

Basin Project Reports Due At Parley

Progress reports on both the Willamette and Columbia basin projects and consideration of both irrigation and drainage problems will give the Oregon Reclamation congress at Ontario September 29 and 30 a state-wide aspect, reports Dr. W. L. Powers, secretary of the congress and head of the soils department at Oregon State college.

Headquarters for the annual meeting will be at the Moore hotel in Ontario, where the first event will be a directors' breakfast and conference Monday morning. This will be followed by registration and inspection of exhibits with the opening session starting with the annual address of President Frank T. Morgan at 9 o'clock.

Appearing on the opening session program will be Neil Allen, chairman of the legislative committee, and State Treasurer Leslie Scott, who will report on the work of the state reclamation commission.

The proposed Columbia basin authority in relation to reclamation will be discussed by a panel of speakers led by Marshall N. Dana, who will also be the principal speaker at the annual dinner Monday night.

The drainage and maintenance sessions will be Monday afternoon, the first led by Mrs. Grace K. Magruder, St. Helens, state engineer. The irrigation requirements session and the discussion of the Columbia and Willamette basin projects will be Tuesday forenoon, followed by a discussion of the Owyhee project after lunch, with a field trip over the project ending the session.

Home Official Attends Parley

FAIRVIEW HOME — Dr. H. G. Miller, Fairview Home superintendent, spoke on "Problems of Mental Deficiency" at the post-graduate institute of the American Psychiatric association held at the Western State hospital at Fort Steilacoom, Wash., recently. He flew both ways for the conference.

Sam Emery, fire chief at the Fairview Home, returned from the convention of Oregon fire chiefs held at Bend the first of the week.

Swegle Starts Nut Harvest

SWEGLE — With the hop fields almost clean, most of the school children were back in school this week. The picking up of filberts was the new crop harvest started last week.

The Clark orchard on East Turner road and the West on Sunnyview avenue are two of the largest. The work will be done mostly by the older members of the family and quite a little help is needed. The general report is a poor yield, and in some fields the cost of keeping the ground cultivated will be more than the crop will bring.

Those growing tomatoes for commercial markets believe the tomatoes may ripen now with more sunshine.

New Fund Plan Available At Bank

Marion county farmers who have federal land bank loans not only can protect their future, but make a profitable investment by paying in to a new future payment fund plan inaugurated by the bank, J. J. Sechrist, Salem, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association serving Marion county, announced this week. In addition, Sechrist said, such funds will make a real contribution to national defense.

Such future payment funds are deposits against future loan installments and interest, Sechrist said. They are designed specifically to protect the farmer against future lean years. Such funds will not be applied on the loan until the farmer so instructs the land bank, unless by some mischance he is unable to make his regular payments, in which case the deposit would be applied automatically.

Future payment funds will draw interest at the same rate the farmer pays on his mortgage loan, Sechrist explained.

"A future payment fund created by farmers under this plan will increase the amount available for the federal land bank to invest in government securities," he pointed out. "That means that while the farmer is protecting his farm and home for the future, and while his investment is earning a good rate of interest, his money at the same time will be doing service for national defense through reinvestments by the land bank."

ODDITIES

SEATTLE (AP) — Two robbers, who offered business advice in return for their loot, got between $400 and $500 from a small grocery operated by Francis O'Neil. The robbers herded O'Neil, his wife and a customer into a back room and then robbed the till. Before completing the job one of the gunmen, a youth of about 20, turned to O'Neil and inquired: "Got any insurance?" O'Neil has, but he replied "No." "You ought to get some," the bandit advised seriously. "It comes in handy in times like these."

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Because Johnny Davis and "Buckshot" Ealy are ardent big league baseball fans — via the newspapers — white friends made up a purse to send them to New York and buy bleacher seats for the world series. Police Chief William O'Connell figured there might be a good many pitfalls ahead for two Florida negro boys headed for their first look at Harlem so he gave them a "To whom it may concern" letter saying that any courtesies extended the travelers would be appreciated.

FAYETTEVILLE, NC. (AP) — A 22-year-old negro was arrested here and charged with first degree burglary for breaking into a policeman's house and stealing his pretty coat with the big brass buttons on it. The negro was picked up walking down a principal street, strutting the coat and an army cap perched on the back of his head.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A man called at the office of the state unemployment compensation division here to complain that he was not receiving his weekly check, but only a stub. When an official told him each check had been duly endorsed and cashed, he explained: "That can't be so! My wife opens the mail every morning herself, and she says there's only a check stub in the envelope."

CAMP HAAN, Calif. (AP) — What, the instructor asked Rookie George Koch of the 76th coast artillery is the first step in cleaning a rifle? "Look at the serial number and make sure it's your own gun," was the prompt reply.

Plenty Busy

Emily Saltonstall, daughter of the Massachusetts governor, Emily Saltonstall, lieutenant in the Massachusetts Women's Defense Corps, is shown testing her equipment in Boston before departing on a 160-mile test convoy trip of the corps. Miss Saltonstall is a radio technician.

MACON, Ga. (AP) — The case of Annie Green vs. James Green droned along for 45 minutes in superior court while the defendant fidgeted. The oil company worker heard Annie testify her James had left her, listened to her mother and other relatives declare alimony was indicated. Then he took the stand in his own defense, without attorney, and shouted: "Judge, I never saw these folks before!" Deputies had subpoenaed the wrong James Green.

RUMSON, N.J. (AP) — It's nothing new for gardeners to go on sprees, Mayor James C. Auchincloss told the Monmouth county horticultural society at its 45th annual exhibition. He read what he said was an agreement made 154 years ago between George Washington and his gardener, Philip Bator, granting Bator $4 to "get tight" at Christmas and stay so for four days and nights, with $2 for the same purpose at Easter and Whitsuntide.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Owners Frank and Walt Muller were quick to counter picketing of their filling station in a labor union dispute. They set out big chairs, posted a sign "Pickit Haven" and instructed attendants to offer dainty refreshments to the marchers.
