

Stream Pollution Discussed by Silverton's Izaak Walton Unit

SILVERTON—Stream pollution from the Silverton Canning company's waste and pollution expected from the flax plant now under construction at Silverton were discussed at the Monday night meeting of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton League.

W. Clark Bachman, president of the chapter, reported that sanitary authorities had already ruled that the waste from the flax plant would have to be treated or stored before it was released, and Dr. P. A. Loar, state director of the Izaak Walton League as well as local director, reported that he had been informed that the Silverton Canning company would have to install a settling basin and treat its waste before dumping it into the sewer.

Tom Hewitt, of the Veterans' camp, and Harry Buckley, of the recreational area above here, spoke concerning the assistance which league members can give the forest service in fire prevention. Waltonians are being asked to report any suspicious character seen in the forests and to report any auxiliary fires.

H. B. Latham, secretary-treasurer, reported that the league had $170 in its coffers. The league voted to use a portion of the funds in cleaning up the chapter park near Silverton and in repairing the fish pond and dam.

Included in the report of 1941 league activities, Bachman named the three fish plantings which had been accomplished under the direction of the league with the assistance of the CCC and the recreational area. The fish were furnished by the state game commission.

The group voted to invite membership from Mt. Angel, Marquam and Scotts Mills and elected Edwin Overlund and Albert Morris to superintend this.

Officers were reelected to include president, W. Clark Bach-

And He Still Hasn't Had Enough

Marcel Lenthreu and Lieut. Commander E. D. Leete. He was blasted in a submarine to the bottom of the Straits of Dover. He was bombed from a destroyer. Rescued, he was then blown from the rescue ship, wounded by shrapnel and machine gun bullets. And yet Marcel Lenthreu, left, wants more action! He wanted to join the Navy, and applied in New York, above, but he was rejected because he is not a citizen. Marcel now is applying for citizenship.
