

Airline Asks Salem Stop

Seattle Concern Seeks Route to Include Many Oregon Towns, Report

Minnville, Woodburn, Dallas, Independence, Lebanon, Brownsville, Junction City, Myrtle Point and Coquille—and, by messenger from the nearest pickup point—Forest Grove, Gladstone, Willamette, Mt. Angel and Monmouth.

Aerial pickup and delivery is being carried out successfully in the east, the letter declared.

Thielsen said the chamber's attitude toward the new line's request for supporting data for its application to the CAA would be governed by whether or not the service would compete with United Airlines, whose application for a permit to serve Salem and Eugene has already been recommended for approval by the CAB.

Local fliers said they knew nothing of the West Coast firm.

Former Marion Man Succumbs At Portland

JEFFERSON — Memorial services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Gable Funeral home in Portland for August F. Schultz, 83, former Jefferson resident, who died June 21, 1941, in a Portland hospital. Rev. Herries G. Edgar conducted the service. William Elliott was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Edna Wickersham. Pallbearers were John Winer, Ed L. A. Zeyen, Harold W. Fishman, J. A. S. Johnson, J. C. Schultz and R. W. Potts. Concluding services were at Memorial park.

August Frederick Schultz was born in Hieligenfelde, Prussia, Germany, March 16, 1848, the second child in a family of eight—five brothers and three sisters.

In 1867 he came to America and married Miss Mary Jane Leuellen, January 26, 1873. Mrs. Schultz died February 22, 1932.

He came to Portland for a short time in the early '80's and later purchased a flour mill at Cottage Grove. During his lifetime he operated mills at Phoenix and Ashland, Oregon, and 1893 he purchased a mill at Jefferson which he operated until 1902.

When the Brownsville Woolen Mills were closed he organized a company and reopened the concern. Some of the men of his organization are still part of the firm.

Following his retirement in 1902, he made his home for more than thirty years at 925 NE 74th street, Portland.

Surviving are three children, Bertha Carl of Jefferson, W. Jordan Schultz of Roseburg, George F. Schultz of Portland; four grandchildren, Lindon Carl of Scio, Georgann and Betty Schultz of Portland, and William Schultz of Roseburg. He is also survived by one great grandson, Lindon Wayne Carl of Scio.

Accident Victim In Oregon City Hospital

SILVERTON—Every hope for the recovery of Mrs. Carl P. King (Fern Alexander), injured in an auto accident Sunday, was being held late Tuesday night, when her sister, Mrs. Clifton Hadley returned from the Oregon City hospital and said that Mrs. King had regained consciousness and could speak to her. Mr. King was up and around the hospital but was still running a little temperature and had not been released.

The Kings were hospitalized Sunday night in a two-car smash-up at the intersection of the Mackinburg road with the Barlow-Monitor road. Operator of the other car was O. G. Fogelson, Molalla.

Fogelson suffered a dislocated right shoulder and bruises and a passenger in his car, Marquitta Rice, 16, Marquam, received serious back injuries, lacerations and bruises.

Mrs. King, 27, sustained a fractured skull, a deep scalp wound and a broken left thigh. Her leg had not been still in splints, her sister said. Beulah Fogelson, a daughter, suffered bruises on the face and right hip. King received multiple cuts and bruises. Both cars were badly damaged.

Friends of the King family said Tuesday night that Mrs. King may later be moved to the Silverton hospital where she would be nearer relatives. One of the children is with the Clifton Hadleys and the other is with another brother-in-

Norse Skipper Buys Retreat Near Salem

PORTLAND, June 26—(AP)—The Eola Hills between McMinnville and Salem, far from the sight or sound of the sea, will shelter Captain Odd Findahl one of these days.

The skipper of the Norwegian motorship Hoegh Silvercloud, working the trade lanes of the Pacific, bought a five-acre tract there Wednesday through Carl B. Steckmest, Portland ship chandler.

Captain Findahl fell in love with the place and told Steckmest to buy it as a vacation retreat and as a place to retire. The skipper, a Norwegian, has been at sea 28 years, 15 of them as master, but he still likes land and trees.

The trees around his Eola Hills place are producing walnuts.
