

Four Daughters

Father Has His Day

When you stop to think how proud a man can be of one daughter, consider the elation of a father who boasts of four!

There were many men to photograph on this Father's day, but we society editors set about to find some special fathers who deserved to represent the thousands who are to be honored today. Here is our selection.

Mr. Tinkham Gilbert, poses with his four young daughters, and is pictured in the upper lefthand photograph. Alcetta is on the left, then come Rosemary and the twins, Ann and Beth.

The Oliver Hustons (upper right) pause for the photographer to snap them in the garden the whole family maintains. With Mr. Huston on the bench is Harriet, while seated on the ground are Ann, Virginia and Jane.

The pride of Dr. Vern Miller is his family of four girls. On a brief visit home from his duties in the army, Major Miller poses with Joan Marie (standing), Julia Ann, baby Nancy and Margaret.

In the lower righthand photograph Dr. Vernon A. Douglas and his daughters admire a very new kitten. Standing are the older girls, Ruth Elaine and Estella Jean. Barbara Joan sits on the ground while the younger, Mary Suzanne is on her father's lap.

(All Photos are by Kennell-Ellis.)