

Miss Lamb Reveals Plans

Miss Barbara Lamb is a busy bride-elect in the few days prior to her marriage to Sergeant Richard Jones on Friday night. The wedding day was announced a week ago and this week is filled with bridal showers and shopping engagements.

The couple will be married at the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority house at an 8 o'clock ceremony with Dr. R. Franklin Thompson officiating. Miss Gail Ferguson will sing "O Promise Me" and Mrs. W. H. East will play.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lamb, will be given in marriage by her father. Her sister, Miss Patricia Lamb, will be the maid of honor and the bridesmaids are Miss Phyllis Cary of Portland and Miss Maxine Goodenough.

Mr. Robert Jones of McMinnville will be his brother's best man and the ushers will be the bride-to-be's two brothers, Mr. Wilmer and Mr. John Lamb.

Mrs. Robert Jones, jr., and Miss Helen Kestly will light the candles and forming the bridal aisle will be six close friends of the bride-elect. They include Miss Gayle Dennison, Miss Ann Morris, Miss Madeline Morgan, Miss Dorothy Tate, Miss Olivia Olson and Mrs. Bruce W. Carlin.

There will be a reception for the wedding guests after the ceremony. Sergeant Jones and his bride will go south on their wedding trip and will reside in San Diego while he is stationed at Fort Rosecrans.

Parties Arranged
Miss Gail Ferguson and her sister, Mrs. Richard L. Russell, will be hostesses for a buffet supper Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the latter's home for the pleasure of Miss Lamb.

A linen shower will honor the bride-elect and a pink and white color scheme will be carried out in the floral decorations. The evening hours will be spent informally and eight friends of the bride-to-be have been invited to the party.

For Monday night Miss Rose Ann Gibson, Miss Helen Kestly and Miss Maxine Goodenough have arranged a bridal party in compliment to Miss Lamb. The affair will be held at the Duane Gibson home on the Wallace road.

A miscellaneous shower will be given for the bride-elect and the evening hours will be spent informally. White and silver will be used in the decorations and table appointments. A late supper will be served by the hostesses.

Bidden to honor Miss Lamb are Mrs. J. M. Lamb, Miss Patricia Lamb, Mrs. Walter Kestly, Mrs. Byran Goodenough, Mrs. Duane Gibson, Mrs. Richard Russell, Mrs. Bruce Carlin, Mrs. Calvin Groves, Mrs. Donald Collins, Mrs. Dean Jewell, Mrs. Donald Dawson, Mrs. Henry Stafford, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Miss Gail Ferguson, Miss Gayle Dennison, Miss Pauline Bizon, Miss Jeannette Brown, Miss Carolyn Brown, Miss Mabelle Lilburn, Miss Joy Cooley and Miss Hilda Crawford.

Mrs. W. J. Liljequist will be hostess on Wednesday night for Miss Lamb at her Chemeketa street home. A kitchen shower will honor the bride-to-be and a late supper will be served by the hostess.

TO MARRY—Miss Barbara Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lamb, who will become the bride of Sergeant Richard Jones of San Diego, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Jones of McMinnville, on Friday night. The ceremony will take place at the bride-elect's sorority house, Alpha Phi Alpha. The couple will reside in San Diego where Sergeant Jones is stationed at Fort Rosecrans. (Jesten-Miller).

Orchestra to Give Concert

The Salem Philharmonic orchestra will hold its first concert of the year at the Salem high school auditorium in December 16 at 8:30 o'clock. Edouard Hurlimann will again direct the Salem musicians in a program of varied interest.

Miss Sally Reed, former Salem girl, now a teacher of music, will appear as guest soloist and will play the Tchaikovsky concerto No. 1 B flat minor with the orchestra.

This is the orchestra's fourth year under the direction of Mr. Hurlimann. "Tales From Vienna Woods" by Johann Strauss bids fair to be one of the most popular numbers on the program. The orchestra also includes "Silhouettes," a number by an American composer, Henry Hadley.

Choir Scheduled For Program

The next concert to be sponsored by the Crescendo club of Salem high school in the winter series is the Linfield college choir, under the direction of Virginia Ward Elliott. The concert will be given on the afternoon of Sunday, December 14, at 3:30 o'clock.

The program, as in previous years, will be made up of Christmas music sung by a chorus of 50 perfectly blended voices. Adding to the beauty of the program is the setting of candlelight. The members enter from the back of the auditorium in robes of maroon and gray, carrying lighted candles.

Singing under the direction of Mrs. Elliott, the choir is broken into as many as 10 parts, blending of tone is finely worked out. Tickets for the concert will be available at the door.

The next concert in the series is Francis Aranyi, violinist of Seattle, who will appear here on January 15.

Local Singers Perform on Thursday

Members of the Salem MacDowell club are making plans for the first concert of this season to be presented by local musicians at the high school auditorium Thursday under the baton of Bernard Barron.

Miss Gail Ferguson will be the guest artist for the concert. Miss Ferguson, a contralto, has been heard a number of times, both as a soloist and as a member of the MacDowell sextette of which she is a member. She came to Salem from the mid-west.

Mr. Barron has arranged an impressive program, to open with Schubert's "To Music," sung by the MacDowell club chorus and William Bush, baritone. Mr. Bush is a graduate of the Salem schools and has been active in music circles in this vicinity, being a member of the Salem Philharmonic orchestra in the past, and soloist for Portland and Salem churches. He studied with Marjorie Walker of Salem and Nicola Zan of Portland. Other composers whose works are to be sung include Mozart, G. A. Grant-Schaeffer, Abt, and arrangements by Deems Taylor of an old Belgian folk song and a negro spiritual.

The sextette of the MacDowell club will be heard in several songs between choral groups. The young women comprising the sextette have appeared numerous times this fall and winter on service club and lodge programs and this afternoon will take part in the Elks' memorial service at 3 o'clock. Personnel of the sextette includes the Misses June Lockwood, Margaret Thompson, Marian Bretz, Lois Steinke, Gretchen Rinehart and Gail Ferguson.

Membership of the MacDowell chorus this year also includes Bertha Kroner, Agnes Drummond, Alice Schlieder, Margaret Jorgensen, Monica Rodakowski, Ruth Peck, Annetta Schweizer, Martha J. Pinson, Doris Zahrodnik, Helen Tharalson, Margie Rumer, Doris Kruger, Louise Purney, Mildred Campbell, Harriet Bush, Grace Sherman, Irma Wells, Benetta Harland, Harriett Smart, Elsie Bell, Constance Weinman, Helen Aspinwall, Beatrice Schaefer, Marguerite Shelley, Esther Hagedorn, Edna McKay, Blanche Gibson, Loretta Matthis, Alice Rickson and Mildred Newman.

Jean Hobson Rich is the accompanist.

Art Center NOTES

The conifer show, first of the series of seasonal and decorative exhibits scheduled for December, will close Monday night at the Art Center. It will be succeeded by the Christmas decorations show and silver tea to be given Wednesday and Thursday at the center by the Salem Garden club. The following week the Art Center and Garden club will present the annual holiday show featuring Christmas pictures and exhibits related to the season.

The conifer show has drawn many school tours and adult visitors to view the correlated displays of native tree photographs, botanical drawings, specimens of small conifers and corresponding cones. The varieties of potted trees include pine, fir, spruce, hemlock and cedar. They were collected by Oliver Matthews, who also took the photographs of Oregon conifers. The drawings, done by Marian Field, show details of the branches, buds and cones of the trees. The representative cone collection was assembled by Mrs. Daisy Overlander of Waldport.

Detailed plans for the two day program of the Garden Club Christmas Show will be outlined over KSLM Tuesday afternoon on the Art Center program by a group of committee members. The program is in charge of Miss Edith Schryver, president of the Salem Garden club, and will begin at 2:15.

Exciting and varied activity marks the Thursday night classes at the Center. In the metal class the sound of rhythmic hammering is steadily heard as flat squares of copper and pewter are bent and shaped into trays, candleholders, bracelets and like Christmas gifts. Across the hall the potters are giving last pats and strokes to vases, dishes, decorative figures and pieces of ceramic sculpture which will go into the kiln as colorless clay shapes and will come out later beautifully colored pieces of finely formed pottery. The weavers are feverishly finishing sets of luncheon cloths, towels and mats to put on family Christmas trees.

The print-making class has an accession of new students from the Junior Woman's club engaged in making decorative designs for holiday social affairs. Rumor has it that even the routine painting classes threaten to break step and decorate and wrap Christmas packages according to art fundamentals.

GERVAIS — The Community Card club party to be held at the high school auditorium Tuesday night will be a benefit for the Christmas tree fund. Members are asked to bring guests. Supper at 7 o'clock will be followed by cards.

Girl Reserve's Corner

Special activity of the Girl Reserve clubs last week has been in making block prints for Christmas cards, preparing for the annual "hanging of the greens" ceremony on December 15th and the visit of eight members of the Parrish 8th grade Girl Reserve club present on Monday at the YWCA, and during the meeting Pat Underwood and Pat Powell were named to plan the "hanging of the greens" program.

Leslie 7th grade Girl Reserves met on Tuesday afternoon with their advisor, Miss Rosalie Hoover. Chosen to work off the "hanging of the greens" program were Deloris Buechler and Jean Snook. A committee composed of Doris Diarmitt, Dianne Riggs and Rose Sheffer was appointed to work out plans for a Christmas party for a group of younger children. Invitations were made at the meeting.

On Wednesday members of the Leslie 9th grade club met at the YWCA. The time was spent in working on their block-prints for Christmas and playing games. The group will ask members of the Parrish 9th grade Girl Reserve club to join them in caroling on December 22. Appointed to work on the plans for the "hanging of the greens" were Connie Cocking and Betty Zo Allen.

Representatives of the Girl Reserve clubs and of the Business College Girls club and of the Business and Industrial Girls club met on Friday afternoon to arrange plans for the "hanging of the greens" ceremony which will be an informal get-together of all groups affiliated with the YWCA, to decorate the building with Christmas greenery and to enjoy a specially planned program and informal singing.

The Delta Phi alumnae will be entertained at the home of Miss Doris Unruh, 885 D street, Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Miss Unruh will show movies of the recent trip she took to the Hawaiian Islands.

A pre-holiday affair planned for Wednesday afternoon for which Mrs. Leban A. Steeves and Mrs. Charles D. Wood will be hostesses at the former's home on State street. Calling hours are from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Marian Scott of Berkeley, Calif., returned to her home Saturday night after a week's visit in the capital with Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hague, jr., at their Kingwood Heights home.

Family Bookshelf

By the Library Staff

A valuable contribution to the increasing collection of patriotic literature has just been issued; it is "I am An American," and it is made up of the testimonials or credos of twenty six famous naturalized Americans. Some of the world's most talented men and women have made the United States their haven of freedom and security during the past few years, and their warmhearted and sincere declarations of faith and optimism in our way of living are reassuring and gratifying to read about in these times. Some of the people who have contributed chapters to this book are: Luise Rainer, Giuseppe Bellanca, William Knudsen, Louis Adamic, Thomas Mann, Tony Sarg and Senator Robert F. Wagner. That these names have long been associated with characteristically American life and literature is an indication of the degree to which these people have been Americanized.

Leslie PTA will meet for supper in the school lunch room on Monday at 6:30 o'clock. The group will be served a sample menu like the children's noon lunch. The regular meeting will follow supper at 7:30. Mrs. Mabel Mack, extension nutritionist, Oregon State college, will be guest speaker on "Importance of the School Lunch in National Defense."
