Teachers Ask Salary Boost but Specific Figures Left Blank

Immediate salary increases, in no specified amount, are asked by all Marion county teachers, school directors of various districts of the county are to be informed by letter this weekend from Miss Ethel B. Taylor, Scotts Mills, newly elected secretary of the Marion county division of the Oregon State Teachers' association.

The salary-increase resolution, most discussed point on the business meeting agenda at Friday's teachers' institute in Salem, was adopted during closing hours of the session. Argument centered largely around the possibility of asking for a specific percentage salary boost and around method of securing what was declared "a pay increase made necessary by the rapid rise in living costs."

That some districts would be required to close school doors early if the suggested 25 per cent salary increase were given was pointed out. Such a rise in salaries for others now paying on a nine-months' basis salaries which average $54 a month over a year's time would still not be a big boost, it was declared.

Elected president of the county teachers' group was Arthur Myers, Salem; vice president, Walter Beck, Salem. Earle Stewart of Salem was selected as the county's candidate for vice presidency of the state as-came a member of the board of directors. Other officers elected included Dean M. Elwood Smith, Corvallis, vice president; State Senator Howard Belton, Canby, and Robert Shinn, Salem, directors.

Oregon State college fully supports the state system of higher education in planning to avoid major duplications in OSC and the University of Oregon courses, Acting OSC President F. A. Gillfillan said.

An abandonment of the system would place the college in the position of needing several additional degree-granting schools to become a complete land grant college in the traditional sense, he said.

Dentistry can help you enjoy better looks, better health. Many otherwise pleasing features are spoiled through neglected and missing teeth. Unless restorations are made when teeth are lost, the contour of your face is affected—your profile is distorted and your chin loses its grip on youth. New transparent dental plates, made from the improved acrylic all dentists use, serve to preserve your natural expression.

Why Look 15 Years Older Than You Really Are? When teeth begin to drift or fall out, cheeks become hollow, the facial muscles sag and telltale lines appear. By obtaining dental plates you can protect your appearance and add to the state of your health at same time.

TRANSLUCENT TEETH
Science matches the effect of natural teeth with newly discovered artificial ones. These translucent teeth absorb and reflect light as do your own teeth and bring greater refinement and realism to DENTAL PLATES.

5 advantages of new style TRANSPARENT PLATES

1. They're light and graceful.
2. Have unfading natural color.
3. Time-tested balanced strength.
4. Natural and permanent form.
5. An accuracy of reproduction. Dentists everywhere praise the material used in these plates for its adaptability.
