The morning was taken up with committee and officers' reports and accounts of the quarter's work in subordinate granges.

Highlights of the county's plan for an agricultural defense program was given by Robert E. Reider, county agent.

At noon a luncheon was served by members of Surprise grange, after which one new candidate was given the obligation of Pomona grange by Past Master J. O. Farr.

A short program, presented by Mrs. J. C. Krenz included numbers by Sharon Wells, Macleay; talk on the USO, George Dudley Henderson; and introduction of Mrs. Foley and Mr. Bailey, Central grange in Clackamas county.
