With Salem Folk at OSC

After a hard week of mid-terms, the Salem students had many different ways of relaxing over the weekend. Arline Sholseth went to the boxing matches Friday night when the California Aggies competed with Oregon State. She was able to discuss the fights with some of Oregon State's rivals to whom she was introduced by their coach, a good friend of her roommate.

Peggy Reinholdt, Doris Harrington, Dorothy Pyatt, Jeanne Donaldson, and Alvin Flake chose to relax at the Lemon-Orange Squeeze Saturday night after the victory over University of Oregon. This dance is an annual affair held after the U of O-OSC basketball game, and a special feature at intermission was given by initiates of the Varsity O. It was a unique style show of bathing suits from 1890 to 1945, modeled by football players.

Going home for the weekend were Elizabeth Anne Herrick, Frances Anne Mott, Dorothy Kaster and Victor Gibson. Visiting in Corvallis Sunday was Victor Collins.

Pat Higgins, Bill Bows and Bill Page were at the Suski club moving pictures last week. The movies, which were in technicolor of Timberline lodge, have been shown throughout the east to publicize Oregon. Bill Bows again skied away with honors at a ski meet at Hoodoo Bowl Sunday. He took first in the A division in the downhill run and placed high in several other events.

Two journalists are Arline Sholseth and Bill Fillmore. Arline is a reporter for the Dormitory news, a special for the dormitories and the cooperative houses. Bill was one of the editors for the special edition of the Barometer, Wednesday, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, the national journalism honorary.

Eileen Holden received an invitation in report card form to the Smarty Party to be held Thursday. Mortar Board, a women's national honor society sponsoring the party, sent invitations to only those girls with a scholastic average of 2.75 or above, scholastically eligible for membership. Because there are usually only twelve members on the campus, Mortar Board is considered the highest honor any Oregon State coed can win. Gordon Hofstetter helped boost the Delta Tau Deltas in the intramural wrestling meets when he won his match. Barbara Ann Ricketts has been busy doing radio work in addition to studying. She has been giving the Children's Story Hour on KOAC five times a week.

Dave Van Cleave has been helping formulate plans for the annual Roswood winter term dance. Also, Betty Mann, formerly of Salem, and Jean Read have been working hard on decorations and programs for the annual co-hop, semi-formal dance given by the eight women's and four men's cooperative houses. The theme of this dance, to be held Saturday night, is "Co-Heart," which will be ruled by a king and queen of hearts to be elected by and from the co-op members.

This is a Newspaper
 It contains advertisements. Advertisements are vehicles that carry messages. THESE MESSAGES SELL THINGS. They can sell PRODUCTS—like pants. They can sell SERVICES—like pants pressing. They can sell IDEAS—like styles.

Newspaper ads can sell products because they can show them with pictures, explain their merits and quote their prices with words, and tell the members of the local community where the products can be bought.

Newspaper ads can sell services by showing what they are, who renders them, where they can be obtained and how much they cost.

When it comes to selling ideas, newspaper advertisements have unlimited uses. By economical repetition—
 ... they have taught people to brush their teeth.
 ... they have inspired people to support many charities.
 ... they have made a laughing stock of the idea, "The automobile will never replace the horse."

THERE HAS NEVER BEEN A BETTER WAY INVENTED TO MAKE IDEAS STICK THAN THE POWER OF THE PRINTED WORD.

When business is better in this town everybody benefits. When everybody in the town knows what's going on all over the world, each man can tell better how to vote, what to buy and how to protect himself.

Read these ads each week. Tell your friends to read them. They tell you what an important part your newspaper has in helping you to know what's going on, so you can decide what you personally are going to do about it all.

The publisher of this paper wants to serve the community the best he possibly can. If you have any suggestions or questions or criticisms, don't hesitate to write him a letter. It will receive personal attention.
