

Mt. Angel Collegians, Prep Seniors Take Anti-War Stand Answering Yale Press Query

MT. ANGEL—Answering the questions sent out by the Yale Union Press in its national survey of college paper opinions, Mt. Angel college men and seniors of the Prep school took a definite anti-war stand.

Fifty per cent of the students questioned voted a solid ballot against American entry into the present conflict.

The opinion of 73 per cent of the boys was against sending an American expeditionary force even if Americans became involved. Less than a third thought the expeditionary idea a good one.

On the revision of the neutrality law 92 per cent of all those polled voted that the revision would lead us into war, 78 per cent were opposed to the revision, and one third of those in favor of it thought it would involve us.

Only one student who favored American entry felt that American ships in war zones would have little influence in getting us into the war. Another student maintained that the nation is already at war and favored sending of an American expeditionary force.

Repair Machinery, Equipment, Sec. Wickard Warns Farmers

Polk county farmers are being urged in a message from the secretary of agriculture, Claude R. Wickard, to repair farm machinery and equipment at once as a precaution against breakdowns and delay in getting the needed parts next year. Production of new farm machinery will be sharply reduced in 1942 because of the increasing need for steel and other metals in making defense materials.

Termining 1943 a critical year for farmers, Secretary Wickard warns that the record farm production sought for next year must be accomplished in some areas with a limited supply of labor. With only a limited amount of steel available for the production of new farm machinery, he advises, "You can help your country and yourself by repairing old machinery now rather than attempting to get new machinery next year."

Mr. R. D. Pence, chairman of the county USDA defense board, suggests that farmers check over old machinery for worn parts and order the necessary replacements at once from dealers. He also urges farmers to report any parts shortages to the county USDA defense board.

Phone Service Aid Scheduled

New Switchboard Will Replace Two-Position Affairs Now in Use

WOODBURN—The Woodburn telephone office is being improved by the installation of a three-position switchboard, replacing the old two-position switchboard now in use, according to H. V. Collins, district manager for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The change is being made because of the growth of the Woodburn exchange, which now serves 321 telephones, including 67 rural line telephones.

The office quarters also are to be redecorated with new linoleum, ceilings and newly kalsomined walls. The present furniture to be replaced.

The total cost of the new local project will be around $10,000.

The Woodburn arch store is slowly moving from its old position at the corner of Pacific highway and Young street, to make room for a service station. The building, which is owned by C. D. Smith, houses a confectionery and light lunch service and the bus depot. It is being moved about 125 feet north which will make the new location next to the Grilley garage on the highway.

Smith built the structure in 1923 and has operated continuously ever since. The store got its name from the famous Woodburn arch that once crossed the highway at that point.

A major oil company has purchased the property and will start building soon.
