Providing Thrill Acts for Fairs Drives New York Agent "Crazy"

NEW YORK—George Hamid was shouting into the telephone. Half an hour later, having disposed of nearly a dozen calls, he was still shouting. "Two hundred a week?" he bellowed. "For that act? I can go down on Sixth avenue and pick up an act as good as that on the sidewalk for fifty a week. Listen, I want to do business with those people again next year, and I'm not going to send them an act like that for any two hundred a week. You get busy and find me a real one."

He crashed the phone down on its cradle, spun around in his enormous carved walnut chair and smiled with every one of his gleaming teeth. "Crazy" he said. "That's what it's driving me crazy! More celebrations and fairs than ever before in history—people crazy for thrill acts, and I can't get 'em!"

"Why, do you know that business has gone up 150 per cent in some amusement parks? Do you know that I had to book 45 county fairs and firemen's celebrations in Pennsylvania alone? Some places I never even heard of. Mt. Lebanon, ever hear of it? I was born in Lebanon—in Syria—but I never heard of Mt. Lebanon, Pa. The troupe has been phoning in here all day trying to find out where it is, but I've got a show in Jersey to worry about."

Business is indeed booming for muscular, jutting-pawed Hamid, former "understander" on a tumbling team and one-time Buffalo Bill wild west rider. He's the biggest booker of outdoor acts in the world. Even in an ordinary year he supplies more than 300 fairs, 200 local celebrations and 35 amusement parks with entertainment.

"Twenty years ago," he continued, after handling another half-dozen phone calls in rapid succession, "the average county fair show would run 40 per cent animal acts, 20 per cent acrobats, tightrope walkers and so on, and the rest jugglers, musical act and novelties. Now a show is 60 per cent thrill acts—high poles, trapezes and stuff like that. And you can't get enough of them."

"People demand more excitement nowadays, what with fast automobiles and a general speeding-up of life and, of course, the war."

"And the outstanding death-defying acts have always come from abroad. For some reason, few American performers have ever originated an act of this type. Now it is impossible to import new acts to fill the growing demand."

"The draft has cut in, too. Four out of five members of the Demanoff's Arabs a circus-batic troupe were drafted, for instance. Naturally young men who can stand up to this kind of work are perfect soldier material."

"Another reason that acts have become more and more thrilling is that the equipment has improved. New alloy steels have given us poles that are safe three times as high as in the old days. The only trouble is that the performers haven't kept up with the equipment."

"One unfortunate result of this boom for the performers has been

They Find Out Gas Mileage in 1942 Dodge Trip

In this 1942 Dodge, W. J. Braun (center) of the Salem insurance agency that bears his name and Harold E. Davis (right), Dodge salesman, made the round trip from Salem to Eugene as part of a recent nationwide economy demonstration. They traveled the 141 miles at an average speed of 42.41 miles per hour, making 24.22 miles per gallon. At the left in the picture is J. K. Hubbard, owner and manager of Hubbard Motor company of Salem, who declared himself well-pleased with the low cost operation of the new car's 105-hp. engine.

Farmers Union News

PEDEE — Farmers union will be held at the Pedee school house tonight. ROSEDALE — Red Hills Farmers Union celebrated their annual homecoming November 6 with a good crowd in attendance. Festivities started at 6:45 with a no-host supper under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. L. Hamilton and Claude Darby.

A special program was presented with Stanley Church, traffic safety director from the secretary of state's office, as guest speaker. He tied his talk in with the announced theme of the evening, "Democracy and Defense." Church illustrated his talk with two films. He also presented a reel of Oregon scenery shown through the courtesy of the state highway department.

Mrs. S. H. Butler spoke briefly of the work of the Red Cross, offering some articles recently made for display. S. H. Turnbull told of the recent exercises in aircraft warning services. An announcement was made that first aid and home nursing classes are open to enrollment. Those interested should contact Mrs. Guy Williams.

Junior activities again took the spotlight with a number of Rose-dale junior alumni participating in the program. Tribute was paid to the past junior president, Virgil Trick, who is now serving in the air corps. Barbara Bates, delegate to the state junior camp, opened a group discussion about the value of junior education in the Farmers Union with her report of camp activities. Serving on the program committee were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Trick and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Turnbull.

MARION — At the Farmer's union meeting Friday, State President Harley Libby announced there will be a meeting at Jefferson Tuesday to discuss building a flax plant at Jefferson.

Dr. Van Winkle, Jefferson, representing the Marion county defense council, explained the council's work and urged the people of this district to do their part in home defense.

Fred C. Klans, Salem division manager of the dairy cooperative association, showed colored moving pictures. Mrs. Jim Wilson, president of the Women's auxiliary, reported that the Marion women were the first to turn in completed garments to the Red Cross headquarters at Salem.

For Saturday night the men of the local announced a chicken-noodle supper to be cooked and

Side-Line Painters Are Doing Right Well

NEW YORK (AP)— Spare-time talent is getting its own reward: The New York Museum of Modern Art bases its claim to the "finest and most representative museum collection of modern primitives in the world" on the acquisition of ten new paintings by men whose occupations are: Brooklyn cloak-and-suit man (2 paintings); circus strong man, Detroit milkman, a fisherman, a gardener, house painter from Bennington, Vt., house painter from Wheeling, W. Va., a printer, and a sportsman.

Shopping Tip Given

NEW YORK (AP)— The best time to buy your "vittles" on Friday is between 7 and 8 a. m., but if you insist on some sleep, the next best time is from noon to three o'clock, a survey by retail store representatives shows. Busiest time is from three to six, with the peak — 15.1 per cent of all the day's customers — between five and six.
