Late Support Permits Point Fractions Rise; Day Was Irregular

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Mild late support came into the stock market Tuesday and enabled leaders generally to emerge from a rather hesitant session with gains of fractions to around a point.

The list displayed considerable irregularity from the start but offerings were exceptionally light and this, brokers said, inspired a little bidding after mid-day on the theory the market was in a position to rally on the appearance of any worthwhile news.

Early indefinite trends were blamed partly on the inclination of many customers to stand aside pending repercussions from the navy's shoot-first order in relation to Atlantic axis raiders which went into effect today.

There was a tendency to proceed carefully while congress took final action on the tax bill and other controversial measures having to do with defense and price control. The war picture remained sketchy and little alteration was noted in the business scene.

Some optimism was credited to rumors in board rooms that Washington and Tokyo were about to announce an accord on Far Eastern questions but dispatches from China and Japan failed to bear out this talk.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a net gain of .1 of a point at 43.6. Of 749 issues traded, 305 were up, 217 down and 227 unchanged. Dealings were slack until the concluding half-hour when several large blocks of low-priced issues pushed transfers to a total of 606,100 shares against 483,850 Monday.

There was one trade of 45,000 shares of Commonwealth & Southern, unchanged at 7/8.

Stocks edging into new high ground for the week included Atlantic Gulf & West Indies common and preferred, Loew's, Savage Arms and American Machine & Metals.

Lease Signed For Cheese Factory

With the signing of a year's lease on the Capital Dairies cheese department by the Dairy Cooperative association, the way has been paved for the opening of the only cheddar cheese factory in Marion county, Fred C. Klaus, manager of the Salem unit of the association, declared Tuesday.

Within 10 days the necessary equipment and building changes will be made, Klaus said, and production of about three-fourths of a ton of cheese each day, to be shipped to Britain in 80 pound sizes, will be started. About six persons will be employed by the new enterprise.

Instead of being shipped to the Portland plant, factory milk and surplus fluid milk gathered in the Salem area will now be used in the factory here, Klaus said.

In order to get an adequate supply of milk under the leasehold program of buying cheese for Britain the price of factory milk has been raised within the past few months and as a result many local producers are showing more interest in that market than has been the case formerly.

Permit Asked for Building of Turkey Plant

At an estimated cost of $25,000, a permit for construction of a warehouse and operating plant at 1505 North Front street was issued to the Oregon Electric railway company at the office of E. C. Bushnell, city building inspector.

The structure is to be leased to the Northwest Poultry and Dairy Products company, operators of the Marion Creamery and Poultry company and the Capitol Dairies, for use as a turkey dressing plant, according to report.

Field Man for West Named

Ivan H. Loughary, extension dairyman of the University of Idaho, has been appointed western field man for The Holstein-Friesian association of America, to replace M. B. Nichols, Portland, who has been transferred to the national headquarters at Brattleboro, Vt.

Loughary, who was born in Monmouth, has made dairy extension his major work since graduation from Oregon State college in 1916, although after graduation he served in the US army, and then for five years managed Luckiamute farm, his home farm, at Monmouth.

For 12 years he was western field man for the American Jersey Cattle club, and for the past six years has been Idaho's extension dairyman. The territory he will cover consists of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana. He will take over his new duties on October 1 and will establish headquarters at Portland.

Appointed to the job of western fieldman for a dairy association is Ivan H. Loughary, above, former Monmouth farmer.

Onion, Celery Production Noted

Recent rainy and cool, cloudy weather has been favorable for late maturing vegetables in Oregon. Temperatures have been satisfactory and the heavy precipitation during the latter part of August and early September has improved yield prospects of cabbage, carrots, lettuce and celery according to the agricultural marketing service.

The state's most important commercial truck crop, from the standpoint of carlot shipments, is onions. This crop is now being harvested, weather permitting. The production as of September 1 is estimated at 870,000 sacks in 100 pound bags. The 1940 crop was placed at only 645,000 sacks and of that quantity about 516,000 sacks or 1,719 cars were shipped to points outside the state.

Yellow Danvers, grown in western Oregon, are the principal variety and this year about 75 percent of the total production is of that variety. The balance or around 25 percent of the total production is mostly Sweet Spanish which are grown mainly in Malheur and Jackson counties. Last year also about 75 percent of production was of Danvers. The yields of both varieties are better this season than were obtained in 1940 and some very high yields were harvested in the Sweet Spanish area, but pulling is not completed.

Cabbage production is placed at 13,800 tons for 1941 or about 19 percent more than the 11,400 tons produced last year.

The celery crop in Oregon is estimated to total 304,000 crates of 90 pounds, an increase of 27 percent over the 1940 crop of 239,000 crates. This increase is due chiefly to an expansion in acreage. In Malheur county, approximately 130 acres have been planted this year.

Practically no celery was planted in that area last year. The crop is progressing well according to latest reports. In the Portland and Brooks areas, where most of the celery is raised, higher yields than

Canning at Peak At Silverton

SILVERTON—Canning is at its peak now at the local Front street plant, managers reported Monday. About 200 persons are employed and both night and day shifts are being run.

Break Sharp In Soybeans

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Sharp breaks in soybeans futures which at times extended to as much as 6 cents a bushel tumbled prices in all grain pits lower Tuesday.

Weakness of soybeans was associated with downturns in cotton, cottonseed oil and lard futures. Demand was indifferent and a cautious buying attitude was promoted as the trade awaited developments in the international situation and pending legislative actions in Washington.

At the close wheat was 3/4 to 1/2 cents under Monday's final figures, September $1.18 1/4-3/4, December $1.21 1/4-3/4; corn was 1/4 to 1/2 off, September 77 1/2, December 83 1/4-3/4; oats declined 1/4 to 1/2 cent; rye 1/4 to 1/2 cent; soybeans lost 4 1/4 to 5 1/2 cents and lard was off 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds.

Wheat opened about unchanged but at no time during the session were prices able to better the previous close by more than 1/4 cent and at the extreme the spread between the day's highest and lowest prices was 2 cents. A rally just before the final gong, however, wiped out most of the day's losses.
