

Japs Give US Peace Program

Seven Points in Plan; Showdown In Pacific Seen

TOKYO, Wednesday, Nov. 5—(AP)—The foreign office-controlled Japan Times and Advertiser published a sweeping seven-point program today for the United States "to make effective on her own initiative" to ease the Pacific crisis in which other sections of the press bluntly said the time has come for a final showdown.

"This is not the time, when the Pacific is on the brink of war, for Japan to make known terms to the United States but rather for America specifically to say what terms of settlement that country intends to make toward undoing its acts of aggression," the newspaper said.

Boldly asserting that if the United States does not "take the right turn in the road she can face the alternatives," the newspaper put forward its program for the United States as follows:

"1. Stop all military and economic aid to Chungking by all foreign states and cease all propaganda or military missions to keep Chungking at war with Japan. America could advise Chungking to make its peace with Japan.

"2. Leave China completely free to deal with Japan and therefore end hostilities and establish economic cooperation.

"3. Stop encirclement of Japan by military, naval and air bases and by economic barriers. Proceed no further with military and naval movements in the western Pacific under the pretext of defense.

"4. Acknowledge Japan's co-prosperity sphere, her leadership in the western Pacific and, in doing so, leave Manchukuo, China, Indo-China, Thailand, The (Netherlands East) Indies and other states and protectorates to establish their own position." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Here's Latest Data on Secession Move

By GORDON G. McNABB
PORT ORFORD, Ore., Nov. 4—(AP)—Curry county has barked its shins aplenty on the border wall of California but it still thinks it can climb over.

It doesn't like Oregon any more and wants to play in California's back yard.

The county court said so, with a formal petition for annexation; its special secession committee said so to California's Gov. Culbert L. Olson; and its spokesman, Mayor Gilbert E. Gable of Port Orford, said so to the Portland chamber of commerce.

But Oregon's Gov. Charles A. Sprague was not caught napping.

Covering with humor a situation Curry residents think is serious, he dispatched a commission to the Grants Pass Caves, a publicity-devouring group of skin-clad aborigines, adjuring them to "cap-

Finn Warning Hit by Solons

Foes of Administration Policy Rant; Supporters Charge Issue Shifting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—(AP)—Foes of the Roosevelt foreign policy joined in a concerted attack upon the administration Tuesday for warning Finland to end its conflict with Russia. In reply, administration supporters charged them with endeavoring to divert attention from the real issue before the senate and the nation.

This, said Senator Lee (D-Okla.), was whether the United States is to help those, meaning Russia in this instance, "who stand as a barrier between the United States and war."

The day's debate on neutrality act revision also brought declarations from Senators Bilbo (D-Miss) and Lodge (R-Mass), who previously had supported much of the administration foreign policy, that they would oppose removing restrictions which keep American ships out of combat zones.

Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Clark (D-Iowa) and Clark (D-Mo) participated in the criticism of the warning to Finland, with Taft asking in tones of deepest sarcasm whether this country had received any assurances from Russia that the latter would not attack Finland and when it is victorious over Hitler.

"We will be deeply ashamed," said Taft, "for all time to come of our warning to Finland to cease a war which is essentially a defensive war."

Petition Asks Special Session On Camp Plans

West Salem Group Makes Request During Discussion of Possible Cantonment And Need for Planning and Zoning

WEST SALEM, Nov. 4—(Special)—Petition to Governor Charles A. Sprague to consider a special legislative session resulted here Tuesday night from a discussion of possible effects on the surrounding area of the proposed army cantonment south of Monmouth. The meeting, sponsored by the West Salem Parent-Teacher association in the school gymnasium, was attended by about 50.

Planning and zoning needs came foremost in the discussion, led by Prof. W. Dorr Legg, landscape architect and city planner from Oregon State college. The resolution adopted also placed emphasis on the subject, reading:

"Resolved, that the members of the West Salem PTA respectfully request Governor Sprague to consider the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature for the purpose of voting on enabling acts for county zoning and regional planning."

Warning that decision to build a cantonment brings thousands of transient workers literally overnight, Prof. Legg suggested problems which would confront West Salem—congested highways, growth of undesirable business which would destroy residential values increased school populations.

He said areas around new cantonments are being aided in planning and some steps have already been taken in this area by officials.

A committee comprising C. E. Brown, Tom Dalk, and Earl Burk was named to present the association's viewpoint and action to the city planning board.

Mrs. Merle Swearingen, president, conducted the business session.

Three Pilots Die in Crackups; Canadian Ship Is Missing

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C., Nov. 4—(AP)—Two army observation planes cracked up here Tuesday and killed two men and injured three.

Both crashes occurred at the Bennettsville auxiliary airport. The first army public relations headquarters at Camden said those killed were First Lieut. Joel White of California, and Second Lieut. Robert Womble of Philadelphia. Both men died instantly.

The other accident, which occurred several hours earlier, resulted in minor injuries for Second Lieut. Clifton C. Garrett of Haddonfield, N. J., and Second Lieut. Clifford R. Oliver of Wellesley Hills, Mass. Their plane nosed over while landing.

GLENDALE, Calif., Nov. 4—(AP)—A Lockheed P38 interceptor, one of the world's fastest military airplanes, lost its tail in midair Tuesday and crashed into a house, killing its pilot.

Jack Jensen, cafe owner, was asleep in the house at the time, but escaped unhurt. Fire which the plane started was extinguished after some damage.

The victim was Ralph Virdne, 43, veteran Lockheed-Vega test pilot. Regular pilot in recent tests of the craft, Marshall Headie, was off duty Tuesday because of illness.

The P38s are twin-fuselage, carry a single occupant and have been tested in excess of 400 miles an hour, Lockheed said.

Army investigators made no comment on the crash. One Lockheed (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Park Planned At Silverton

Indicating that a plan for a community center is in process of formulation in Silverton, Dr. P. A. Loar, George W. Hubbs and E. B. Burton of that city Tuesday met with the county court to discuss possibility of purchasing the old Fisher Flouring mills there.

Located on the banks of the creek, the 6.8 acres of property involved is said to be ideal for such a use, while two buildings of the group now standing might be utilized. At the recent tax sale, price on the property was set at $6500 without arousing a bid.

The committee indicated it had proposed the making of a deal purely as a primary gesture, suggested the money might be raised by contribution.

US Losses Set At 122 In Sea War

Tanker Crippled By Sub, Report; Night Attacks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—(AP)—The United States army and navy have lost 122 men in connection with the battle of the Atlantic, it was disclosed Tuesday, although there was no loss of life in the latest incident to be reported—the torpedoing of the USS Salinas, naval oil tanker.

The tanker, the navy announced, was torpedoed "without warning" last Wednesday night while she was traveling in a convoy southwest of Iceland. She was seriously damaged but reached an undisclosed port in safety.

Even as new details of the struggle accumulated into a story of submarine-surface ship fighting without precedent, the navy formally abandoned hope for those listed as missing in the torpedo sinking of the US destroyer Reuben James, west of Iceland.

That means that the death list in the Reuben James incident stood at 97 officers and men—one of the most costly losses in modern American naval history.

Other losses have included 11 killed in the torpedo attack on the destroyer Kearney, 11 navy men and an army officer lost in a patrol plane crash last Sunday, an army officer killed in a plane crash in Iceland last (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Two Religious Groups Plan Parleys Here

For the first time in its history, Salem will play host to the National Christian mission, the only one to be held in the state, S. Raynor Smith, president of the Salem Ministerial association, announced Tuesday.

During the same period, February 15 to 20, several hundred clergymen from all parts of Oregon will be here for the annual state pastors' conference.

Plans for the event were outlined Tuesday when Dr. Jesse M. Bader, New York, secretary of evangelism for the Federal Council of Churches of America, Dr. George A. Nace, Portland, and Dr. Frank E. Carlson, Portland, secretary of Congregational churches in the state, met with about 20 members of the local clergy. At noon Dr. Bader explained the plans to a group of 50 laymen.

Wins Handily

FIORIELLO LA GUARDIA

La Guardia Is Mayor Again

Wins Third Term by Smaller Margin in Heated NYC Vote

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—(AP)—Fiorello H. La Guardia did it again, but this time it was a tussle.

For the third successive time he administered a beating to Tammany hall, and the city's other democratic organizations, not by such impressive margins as the two previous elections, but still enough to defeat the democratic candidate, William O'Dwyer, the Irish immigrant boy who became Brooklyn district attorney and smashed the infamous Brooklyn murder ring.

Christopher D. Sullivan, leader of Tammy hall, conceded the election of Mayor La Guardia at 11:15 p. m. (EST).

At midnight O'Dwyer sent a telegram to the mayor expressing his sincere congratulations on La Guardia's victory, adding "best wishes for a most successful administration."

In a supplementary statement O'Dwyer said: "It was a battle from the very beginning in the true American spirit. I wholeheartedly accept the verdict of the people."

Thus La Guardia was chosen to head the nation's largest city for four more years.

For the first time La Guardia failed to carry all five of the (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Key Soviet Navy Base Near Fall

Sevastopol Hit By German Fire; Crimea Overrun

By The Associated Press
The multi-armed German offensive reaching out in the east toward the Caucasus and south for Sevastopol in the Crimea apparently still was pushing back the soviet lines generally late Tuesday night, and the loss of much of the best of the Russian south was a plainly growing probability.

In the Crimea, about which the Russians were silent Tuesday save for reports of minor and local successes, the German command claimed the capture of Feodosiya, a port and communications center 60 miles short of Kerch and connected by rail to that city—which is separated only by a two-mile-wide strait from the Caucasian mainland.

This victory was attributed to a nazi force striking eastward and roughly at right angles from the columns beating downward upon Sevastopol itself with the assignment of knocking out that key soviet naval base for the Black sea. Sevastopol was understood to be under German artillery fire.

Well to the north of all this action, a third German force, or rather a series of forces operating along and above the northern shores of the Sea of Azov, was smashing from several directions at the approaches to Rostov on the River Don, the western entrance to the Caucasus on the trunk railroad connecting that area with the rest of Russia.

The Russians themselves acknowledged that before Rostov German tank charges had driven a salient several miles deep into the soviet line, although saying that efforts to extend this salient had failed.

So far as the Crimea was concerned the immediate German concern appeared to be to reach (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Tatuta Sails for Japan With 855 Aboard

Here was weeping in Los Angeles "Little Tokio" recently as hundreds of Japanese who have lived there for years boarded buses for San Francisco where they sailed back to their homeland aboard the NYK liner Tatuta Maru, victim of the international crisis. Photo shows Los Angeles Japanese waving farewell to friends and relatives as the buses moved out. It was an emotional display by people not usually given to outward shows of emotion. The Tatuta pulled out after a two-hour delay while government agents made a final inspection of baggage and passengers, with 855 Japanese nationals aboard, bound for the land of the rising sun.—INN Photo.
