Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Collins are entertaining at a family dinner today at their Market street home in compliment to the birthday anniversary of Mr. Ira Jorgenson.

Tea Will Be Seen and Heard Event of Week

In compliment to Mrs. Arthur H. Denison the ladies of the First Presbyterian church have arranged a tea for Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors.

Mrs. Elmer V. Wooton entertained on Wednesday for a charming newcomer, Mrs. Carleton Spencer, who has come from Eugene. Mrs. Wooton in black with gold duvetyne jacket and Mrs. Spencer wearing a trophy gold crepe dinner dress received before the ivory fireplace and mantle above the bookcases on either side are attractive recessed windows where Mrs. Wooton has arranged colorful vases and knick-knacks.

Those who served and assisted were single gardenias in their hair or on their gowns, gifts of the hostess. A smart two-piece suit with a canyon green costume suit with beaver trim on the jacket and a matching hat with wide red band and brown feather. Mrs. Fred Stump in a pink coat with khaki green felt hat. Mrs. David Bennett Hill who had just arrived from Portland wore a chic tailleur of black chery with torso jacket and a bomber green sport felt hat with jaunty feather. We noticed Mrs. William H. Burghard wearing a black coat over her water blue suit fashioned with long jacket and pleated skirt. Her small hat was of black felt.

Choosing all black for their costumes were Mrs. Oliver Huston, Mrs. C. Kenneth Bell and Mrs. John Beakley. Bright blue feathers on Mrs. Wallace Bonesteel's clever black hat. Mrs. Louis Farnsworth wearing a brown crepe dress with three strands of pearls and a fur trimmed velvet coat. Mrs. Farnsworth is contemplating moving again. Her army husband will soon be transferred. They will keep their Salem home and be back in several years after his retirement.

The Willamette university campus YWCA entertained with the annual fashion tea on Wednesday at University house. There was a large crowd and Mrs. Carl S. Knopf enjoyed receiving with the girls. The coats looked grand in the college clothes they modeled as did the young faculty wives who wore new fall outfits.

Artists Will Exhibit

Pictures to be included in the All-Salem art exhibit being planned for National Art week, November 1 to 8, should be taken to the Salem art center by October 29. All art by Salem persons is welcomed, according to Mrs. S. B. Laughlin, chairman of the week.

Mrs. F. R. Hunter, state chairman of American Art week for the American Artists Professional league, will be the guests of Mrs. Laughlin, Miss Constance Fowler and Mrs. L. Shrode on Tuesday.

Miss West now Mrs. Bowers

Miss Virginia West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. West of Salem, became the bride of Mrs. Freeman Bowers last Saturday in Vancouver, Washington. The couple will make their home in Seattle where Mr. Bowers is employed at Boeing Aircraft. The bride attended Salem high school.

The Beta Chi mothers will gather at the chapter house on State street Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the first regular meeting of the season. Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, dean of freshmen, will be the speaker and will talk informally about his work as freshman adviser. Mrs. William Griffith will sing a group of vocal numbers. Mrs. Charles E. Siegmund, president, will preside at the business meeting. New mothers of Beta Chi pledges will be special guests. Hostesses are Mrs. Edna Nelson, Mrs. F. C. DeLong, Mrs. Louis Ashliman and Mrs. Siegmund.

Unusual and effective were the beautiful autumn decorations. Above the book cases were arrangements of leaves and altar candles shining against cut glass bowls and vases. Bouquets on the mantle and table of pink and red dahlias, zinnias and chrysanthemums. Pouring were Mrs. Carl Summer Knopf wearing a good-looking black silk crepe dress and small matching felt hat trimmed in a wide band of turquoise. Mrs. James T. Brand in a grey two-piece suit with royal blue hat.

Others we noted, Mrs. Paul B. Wallace in a smart canyon green tailleur fashioned with long jacket and a matching velvet hat enhanced with several jaunty feathers. Miss Mabel P. Robertson in black with red felt and carrying her "Bundles" bag. A clever black hat with feathers worn by Mrs. Lewis Griffith. Mrs. F. A. Elliott back in Salem after a summer's stay in Portland. Mrs. Ivan Rhodes in wine velvet and wine plumes on her hat.
