Plans were announced for the grand session at Portland on October 12 to 14, over which Ethel Murphy of Salem will preside. Helen M. Wrightman of Silverton, past grand chief and supreme representative, will serve as musician for the 24th year. Representatives from Silverton will be Henrietta Loe and Olive Morley. Representatives from Home lodge, Pythian Knights, will be Fred Knight, Emil Loe and Guy Sanders.

At the Thursday night meeting reports were heard from committees and the charter was ordered draped for 30 days in memory of Mae Gevurtz, past grand chief and parliamentary of grand chapter.

Art Center NOTES

Guns of another year, photographs of arms and armor, models of airplanes and ships, have attracted hundreds of visitors to the Art Center galleries for the past few weeks. Lectures and moving pictures have interested many others.

Hanging from the gallery ceiling, is a swaying formation of red, silver and tan planes of expert workmanship.

These gas-engined planes, made by members of the Model Airplane club of Salem are real veterans, some having made flights of as many as 50 miles.

The ships models attract too. There is a Spanish frigate, loaned by Stiffs, and a Spanish galleon of the 15th and 16th centuries, made with a pocketknife by a prisoner at the penitentiary, and loaned by Mrs. E. C. Halley. Henry Lee's display of merchant ships is interesting too. The visitor will discover a North Sea bawley, Dobbin life boat, a cruiser and a small group of builders' models.

In the end gallery is shown an exceptional display of guns and helmets. Lent by Lee Eyerly is a collection of guns ranging in historic sequence from a Chinese matchlock dated 1600, through a pair of 1700 flintlock pistols, two Colt cap and ball, 1800, to a Buffalo rifle of a more modern day.

Owned by Donegan Wiggins are several guns of the Indian and Civil War period including a United States rifle, "Mississippi Yager" of 1841, a Sharp military rifle, favorite of frontier days, altered by the government to a sporting type of rifle, a Spencer carbine of the Civil War, first repeating rifle used by Uncle Sam and an Infantry Springfield rifle that "saved the Union."

Reminder of the last World War is the selected assortment of German canteens, bayonets, belts and gas-masks, the property of Vernon Sackett, arranged on small tables in the end hall gallery. A display of airplane drawings by Hugh Hayes, draftsman for the Forestry department, are on display in the middle gallery.

The photographs of historic arms and armaments, purchased from the Baltimore art museum is in the main gallery.

Third and last week of the National defense program at the Center is sponsored by the United States navy and coast guard services and will feature a Tuesday lecture by H. O. Nelson, of Portland, recruiting officer of the coast guard, and a Thursday night program of moving pictures presented by John L. Sugg, officer in charge of public relations for the naval recruiting service in the Portland district. Both events will be open to the public and will start at 8 o'clock.

FUN MAKERS — Two of the cast of "Hellzapoppin" Billy House and Eddie Garr, which appears at the Mayfair theater beginning a four-day run on Wednesday.

200 More in Schools at Lebanon

LEBANON — Registrations that have been completed for high school students number 557, nearly 200 more than last year on the opening day. Of these, 85 are seniors, 122 juniors, 120 sophomores and 118 freshmen. In the junior high school 61 are enrolled in the 7th grade and 51 in the 8th grade.

In the grade school 375 are registered, 33 more than were registered at this time last year. Seventy are in the entering class, 10 more than were in last year's first grade.

Some registrations are not yet completed and a number of students, it is thought, are still working in the orchards, so it is expected the enrollment will be substantially larger.

Many of the new students are from families who have come here to work in mills recently built, most being from the southern part of the state.

That Lebanon's industrial activity is attracting attention in many parts of the country is borne out by the fact that so many new students have come from other states, especially from Washington. Many are from the middle west and a few are transfers from California schools.

Riptous Review Is Scheduled

Seldom does an actor have to wait until intermission for his big moment, but Billy Potter in Olsen and Johnson's "Hellzapoppin" comes into his own during the accredited rest period of this turbulent musical which comes to the Mayfair theatre on Wednesday evening, September 24, for an engagement of four days.

For although "Hellzapoppin" has an intermission officially listed in its program, there is no cessation from the activities of the clowns whose business it is to make the audiences laugh. Several gags are perpetrated during this orthodox rest period, but the spotlight is upon Potter, who really has a chance to go to town in his own specialty. A veteran to the circus, he indulges himself in a series of whimsicalities in which he is assisted by several members of the audience.

Even those habitually given to going in the lobby during intermission find it profitable to remain for a view of Potter in action.

WACONDA — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goffin was the scene of a surprise when friends met to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Goffin.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Julian De Jardin of Stayton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bressler, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Becker of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Russ and Barbara Jean of Labish Center, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Walker of Portland, Miss B. Barry of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Nusom, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Brundidge and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goffin.

New Teacher Is Engaged Here

Making her bow to Salem as a dance teacher, Miss Bertelle McBain Barrett will open classes in tap and ballet dancing on Tuesday at 155 South Liberty street. Miss Barrett will be associated with Alfred Lauraine, dance master, who is reopening his school Monday after a year's absence as special ballroom instructor for Elisa Ryan of Los Angeles.

Miss Barrett has conducted her own school of dancing in Portland for the past 11 years. She has specialized in Spanish dancing under Casinos, Elisa and Eduardo, and also with Jose Fernandez, now with the Ballet theatre in New York. She and her dancers have made many appearances in Portland and for two years have danced during festivities of the rose show.

A graduate of Ernest Belcher, noted Los Angeles teacher, Miss Barrett has danced in his productions for the last ten summers in the Hollywood bowl and the Redlands bowl.

Her tap work has been mostly under Johnny Boyle, Louis Da Fron and Arthur Prince. She recently returned from a month's study in Chicago with Gabriel Casinos, Edna McRae, Gladys Hight and Fran Scanlon.
