Here Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Greenway, above will give a Thanksgiving concert at the Court Street Christian church, starting at 7:30 p. m.

Sacred Concert Presented by Couple

A Thanksgiving concert of sacred music will be given Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Court Street Christian church by Reginald Greenway, former concert violinist and professor for 16 years.

He and Mrs. Greenway, accompanist and a skilled harpist, present a program based on classical transcriptions of spiritual songs and hymns.

They have recently completed a 9000-mile tour of the United States and Canada. During the service they will play an unusual type of instrument known as the theremin. This instrument is unique in that the professor never touches it while playing. The tone quality is much like the viola or cello and is produced by manipulation of the hands.

Permit Granted For Apartments

Permit to alter a two-story residence at 490 South Commercial street into an apartment building at a cost of $7755 was granted Dr. David B. Hill, 2195 South Church street, Tuesday by the city engineer.

First Oregon War Objectors Sent to Cascade Locks Camp

First Oregon conscientious objectors to be sent to the recently established civilian public service camp No. 1, Cascade Locks, are scheduled to arrive there December 5, Lieutenant-Colonel Elmer V. Wootton, state selective service director, announced Tuesday. There are six registrants in the group.

All conscientious objectors to combatant and non-combatant military service previously have been sent from Oregon to the San Dimas public service camp at Glendora, Calif. Operations there consist mostly of building forest trails and conservation projects.

The six Oregonians assigned to Cascade Locks are John Henry Dasenbrook, Malheur county board; Arthur John Franz and Gilbert Seton Heald, Marion county board No. 1; Lester Earl Gahler, Clackamas county board No. 1; Robert Wayne Northey and Ralph Edgar Rogers, Lane county board No. 2.

Also scheduled to report at Cascade Locks is Clarence King Hartzler, Los Angeles registrant who has been transferred to Portland for delivery.

The nature of the work to be undertaken at the Cascade Locks camp has not yet been announced here, officials said.
