

Subscription and Tillicum Club Are Hosts for Formal Dances

Late October is marked with two large dances with members of the Subscription and Tillicum clubs acting as hosts.

The Mirror room of the Marion hotel was the setting for the first formal dinner dance of the Subscription club Saturday night. The long tables were decorated with pumpkins, masks and other Halloween appointments. Autumn leaves and candles completed the decorations and in the door way was a large scarecrow.

Senator Ronald Jones is president of the club and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey, secretary-treasurer. The directorate for the affair included James B. Young, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. Ercel Kay, Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. Harold Olinger and Mrs. Bailey.

Special Guests
Adding color to the affair was a group of officers, who attended in uniform, and their wives. They are here during army air corps maneuvers. They included Lt. and Mrs. George W. White, Lt. and Mrs. Thomas W. Jackson, Lt. and Mrs. Francis J. Pope, Lt. and Mrs. Lester J. Lohse, Lt. and Mrs. Donald Houseal, Lt. and Mrs. C. E. Heitz, Captain and Mrs. H. Vodin, Lt. George H. Chipman and Lt. Charles Simpson.

Other guests at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Darby of Portland, who were with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huggins. Mr. and Mrs. Brazier Small entertained Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Macdonald of Portland and the Walter Kirks had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Elliott of Portland.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. H. G. Mason of Fort Lewis were with the Karl Beckes and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Spaulding came over from Dallas to be with Mr. and Mrs. Asel Eoff. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Campbell entertained as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Glenn of Corvallis.

Tillicum Club
Tillicum club members will hold their first autumn dance at the Veterans' hall Tuesday night. Guy Albin and his orchestra will play for dancing and Halloween decorations will prevail about the hall. Mr. William Schlitt, president, and Mr. Robert Sears, secretary-treasurer, are heading the committee in charge of the affair.

A large party to precede the dance will be held at the Marion hotel. Hosts are Mr. and Mrs. William Schlitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Von Eschen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. William Paulus.

A hundred couples have been invited to the affair. The buffet table will be decorated with Halloween and fall appointments.

The most recent volumes issued in the now famous American guide series, is "Washington." Our sister state to the north has undergone an exhaustive investigation into her history, resources and natural beauty, and the findings of the investigator, the Federal Writers Project, are here set down in word and picture in a most attractive and useful manner. Because Washington's history is tied up closely with Oregon's, and because we are good neighbors, we should know more about the Evergreen state. Incidentally, this book about Washington was published and printed by a Portland firm.

Another book which deals at least in part with the northwest has just been issued. It is "Murder Out Yonder," by Stewart H. Holbrook, and its subject matter is not history or description, but a study of certain crimes in a dozen different back country sections of the United States; two chapters tell of extraordinary murder cases in Oregon of bygone years, one of which is the story of Joshua II, of Oregon. The same insight into the past of American life is evident in this book as the author displayed in his account of northwest lumbering in "Holy Old Mackinaw."

Speaking of books on the northwest, there is Richard Montgomery's new book "Young Northwest," which has been written especially for the high school age group of readers, yet all readers seeking information of a reliable nature, written in an informal manner, will do well to read this history of our great northwest. The author is the manager of the J. K. Gill company in Portland, and is well known for his book reviewing on the radio, and his previous books about the northwest.

A new book that all readers of "Days of Our Years" by Pierre Van Paassen will want to read is "That Day Alone." Contemporary history, philosophic observations, and just good reporting, are the sum and substance of this author's work. He has been very near the center of much of today's war activity and his analysis of events and people is intelligent and clear.

Millers Will Celebrate Today

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Miller will be celebrated today when they are at home to friends from 2 to 5 o'clock at their residence, 497 Union street. Invitations are being extended through the press to the Miller's friends and neighbors to call this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were married at McDonald, Kansas, and resided in that state until the fall of 1906 when they moved to Salem. They have two sons, Dr. Carl E. Miller of Pasadena, Calif., and Dr. Albert R. Miller of McMinnville, and seven grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are members of the Friends (Quaker) church.

Mrs. Albert Miller is making arrangements for the reception. Three granddaughters, Abigail, Dorothy and Pauline Miller, will assist in the serving. Chrysanthemums and autumn leaves will be used to carry out the gold color scheme.

Miss Jeanne and Miss Janice Myers, attractive twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Burton Myers, entertained a small group of their friends at an informal party Saturday night at the Myers' home on North 24th street. Games and dancing were enjoyed with refreshments served at a late hour.

Astors Hosts To Class

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Astor entertained the Fidelis class of Jason Lee at their street home on Friday night. The group met for a covered dish dinner, business meeting and social hour. New officers acting for the first time were Mrs. Harvey Astor, president; Mrs. Fred Klaus, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Kitzmiller, secretary-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boyer, social.

Retiring officers were Mrs. A. L. Brewster, president; Mrs. Eugene Kitzmiller, vice president; Mrs. Robert Klemple, secretary-treasurer and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Jones, social.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Brinkley, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klaus, Mrs. Gail Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kitzmiller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klemple, Mrs. L. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boyer, Rev. S. Raynor Smith and Mr. and

Mrs. Harvey Astor, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stromberg of San Francisco. Guests were Mr. Harry Astor
