Silverton Unit Gives Ceremony for Unit At Mt. Angel

MT. ANGEL — The women of the Mt. Angel American Legion auxiliary held installation ceremonies Tuesday night with the Silverton unit in charge.

Following the installation and separate business meetings of the Legion and auxiliary, refreshments were served to both groups in the dining room. Later all joined in dancing.

The new officers for the coming year are Mrs. Mary Prosser, president; Mrs. Mae Heggie, first vice-president; Mrs. Grace Traeger, second vice-president; Mrs. Magdalene Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Cecyl Lucht, secretary; Mrs. Myrtle Cochran, historian; Mrs. Tillie Walker, chaplain; and Miss Elizabeth Unger, sergeant-at-arms.

The junior officers installed at the same time were June Ann Lucht, president; Elaine Prosser, sergeant-at-arms; and Mary Lee Cochran, historian.

Mrs. Nellie Titus of Silverton acted as the installing officer. She was assisted by members of the Silverton unit, Mrs. Zanna Hutton, Mrs. Evelyn Hogan, Mrs. Ida Pitney, Mrs. Ruth Lofenzen, Mrs. Faye Bragg, Mrs. Emily Gottenberg, Mrs. Goldie Starr, Mrs. Emma Towse, Mrs. Mabel Larford, Mrs. Alma Lewis and Mrs. Altha Hall.

Mrs. Anna Lenners, past president of the Mt. Angel unit, was presented with a past president's pin.

Mrs. Myrtle Chilcott of Tillamook, past district president, Mrs. Lena Unger, gold star mother of the Mt. Angel unit, and Mrs. M. Melchior were special guests.

A vocal solo was sung by Mrs. Lucht, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. F. Norton.

At the brief business meeting it was learned that the Mt. Angel unit had reached its quota in membership. Mrs. Rose Butsch made a report on the dance and card party for hot lunches for school children, showing it to have been a great success.

Gen. Corlett Ordered to Alaska

Turner Men At Pastors' Fellowship

TURNER — Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Warren were hosts Sunday for a dinner at their home here, with covers placed for Miss Eunice McGorden and Miss Enid Linn of Eugene, Rev. Eugene Robinson, Mrs. Anna Window, Hildur Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Warren.

Harvey Wilson of Tillamook is in the hospital there suffering with crushed vertebra, resulting from an 18-foot fall from staging on a house he was constructing. Wilson is a contractor, and the family resided in the Turner community for some years.

Local ministers attending the Fellowship meeting in Portland Monday at the army air base chapel with luncheon at the Officers club were J. L. Ellis, M. B. Madden, E. J. Gilstrap and Eugene Robinson. Chaplain Clyde A. Fleming was host for the meeting. Mrs. Nellie Gunning has returned to Marshfield, where she has been a guest of Rev. and Mrs. William Burgoyne the past two weeks, after a business trip to Turner on Tuesday. Mrs. Gunning plans to return to her home here in a week.

Mrs. O. A. Warren, Nadine Ellis and Mrs. Davis Errett accompanied Rev. Eugene Robinson to the all day district school of missions meeting in Salem on Tuesday. The women are members of the Christian church Missionary society here.

John Gower of Newberg called on Turner friends this week after an absence of ten years. He is a law student at University of Oregon, in his sophomore year. With his parents, the William Gowers, he lived in Turner for a number of years where the elder Gower was business manager for the Thiessen Feed mills.

by JOHN CLINTON

Out here in the West we practically wallow in the midst of plenty of oil. You'd think that western gasoline rationing would be about as imminent as a coal shortage in Newcastle, war or no war.

But we folks out here do face possible gasoline shortage or rationing. Not because there's a lack of oil, but because there aren't enough tankers.

The government sends tankers to Britain, and those tankers are released or sold by Union Oil and other American oil companies. That, in turn, leaves us short over here.

Now it takes 8 railroad trains of 80 cars, each, to haul as much oil as goes in just 1 tanker. And out here on the coast a big share of our oil is moved by tankers.

So I asked the boss what Union Oil was doing about it. And, as seems to be the policy of Union—they're doing plenty. In the first place, they're securing every barrel, truck and tank car they can get their hands on.

But that's not all. As a matter of fact, 2 years ago when war broke out, Union suspended something of this sort might happen, and ordered 7 new tankers, without aid or urging by the government.

Well, 3 of these ships are already delivered and the rest due at 6-month intervals. Of course, they won't end a shortage of transportation, but boy how they'll help!

Thus Union is doing everything possible to minimize the effects of any transportation shortage—looking out for the interests of its customers as it has been doing in peace and war for over 50 years.
