

Rickreall 4H Club Members Get Awards from Livestock Breeders

DALLAS—While the complete list of Polk county winners in the 4H club division at the Oregon state fair is not available this week, two awards of outstanding importance were made that are interesting.

In the list of special awards offered by outstanding livestock breeders in the state, two of these were given to two Polk county 4-H club members. These two members happen to be from the same family. They are Evelyn and Eddie Wells of Rickreall.

Evelyn was awarded the purebred Hampshire ewe lamb presented by the Foothills Farms, Carlton, to the outstanding 4-H club member in the Hampshire sheep division. Eddie was awarded the purebred Holstein heifer calf from the A. P. Ireland Holstein farm at Forest Grove. This award was made to the outstanding member in the 4-H club Holstein section.

Evelyn has been enrolled in the sheep club project for three years beginning with two orphan lambs as her first project. This past year she has produced both South-down and Hampshire sheep in her 4-H club work and has done an outstanding job, states W. C. Leth, Polk county agent, who has the supervision of the livestock club-work in the county.

Eddie started with dairy 4-H club work three years ago and began with one grade Holstein calf. He has now disposed of his original start and has purchased a purebred heifer calf from the S. B. Hall herd near Troutdale, which is known as one of the most outstanding breeding establishments in the west. Eddie also has a Holstein heifer awarded him by Hamilton Bros. at the 1940 Polk county fair. He showed both of these animals at the fairs this year, taking first prize on his Hall bred heifer at both the county and state fairs.

More livestock was shown by Polk county 4-H club exhibitors this year than for many years and gave very good account of themselves at the State Fair last week. A complete list of winners of various 4-H club activities will be made available in the near future.

Charles Stovall, Willamette Valley Lumber company bucker, who was seriously injured Wednesday when he was struck by a falling tree, was reported by hospital authorities Saturday to be showing some progress toward recovery although still suffering considerable pain.

Stovall's injuries included a fractured skull, head, arm, shoulder and leg breaks and wounds.

A marriage license was applied for by Claude Erwin Bevins, logger, Elk City and Evelyn M. Leonard, housekeeper, Dallas.

Expenses of City Studied

STAYTON—The budget committee met with the councilmen to consider its preparation of estimates of the city's expenses for the first half of 1942.

Because of a new budget law, the committee levies now for only a half year, with the other half to be levied by another committee next spring when expenditures for a newly set up fiscal year (July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1943) will be estimated. The budget estimates propose a tax levy of $2280.54, which is approximately one-half the sum raised last year.

Grangers' News

NORTH HOWELL—Thursday, October 2, was decided upon as the date for the North Howell grange annual fall festival event, at Friday's meeting.

Owing to the fact that corn, which has always been a predominant factor on this occasion, is late and weather conditions so adverse, it was thought the affair this year could be termed a fall flower show.

An agricultural display will be arranged under the direction of Joe Russ, Orton Hilliker and Dan Van Brocklin but everyone is urged to contribute fruit, nuts, grain, vegetables and corn if possible.

Other committees will be named following the meeting of the home economics club Thursday afternoon at the grange hall.

Nominations for state officers resulted in Allen Wheeler, Lane county, state master; W. H. Stevens, North Howell, for overseer; Helen Kleighe, Chemawa, lecturer, and Bertha Beck, Friendly grange secretary.

Emphasis on the importance of seed growing was noted during the agricultural report. Seeds grown in this community include sugar beet, onions, crimson clover and several varieties of vetch for which there is an increasing demand.

WEST SALEM—The local grange members held their regular monthly business meeting Thursday. Nomination of state officers was a part of the business meeting.

Elected by the local subordinate grange were state master, Ray Gill, Portland; state overseer, Roy Wright, Roberts; state secretary, Bertha Beck, Portland; state lecturer, Marie Thiessen, Milwaukie; executive committee, Arthur Brown, West Salem, Ray Gill, Portland, and A. Lewis of Coos County.

Mrs. Ed England, Ceres, was in charge of the program. Mrs. Artie Phillips gave a reading and Mrs. Arthur Brown read the Legend of Ceres.

Plans were made to have a pot luck supper at the next meeting, October 9.

MACLEAY—With a majority of one the Marion county grange council went on record as favoring a home demonstration agent in this county.

Mrs. Roy Rice headed the discussion of the women's group and Fred McCall the men's group. Roy Rice reported for the men's group that there were less corn worms this year than in former years and that control was still in the experimental stage.

Harry Martin, Jr., stressed cooperation of all farm organizations, Mrs. Martin, Sr., reported on the projects of the county home economics groups and Mrs. F. E. Wolf outlined the rules for the county grange canning contest.

The social program included a demonstration of opening and closing the grange by Macleay grange, questions and answers on grange ritual and group singing.

Plans were discussed for the fall flower show to be held at the Woodburn fair October 3 and 4. Appointed to arrange for floor space at the fair were J. J. Hall
