

Chapel Will Be Scene Of Rites

The chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be the setting for the marriage of Miss Virginia Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Duke, and Mr. Howard Boomer, son of Mrs. Ruby Boomer of Glenville, Nebraska.

At 2 o'clock Rev. George H. Swift will perform the double ring ceremony. Miss Elizabeth O'Reilly will play the wedding marches and Miss Jackie Williams will sing "Because" and "Our Love." The altar decorations will be white snapdragons and gladioli, palms and white tapers in candelabras.

For her wedding the bride has chosen a brown and beige print silk dress with a redingote beige coat. She will wear a brown and beige straw sailor. She will carry her mother's white prayer book topped with a corsage of yellow and tulleman rose corsage with white streamers of swansonia and lilies-of-the-valley. Mr. Duke will give his daughter in marriage.

Miss Frances Duke will be her sister's maid of honor and will wear an aqua silk frock with white turban and accessories. Miss Irene Warren will be the bridesmaid and her afternoon frock is of rose crepe. She will also wear a white turban and accessories and both of the attendants will wear corsages of pink rosebuds and blue delphinium.

Mr. A. C. Newell will stand with Mr. Boomer as best man and the usher will be Mr. Clell McCafferty.

Reception to Follow

A reception at the Duke home on Bellevue street for the wedding guests will be held after the ceremony. Presiding at the urns will be Mrs. Perry DeLap and Mrs. M. E. Chadsey of Sacramento, sister of the bride. Serving will be Miss Georgie Clark, Miss Ruth Peck and Miss Bonnie Goldbeck. Mrs. Charles Warren will greet the guests at the door and Mrs. Clell McCafferty will be in the gift room. The serving table will be centered with the bride's cake and on either side will be arrangements of roses and sweet peas and white candles.

Mrs. Duke will wear a pastel blue dress with navy redingote for her daughter's marriage. Her accessories are white and her corsage will be of roses and gardenias. Mrs. Chadsey is wearing a rose silk dress with navy blue accessories for her sister's wedding and her corsage will be of roses and gardenias.

Other out-of-town guests for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Blake and Mrs. George Blake of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burrell of Lebanon and Miss Nell Barker of Eugene.

After a wedding trip along the Oregon coast the couple will reside at 1244 Chemeketa street. The bride is a graduate of Salem high school and Mr. Boomer received his education in Blue Hill, Nebraska.

Miss Wagner Is Engaged

The engagement of Miss Anita Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, was announced at an "at home" given by Mrs. Robert C. Gust in Seattle on June 8.

The wedding date of Miss Wagner and Mr. Vernon Drye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drye of Seattle, will be August 30, as told at the party. Pink and white was used as a color scheme, with tall candles and pale pink roses being used as decorations. University of Washington school-mates of the bride-elect assisted the hostess.

Miss Wagner is a graduate of Salem high school and was a member of the Spinners in Salem. She has been employed at the Seattle city library since her graduation from University of Washington last year.

Mr. Drye, also a graduate of University of Washington, is a member of Sigma Chi. He is with the Seattle Transit company.

Visitors Will Arrive

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elnor Meyers and Mr. Rudin is the son of Mrs. Jessie Rudin, all of Salem. —(Kennell-Ellis photo.)

Don't Look Now.

But . . . they've giving parties that are extra fun these days. Instead of kidnaping the guests like we used to do, they kidnap the hostess. A group of women meet at a designated place, and only one or two know who the hostess will be, not even the hostess herself. The committee leads the group of guests to a house and it's up to the surprised member of the group to feed and entertain them for the evening. It's a fine way to see someone's new home too.

Foresome . . . the stork presented the Pat Emmons family with a fourth son on Friday the 13th, just in time for Father's day. Pat and Mildred are having a hard time explaining to Terry, David and Patrick why it wasn't a girl like they promised.

Inclement . . . to say the least, has been the weather since Margaret and Roger Wagner left on their three-week trip east. Wyoming treated them with a snowstorm, rain and electric storms have greeted them everywhere else. They are stopping in Chicago, picking up a car at Flint, and visiting with relatives and friends in Lansing, Grand Rapids, Milwaukee. They will see the statues of Mt. Rushmore and the geysers of Yellowstone.

Sentiment with Economy . . . An advertisement this week amused us. "Dad deserves a fine gift" it said, "because he's a grand person, bla, bla, bla, socks 35c a pair." Most of us had to spend a dollar for mothers' hose . . . —MAXINE BUREN.

MISS MILDRED DENHAM, who has announced her betrothal to Mr. Robert B. Ramage, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ramage. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Denham. The wedding is planned for this summer. —(Kennell-Ellis photo.)

Family Bookshelf

By the Library Staff

All Salem folk who are planning vacations at the beach or mountains are invited to use the special summer vacation borrowing plan in effect at the public library. Under this plan, people leaving town may borrow books for one month or longer, if necessary, instead of for the regular one month loan period. Each borrower may take as many books as desired, and all but the very latest titles will be loaned on this basis.

Good novels are especially enjoyable for summertime reading, and the public library shelves are well stocked with the best available. Some of the old favorites which the reader of long experience may have missed, and which the newer reader will certainly enjoy, include most of the books by such authors as Bess Streeter Aldrich, Arnold Bennett, Louis Bromfield, Mary Ellen Chase, Ellen Glasgow, J. P. Marquand, W. S. Maughan, John Galsworthy, Hugh Walpole, Kenneth Roberts, Willa Cather, Charles Nordhoff and Normal Hall.

All members of the public library staff are prepared to help plan summer reading, whether for vacation camp or for home reading hours.
