Downs sang preceding the wedding and Mrs. Arthur H. Denison was the accompanist and played the wedding marches.

Mr. Tyler Brown escorted his niece to the altar and gave her hand in marriage. Of white chiffon was the bride's wedding gown. It was fashioned with a floor length skirt and the shirred bodice was made with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. A seed pearl crown held her finger-tip length tulle veil in place. She carried a bride's bouquet of orchids, roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Patricia Noonan. Her gown was of moon blue marquisette designed with a full skirt, a shirred bodice and puffed sleeves. A wreath of sweet-peas and rosebuds was arranged in her hair and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers in shades of pink and white.

Mr. Cecil Quesseth stood with Lt. Glaisyer as best man and the ushers were Lt. Ray Vandiver of Salt Lake City, Mr. James McHone of Salem, Mr. Richard Kelley and Mr. Max Hauser of Portland.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hickman wore a navy blue and white redingote ensemble with corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Glaisyer wore a black redingote outfit with black and white accessories and a gardenia corsage for her son's marriage.

Couple to Go South The home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wundsmoor, was the scene of the wedding reception for members of the family and intimate friends.

Mrs. Tyler Brown cut the bride's cake, and assisting in the serving were Mrs. Glendon LaDuke, Miss Mildred Meaney, Miss Cleo Saucers and Miss Marjorie McCullister of Corvallis.

Lt. Glaisyer and his bride left immediately after the reception for Stockton, Calif., where they will reside. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue redingote ensemble with a pink and blue dress, navy accessories and an orchid was pinned to her shoulder.

The new Mrs. Glaisyer is a popular member of the younger set of the capital and has been connected with the state tax mission. Lt. Glaisyer is now instructor with the United States army air corps stationed at Stockton and received his commission last week. He attended Oregon State college where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Date Is Told For June Wedding

June, the popular month for brides, has been chosen for the marriage of Miss Lois Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wilson and Mr. Robert Searight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Searight of Detroit, Mich. Saturday, June 7, will be the wedding day and the ceremony will be performed at the First Presbyterian church with Rev. W. Irvin Williams officiating.

Miss Wilson returned last weekend from Seattle, where her fiancé is now residing. While in the north she was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Guy Cable, who entertained with a shower and dinner party in honor of her. The assisting hostess was Mrs. Al Minningme.

Mr. Searight is now with the Boeing Aircraft company and the couple will make their home in Seattle. The engagement of Miss Wilson and Mr. Searight was revealed at Christmas. The bride-elect attended Salem schools and Oregon State college while her fiancé received his education in Michigan.

MARRIED at the First Presbyterian church on April 27 was Mrs. Earl Johnson, the former Helen Beckley. The couple will be at home near Lincoln after their California wedding trip. (Kennell-Ellis photo.)

McCullough and Mrs. Louis Lachmund.

Mrs. Max Moon and Mrs. Robert Sprague will be luncheon hostesses on Tuesday when they entertain at the former's suburban home. Bridge will be in play during the afternoon and covers will be placed for twelve guests. The May day theme will be used in the decorations with bouquets of garden flowers arranged about the rooms.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Arthur A. Rogers will preside at luncheon at her Fir street residence for twelve of her friends. This is the second in a series of luncheons Mrs. Rogers is planning for the spring season. Stock and other spring flowers will provide the decorative note.

CAMPUS MAY DAY

Sorority Girls Entertain Out-of-Town Guests Attend

Sororities play an important part in the May weekend festivities on the Willamette campus. Each house entertains out-of-town and Salem guests and arranges dates for them at the dance and play.

The Alpha Phi Alpha sorority girls entertained with a buffet supper at the house Friday night preceding the dance. During the dinner hour Miss Laura Lee Tate sang and Miss Josephine Miller played the marimba. Miss Mary Barker was in charge of the program.

Before the play Saturday the Alpha Phi Alpha girls were hostesses at a formal banquet in compliment to their out-of-town guests. Miss Gail Dennison, the new house president presided at the banquet. After the play the sorority maids, their guests and escorts enjoyed an informal dance at the house. Miss Dorothy Tate, vice-president, was in charge of the May weekend activities.

Their guests for the weekend included Miss Betty Provost, Miss Sally McClelland, Miss Mary Bennett, Miss Donna Belle Savage, Miss Cleda Mae Edwards, Miss Marjorie Bergsvik, Miss Barbara White and Miss Lorraine Guthrie, Salem; Miss Rosella Bell, Miss Betty Chitwood, Stayton; Miss Jean Gruver, Miss Phyllis McKarlane, Miss Laura Garow and Miss Betty McCall, Portland. To Breakfast

Highlight of the weekend for the Beta Chi sorority is the annual May morning breakfast the girls are hostess for today at 9 o'clock. The affair was scheduled to take place in the garden but rain changed their plans and tables have been arranged in the living and dining rooms of the chapter house on State street.

Bouquets of painted daisies will center the individual tables and Dutch dolls will mark places for the guests. Iris and tulip bouquets will decorate the rooms. Miss Barbara Hollingworth, the new sorority president, will preside at the breakfast and introduce Princess Dorothy Baldwin, a member of the sorority. Musical numbers will be given during the breakfast hour by Mr. Mark Waltz, Miss Jean Jackson, Miss Phyllis Flynn and Miss Charlotte Willis. Miss Marjorie Waters is in charge of the breakfast and Miss Dorothy Moore has headed the committees for May weekend.

The out-of-town guests at Beta Chi, entertained at luncheons and dinners during the weekend were Miss Louise Cullen, Miss Betty Jean Andrews, Miss Grace Stoocher, Portland; Miss Betty Jean Burkhardt, Miss Elizabeth Burnett, Rogue River; Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Delore Nagel, Falls City; Miss Shirley Learned, Miss Golda Hamrell, Cloverdale; Miss Elaine Hughes, Astoria; Miss Betty Thompson, St. Helens; Miss Jean Birley, Miss Marjorie Wilbur, Mossy Rock, Wash., and Miss Peggy Newlee, Bremerton.

The outstanding event on the Delta Phi May weekend calendar was the formal dinner on Saturday night at the Quella in honor of Queen Barbara Young and Princess Hazel Bunnell, members of the sorority.

Cecilia Brunner roses and forget-me-nots provided the decorative note on the tables and a miniature May pole center the head table. Miss Ester Gunnendal, the new house president, was toastmistress. Making responses were Mrs. Steve Anderson, Miss Nadine Orcutt, Miss Chloe Anderson and Queen Barbara Young. Miss Helen Dean sang a group of numbers and Miss Mabelle Liliburn played a violin solo during the dinner hour.

Miss Betty Keller, vice-president, was in charge of the banquet and assisting her were Miss Mary Jane Smith, Miss Eileen Lester and Miss Jean MacLachlan.

Weekend guests at the sorority and Salem girls bidden to the dinner were Miss Elaine Murray, Miss Estelene Smith, Miss Betty Jean Smith, Miss Cleda Mae Edwards, Miss Sally McClelland, Miss Marjorie Bergsvik, Miss Margaret Wonderlick, Miss E. L. Lou East, Miss Doris

Beta Sigma Phi members will meet at the chamber of commerce at 8 o'clock Monday night. Mrs. George Seales will review the play, "George Washington Slept Here."

Hostesses Give Luncheons

Mrs. Bjarne Erickson and Mrs. Charles Feike entertained with two bridge luncheons on Thursday and Friday afternoons at the former's home on South Cottage street. Covers were placed for twenty guests each day.

Bouquets of roses were used on the individual tables and about the rooms. Winning prizes in contract on Thursday were Mrs. George Rhoten, Mrs. James Humphrey and Mrs. Sidney King and on Friday prizes went to Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Mrs. Floyd Bowers and Mrs. Claude Darby.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. L. Kimball Page regret to learn that they will be making their home in the St. Johns district, Portland, after the middle of May. Dr. Page has been on the medical staff of the state hospital for several years and will now go into private practice.

Surprised on Birthday

Mrs. Gus Illert was hostess on Friday night at a party given for her daughter Irma on her birthday. The affair was a surprise to the honored guest.

Guests were Mard Reiter, Leota Conner, Deena Hartman and Caroline Ward.

All mothers of Oregon State college students are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. John H. Carkin, 495 North Summer street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to organize a Salem mothers club of Oregon State college.

The Delta Phi alumnae will entertain with a buffet dinner for the pleasure of the senior girls of the sorority Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Rieder on South Liberty street.

Salem Woman Is Reelected

Clara Brabec of Salem was reelected, state grand regent of the Catholic Daughters of America at the biennial convention held last week in Woodburn. A banquet by more than 200 members, local, state and national officers, members of the Knights of Columbus and other guests was the closing feature of the convention.

Rev. E. J. Murnane of Portland, state chaplain, was the principal speaker and the Rev. Michael Raleigh of Canby was toastmaster. Other speakers were Mrs. Brabec, Miss Veronica O'Connor of Omaha, member of the national board of directors of the Catholic Daughters of America, Otto Smith, state secretary of the Knights of Columbus, Rev. John J. McGrenra, Mrs. Dorothy E. Wohlhuter, A. J. Hecker and Mrs. Lucy J. Deardin, all of Woodburn.

Betty Jean Merton of Salem sang and Miss Margaret Thompson accompanied her. The four Smith brothers of St. Paul also sang.

Mary Costello of Eugene was reelected secretary at the closing session of the convention and new officers named were Pearl Chapman of Portland, vice grand regent; Anne Ewert of Mt. Angel, treasurer, and Mildred Smith of Klamath Falls, monitor.

Raising of money for the seminary funds of the archdiocese of Portland and the diocese of Baker, and organization of convent clubs were adopted as state wide projects.

Father Murnane who is to observe the 20th anniversary of his ordination in a short time was presented with a gift from the state court of which he has served for the last two years as chaplain.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Shaffer of Kent, Wash., are the weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gillette. They were among those attending the May festivities on the Willamette campus.

Miss Mary Ellen Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Mills, is home from the University of Oregon this weekend. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Don't Look Now..

but... publicity doesn't always count. We put a picture in the paper a few weeks ago of some people picking pansies in the park. Now there's a "keep off" sign, and we've been wondering if people really thought our people were picking pansies. Something in a name... if the name means something. Jose Ilubi practiced on Mrs. David Eason's piano the other night and then autographed it for her. Writing on Mrs. Eason's best Baldwin wouldn't always go over very well, but it did this time. Centerpiece of the week... was on Mrs. Lee Crawford's table Friday night when she entertained at an au revoir party for Mrs. Joseph Felton. Snowflakes and red pennies formed the word "adios" in a striking arrangement. Trains were a feature of the decoration.

She reigned... although under difficulties, and you may feel sorry for a May queen in a rainy country. But sympathize, too, with the poor society reporter who must write a story about the May day coronation before it happens, yet not let her readers know that she is in doubt whether the ceremonies will be inside or out...

Maxine Buren.

Dance Given by Young Maids

A gala event for members of the younger set on Friday night was the informal sports dance for which three popular young girls, Jeanne Busick, Kathleen Hug and Marilyn Hjort, were hostesses.

The affair was given at the Cherry City auditorium and dancing was enjoyed during the evening with refreshments served at a late hour. Mothers of the young hostesses who assisted were Mrs. William Busick, Mrs. George Hug and Mrs. H. J. Hjort.

The guests included the Misses Ruth Anderson, Margaret Jane Emmons, Calline Hillman, Miriam Becke, Harriet Hawkins, Nancy Wallace, Elaine Thim, Ruth Larsen, Nancy Montgomery, Patricia Schneider, Roberta Rogers, Patricia Viesko, Patricia Russell, Joan Beskey, Sally Ann Barr, Margaret Becker, Donna Unruh, Jeanne and Janice Myers, Sarah Ann Ohling, Estella Douglas.

Dr. and Mrs. Wray Morehouse are the parents of a little boy born on Friday at the Salem General hospital. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. W. G. Morehouse of Salem.

Mystery Daughter Banquet Given

The Florence Vail Missionary society gave a mystery daughter dessert supper at the Calvary Baptist church Friday night. The serving tables were decorated with Maypoles, pastel ribbons and spring flowers. Other bouquets were placed about the dining room. Each place at the table was marked with a May basket, and a special favor for each mystery daughter.

Mrs. Jack Billiter acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Jens Svith gave the address of welcome, to which Miss Betty Lou Evans responded. Mrs. Arna Weniger gave the devotions. Mrs. Charles Manley, a returned missionary from India, dressed in costume, spoke on "Women of India."

Miss Ethel Weber of the Salem water commission left Saturday night for Washington, DC, and New York. She will be gone a month and will return by way of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ralph E. Furvins is planning to leave this week for Northfield, Minn., for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Raymond.

Salem General hospital auxiliary will meet at the YWCA at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Betrothal Told At Luncheon

An early June wedding is planned for Miss Lola V. Shenberger of Long Beach, Calif., and Mr. John E. Anderson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson of Salem. The news was told to a group of friends on Saturday at a luncheon at Ullman's tea room.

The bride-elect is with the Salem branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and Mr. Anderson is associated with the Spaulding Logging company.

The guests included Mrs. George W. Schwenger, Mrs. A. E. Ullman, Mrs. E. J. Burnside, Mrs. H. V. Irey, Mrs. E. L. Miller, Mrs. H. J. Westfall, Mrs. G. W. Shaffner, Mrs. Sue Rush, Mrs. T. A.
