Bonds Filed—Bond for Clements Butsch, replacing John Diehl as clerk of Mt. Angel school district, has been filed with Mrs. Agnes C. Booth, county school superintendent. Bonds filed to date from other districts are for Lydia C. Scharf, Middle Grove; H. W. Adams, Silverton; J. C. Larson, Brush Creek; Gladys Brown, Eldridge; Edward J. Brown, Stayton and H. A. Siegmund, Oak Glen, all returning to office. An old state law requires that bonds for clerks must be filed not more than 10 days after the annual school election, a requirement which may be difficult, inasmuch as the new boards do not go into office, under a new law, until July 1, it was pointed out Monday at the county school office.

Marion County Grand Jury Will Hear Evidence Against Three On Court Return Thursday

Marion county grand jury, called to return to the courthouse Thursday, June 26, to attend to routine duties is slated to hear evidence against at least three men bound over within the past week.

Frank L. Paisley, arrested Friday night on a drunkenness charge who later in the county jail assertedly tried without success to take the suicide route out, was bound over to the grand jury Monday on charges of knowingly uttering and publishing a forged bank check. At the same time, Justice Joseph Felton sentenced him to 10 days in the county jail on the intoxication count.

Frank P. Schlinkert was bound over on a similar forgery charge late last week by Felton. Ernest Shaffer, appearing Monday before Felton, was held to answer to the grand jury on a charge of burglary allegedly committed in Salem May 21.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Everette E. Osborn, route one, Jefferson; driving motor vehicle while under influence of intoxicating liquor; sentenced to 30 days in jail and $100 fine, driver's license suspended for one year. Osborn was arrested early Sunday morning by city police after he had allegedly collided with one car near the paper mill and clipped another, driven by Harold Hastings, route four, at the corner of Front and Trade streets.

Enlisted Men Study Flying

With the eventuality of 20 per cent of the pilot strength of the army air corps comprised of men who have risen from the ranks to become non-commissioned officers, military news of considerable importance is that concerning the recent bill signed by President Roosevelt, authorizing the training and instruction of enlisted men as aviation students, according to Lt. Col. B. H. Hensley, US army recruiting service.

"The probabilities encompassed by this bill," says Col. Hensley, "are that while applicants between the ages of 19 and 22 years, inclusive, will be given preference, the physical standard required will continue the same as that for aviation cadets."

"Another probability is that graduates of accredited secondary schools who have credits for at least 1 1/2 units of mathematics will be accepted for training without examination. Of special interest to the young man applying and qualified for training as aviation student, is the plan now being considered that after completing his training as a student pilot, the high school graduate is eligible for appointment as flight sergeant, third class, which is comparable to staff sergeant in the army, with pay of $108 a month, while on flight duty.

Full details concerning all points on the United States air corps are available upon application to the US army recruiting service in charge of Tech. Sgt. Willis S. Estep, Salem.

Letter of Law Halts Appeal Of Lifetermer

OLYMPIA, June 23.—(AP)—An appeal filed with the supreme court by James Hampson, 33-year-old Fife dairy worker sentenced to life imprisonment for the bludgeoning to death of his former sweetheart, Virginia Raffle, was dismissed Monday.

In dismissing the action for failure of Hampson to have his abstract or records in the hands of the court at the proper time, the court said: "Dismissal of an appeal seems a harsh penalty for failure to file an abstract of record within the required time. However, if it is too drastic and is not justified by the end sought to be accomplished, namely the expediting of final determination in criminal appeals, then the remedy lies in appropriate amendment of the rule. As now constructed, it is mandatory in its terms, and does not reserve to the court the power to exercise discretion in particular cases, and we have no alternative but to enforce its provisions."

The dismissal was reached at an en banc decision with two justices dissenting. The court pointed out in its decision that Hampson's counsel did not cause the delay, but rather failure was "due to an inadvertent oversight of a messenger."

Hampson was convicted in Pierce county superior court, April 20, 1940.
